

GEN. CARRANZA TO BE PRESIDENT OF MEXICO

Francisco Carbajal Advises the United States That He is Ready to Resign — No More Fighting, Says Carranza

WASHINGTON, July 17.—Francisco Carbajal, successor to General Huerta as provisional president of Mexico, yesterday advised the United States government informally that he intended to retire in favor of General Carranza, the constitutionalist chief. Mr. Carbajal wishes only that a general amnesty be proclaimed and protection given to the property of those who opposed the constitutionalists.

This statement of the attitude of Huerta's successor, together with the announcement from Saltillo that Carranza was willing to enter into negotiations with Carbajal relative to the transfer of authority at Mexico City, was regarded here last night as virtually assuring a cessation of hostilities and the restoration of peace in Mexico.

The views of Mr. Carbajal were explained in detail to Secretary Bryan yesterday by Jose Castellon, former member of the Mexican senate, who called at the state department with a personal telegram, which he had received through the Mexican embassy. It was the first communication between the American government and the Carbajal administration.

The message incidentally revealed that General Huerta and Blanquet, now en route to Puerto Mexico, are planning to go to Europe.

NO MORE BLOODSHED

SAYS GEN. CARRANZA

MONTEREY, Mexico, July 17.—Fighting by constitutionalists is over in Mexico, if plans announced here yesterday by Venustiano Carranza go into effect.

General Carranza declared his main object now would be to conduct negotiations for the constitutionalists to enter Mexico City and establish their government without further bloodshed or danger to property.

FEDERALS ANNIHILATED THE

CONSTITUTIONALIST GARRISON

EL PASO, July 17.—Federal filibusters under General Roques yesterday afternoon evacuated Palomas captured Wednesday after almost annihilating the constitutionalist garrison. Seven members of the garrison barricaded themselves in a house on the edge of the village and held their position against the federal fire, until the invaders evacuated.

SLASHED WITH CLEAVER

Militant Suffragette Attacked the Portrait of Thomas Carlyle in National Gallery at London

LONDON, July 17.—A militant suffragette today slashed with a butcher's cleaver the portrait of Thomas Carlyle, painted by Sir John Millais and hanging in the national portrait gallery. The woman was arrested after a severe struggle with the attendants and at the police station gave her name as Anne Hunt. The attendants of the gallery, who since the occurrence of the recent militant suffragette outrages in national institutions have been keeping close guard on the treasures under their care, noticed a young woman walking from picture to picture, apparently admiring the work of various artists. Coming to the portrait of Carlyle she took a butcher's cleaver from the folds of her dress and viciously attacked the painting.

The woman had succeeded in striking the picture several blows before the nearest attendant could reach her. The glass covering the painting was smashed and a slit was made in the picture from the top of Carlyle's head right through the face to the chin.

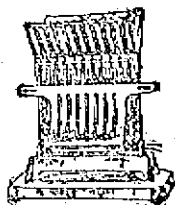

The attendants had the greatest difficulty in preventing Miss Hunt from doing further damage. She struggled desperately but eventually was secured and handed over to the police. She was bleeding profusely from cuts on her hands, caused by the breaking of glass.

UNITED STATES ARMY SOON TO MAKE REPORT

In Connection With Development of the Merrimack River—Congressman Rogers Gets Information From the Engineer in Charge of Work—Bill to Build Bridge Over Merrimack River at Lawrence

The proposition to develop the Merrimack river from Lowell to the sea is fast reaching a very important point and according to communications received by Congressman John Jacob Rogers, the United States army will probably make its recommendations within six or eight weeks.

Mr. Rogers made recent inquiry of engineers as to the present status of the survey of the Merrimack river, and he is in receipt of a letter from Gen. Dan C. Kingman, chief of engineers, of the United States army. Gen. Kingman referred Congressman Rogers' inquiry to Col. Craigbill, the district engineer in charge of the work, and Col. Craigbill replied as follows:

"The field work remaining to be done is about one week's time of sounding party; completion of gauge readings, which will be about July 25; completion of borings, which will be about Aug. 15; completion of computations, map work, and report on the survey, which will take until about Aug. 31."

Merrimack River Bridge

The proposition to build a bridge across the Merrimack river at Lawrence is receiving the attention of the house of representatives and Congressman Rogers is very much interested in a bill introduced this week by Congressman Phelan. The bill became necessary in view of the interstate character of the Merrimack river. Mr. Rogers is cooperating with Mr. Phelan in every way to secure prompt action on this bill so that there will be no unnecessary delay in securing its passage. In a communication to The Sun, relative to the bill, Mr. Rogers says:

ter a telephone communication with the Supreme Court Justice Van Sicklen at Jamaica it was learned that he could not reach Mineola to receive the jury's findings yesterday, so the formal presentment will not be made until this afternoon. Mrs. Carman will be arraigned immediately afterward and

COM. MORSE'S CHARGES AGAINST SUPT. PUTNAM

Hearing on Order of Removal Resumed Today — Purchasing Agent for Merrimack Manufacturing Co., First Witness

The hearing of Newell F. Putnam, superintendent of streets, on charges for his removal from office brought by Charles J. Morse, commissioner of streets and highways, was resumed in the aldermanic chamber at city hall this forenoon. The hearing was begun on Wednesday of this week and was continued to today though Mayor Murphy in the beginning, believed it could be disposed of in one session.

Mr. Putnam was examined by counsel on both sides on Wednesday and other witnesses were heard, including Hon. John F. Meehan, former mayor. Mr. Putnam, however, was the principal witness, and it was generally conceded that his examination did not prove much against him, so far, at least, as the sale of old paving blocks was concerned, it being brought out that the sale was effected with the approval of the then mayor, Hon. John F. Meehan; Peter A. Mackenzie, then purchasing agent, and William W. Duncan, then city solicitor.

In his recommendations for the removal of Mr. Putnam, Commissioner Morse claimed that he knowingly and without right sold 35,625 paving blocks to the Boston & Northern street railway company and caused the payment therefor to be diverted from the general treasury to the credit of the appropriation of the street department. Included in his reasons for the removal of Mr. Putnam, Mr. Morse states that he has not the necessary confidence in and reliance upon the judgment and ability of Mr. Putnam and that he should be removed for the good of the public service.

There was a big crowd of spectators on hand when Mayor Murphy declared the hearing open at 10:35 o'clock. The first witness called was Bertrand Currier, purchasing agent for the Merrimack Manufacturing Co. (See Next Edition)

"We hope to have it brought up in the house next Monday, which, being unanimous consent day, gives an opportunity for the passage of much uncontested legislation. I may add that the committee on interstate and foreign commerce has only this morning favorably reported the bill."

City Solicitor Daniel J. Murphy of importance of having a draw placed in the bridge, so that future navigation may not be interfered with. The pending bill is designed fully to safeguard the interests of the commonwealth in this regard. I have also brought to the attention of Congressmen Reed and Stevens, two state representatives of the state of New Hampshire, the importance to their state of having the bridge properly equipped with a draw."

Copy of Bridge Bill
The following is a copy of the bill introduced by Mr. Phelan asking consent of congress for the city of Lawrence, county of Essex, state of Massachusetts, to construct a bridge across the Merrimack river:

Be it enacted by the senate and house of representatives of the United States of America in congress assembled, That the consent of congress is hereby granted for the city of Lawrence, county of Essex, state of Massachusetts, and its successors, and assigns, to construct, maintain and operate a bridge and approaches thereto across the Merrimack river, at a point suitable to the interests of navigation, at or near the foot of Amesbury street, in the city of Lawrence, in the county of Essex, in the state of Massachusetts, in accordance with the provisions of the act entitled "An act to regulate the construction of bridges over navigable waters," approved March 23, 1906.

Sec. 2. That the right to alter, amend or repeal this act is hereby expressly reserved.

FUNERAL NOTICES

TOLIN—The funeral of Mrs. Annie Tolin will take place Saturday morning at 9 o'clock from her late home, 56 Lilley ave. Funeral high mass at St. Michael's church at quarter of 10. Burial will be in St. Patrick's cemetery. Funeral in charge of Undertaker Charles H. Bailey.

DR. CARMAN PLANS TO USE "CONFESSION" LETTER AS AID TO DEFENSE OF HIS WIFE IN MURDER CASE

A letter was received from Rochester, N. Y., in the Freeport (N. Y.) murder mystery in which the writer said he had killed Mrs. William D. Bailey in Dr. Edwin Carman's office. The picture shows Sheriff Pettit and Dr. Carman talking about the "confession." The sheriff did not place any stock in the letter. Dr. Carman considered it a possible help to the defense of his wife.

POISONED BY THE GRIP

The grip is no respecter of persons. No age or station of life is exempt from it. The grip is not a fatal disease but it leaves its victim in such a debilitated condition that one of our foremost medical writers has been led to say, "It is astonishing the number of people who have been crippled in health for years after an attack." It is a common thing to hear people date various ailments from an attack of influenza.

The condition of those who have had the grip is one that calls for a tonic for the blood. Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are specially adapted to meet this need as they purify and enrich the blood, tone up the nerves and give vigor, strength and health to the debilitated system.

The grip left me without any vitality whatever," says one who has found relief. "I lost all appetite and ambition. I was reduced in weight and was frequently confined to bed for two days or more. My friends thought I was going into consumption. I owe my recovery to Dr. Williams' Pink Pills and cheerfully recommend them." The details of this case and a chapter on the proper treatment of the grip and its after-effects will be found in the booklet "Building Up the Blood" which will be sent free on request by the Dr. Williams Medicine Co., Schenectady, N. Y.

LOWELL MEN ARRESTED

CHARGED WITH BREAKING INTO CAFE IN LEBANON, N. H.—LOCAL POLICE WILL INVESTIGATE

Six Lowell men are now under arrest at Lebanon, N. H., according to a report received here, for breaking and entering the People's Cafe early Wednesday morning. When arrested the men gave the following names: Louis Pental, Arthur Terrier, Edmond Frechette, John Terrier, Edward Lambert and Frank Lembo.

The sextet deny that they are guilty of the offense but they were seen leaving the cafe by a man who conducts a store next door. The man was not suspicious at first and did not report the matter to the police until an hour later, when they were rounded up in another part of the city.

The police believe that the men arrested in Lebanon might have been implicated in the many thefts which have occurred in this city recently but as yet the prisoners have not been connected with them.

TO SEND $100,000 TO IRELAND

HON. MICHAEL J. RYAN Who Presided

United Irish League Holds Enthusiastic Meeting in New York

To Fight by Appeal to Arms Rather Than Grant Concessions

HUMPHREY O'SULLIVAN Contributed $500 to Cause

O'Sullivan moved it should go to Lowell, saying he would pay all the local expenses.

Edward J. Gallagher said Lowell had claims to recognition inasmuch as it was in Lowell that the first Land League in America was started, and Lowell had contributed more than any other city in Massachusetts outside Boston. There was a strong plea made for Philadelphia, the home of President Ryan, and Mr. O'Sullivan seeing the sentiment in favor of that city, withdrew his motion. The date of the convention will depend upon Sir Redmond's convenience but it will probably be in September.

The appeal issued to the friends of Ireland was as follows:

To the Friends of Ireland in the United States:

Under the leadership of John E. Redmond, the centuries old struggle of the people of Ireland for national self-government is on the eve of victory. The battle has been won by constitutional means, and within the limits even of English law. It has been a contest of intellect for justice. In the train of Irish progress and as a result of Irish agitation, there has come an awakening of the people of Great Britain with the resultant legislation for Ireland's right to legislative independence. At a preliminary meeting held Wednesday night Messrs. Ryan, Thomas B. Fitzpatrick and Michael J. Jordan were appointed a committee to draft an appeal to the friends of Ireland. This was read and adopted as appended.

Humphrey O'Sullivan Applauded When subscriptions were called for, Mr. Humphrey O'Sullivan gave his views of the situation, having recently visited Ireland and contributed $500 to the cause. He won great applause when he handed in his check for $500 additional. Then the contributions were hurried at the chairman as fast as he could announce them, many being personal donations and the remainder pledges of branches of the United Irish League. Philadelphia at a recent meeting subscribed $2000, and the amount was increased today.

$100,000 Subscribed Treasurer Fitzpatrick read the report of the funds received for the past two years, showing that Massachusetts leads with over $15,000; Pennsylvania next with $15,000, and New York third with over $10,000. This started the rivalry of the three states and the result was that when the meeting closed the sum of $100,000 was subscribed. This included a pledge of $1000 from Lowell, if needed.

When the matter of settling where the next convention should be held, came up, a motion was offered that it should go to Philadelphia. Humphrey

Asquith and Birrell and Churchill and Morley, as Gladstone in another day, have joined hands with Ireland.

To secure the defeat of the Liberal party and thus restore the power of an hereditary house of lords with its veto upon beneficent legislation, the wealth of Tory England has seized upon the prejudices of a small portion of Ireland and by appeals to all the baser passions of men, has sought to fan into new flame the fires of religious hatred.

Through its agencies, it has sought to poison the wells of public information. Cablegrams foretelling civil war, forecasts of riots, false and fraudulent statistics, misleading statements about the wealth, resources and population of Ulster, distorted stories of receptions and welcomes to the nearly 70-year-old lawyer chieftain of the Orange forces, make up the regular news furnished upon the American public. We assert that five-sixths of the people of Ireland are in favor of home rule; we assert that the majority of the people of Ulster are in favor of home rule. Both statements are susceptible of mathematical demonstration for the needed parliamentary representation from the whole of Ireland, is made up of 55 home rulers to 16 unionists, and from the province of Ulster, there come 17 home rulers to 16 Tories, every count.

LONG FORGOTTEN RACE

Edward H. Thompson Describes
Home of Race 11,500 Years
Old in Yucatan

WASHINGTON, D. C., July 17.—Edward H. Thompson, former United States consul at Merida, Yucatan, in a communication to the National Geographic society, at Washington, D. C., describing Chichen Itza, the home of a forgotten race, on the Peninsula of Yu-catan, declares that the American people should awaken to the fact that they have right at home architecture essentially American and ruined structures every whit as interesting and massive and possibly as old as those of other lands, who boast that Americans must come to see them.

"Within these mysterious American ruins are great books, with pages of stone, writ in characters that no man may yet read," declared. "Are the mysteries they hold, the wonderful facts that certainly lie sealed and mute within them, hidden from us, less interesting to Americans than are the tales of Egyptian dynasties, the rites of Druids, Roman campings, or Saxon raidings? I think not."

Mr. Thompson describes what was probably the first tennis or basketball court on this hemisphere and possibly in the world. "The ruined group of Chichen Itza covers a space of fully three square miles," he says. "Over all this wide territory are scattered carved and squared stones, in countless thousands, fallen by the hundreds, while the formless remains and outlined walls of huge structures fallen into ruin are seen on every side. Seven massive structures of carved stone and adamantine masonry still tower erect, and almost inhabitable. Their jagged spires sustain the claim that Chichen Itza is one of the world's greatest monuments of antiquity."

"Several hundred feet to the west of the Castle Temple rest two great parallel moles of solid masonry, each 275 feet long, 31 feet wide and 25 feet high. Between these moles is the ceremonial court. This level cemented space was probably the theatre for the performance of certain rites and games of a ceremonial character. This belief is borne out by the fact that at a distance of six feet from the level upper surface of the mole two great rings of stone were fixed into the perpendicular wall surface, directly opposite each other."

Mr. Thompson declares estimates as to the age of the city vary from less than 2000 years to more than 11,500 years. An idea of the intricacies of the language of the people of the city is given by the following quotation from a document found there: "Lai-u tzolan katur lukel ti cab ti yotoch Nonoual," which is translated to mean,
"This is a series of epochs that elapsed from the time of their departure from the house of Nonoual in the land of Tulapan."

THE BON MARCHE

Annual Outing at Nantasket Beach Yesterday Was Best Ever

Nantasket beach was the destination of the Bon Marche clerks yesterday. Nearly 100 clerks assembled at the North station where three special cars were waiting their arrival, and at 9 o'clock they steamed off for Boston where they took the Elevated for

MANAGER ELBERT J. GILMORE

Rose's wharf, and the road ship sailed down the delightful Boston harbor with the happiest crowd of pleasure-seekers that has been delivered at Nantasket beach this season. That very delightful hour's sailing was filled with pleasure on the boat and the sail was only too short. There were solo, choruses and a generally jolly time by the fun-makers that comprised the members of this happy party.

It was the first outing that Mr. E. J. Gilmore, the general manager, had been able to attend in three years, because of sickness and death in his family.

and his presence added to the pleasure of the occasion as the clerks were delighted to have Mr. Gilmore with them. Nantasket park with all its usual attractions was inspected and enjoyed by the party from morning till night. The shore dinner was prepared for the large party, and it was not one of the best shore dinners the management ever put out. It wasn't because arrangements were not made in placing the order for the best. Everybody after having their appetites sharpened by the sight of the old ocean did justice to the dinner. The luncheon was a social affair, the party started on their second of pleasure. The two principal features were bathing and boating and the bathers certainly looked like a bunch of mermaids in the water. The luncheon and other up-to-date dances were included in, while others were delightfully entertained with carols, celebrated concert band on the Nantasket wharf. This band has few equals and no superior. Taking this and the various other attractions, before one could realize what the time was, the day had passed and the crowd was huddled together and took the boat at 4:44 for Boston. When aboard the boat an impromptu concert was started in which some of the leaders and talented vocalists were Mr. John J. Moran with his sweet tenor voice and Miss Mae Ryan with her beautiful soprano voice. Phil Mulcahey contributed with Harry Louder songs and all the popular songs of the day. Miss Mae Ryan did her part towards catering to the amusement of the lady clerks. Taking it all in all it was a splendid and interesting day.

The committee on arrangements for the outing was: Chairman, M. J. Ryan; Philip Duval and Moses Saulnier; and Fred A. Dubois, ex-officio. The present officers of these associations are: President, Fred A. Dubois; Vice president, Margaret Murray; Treasurer, Sydney Whitman; Secretary, Diana Lavie; and collector, Eva Surprenant.

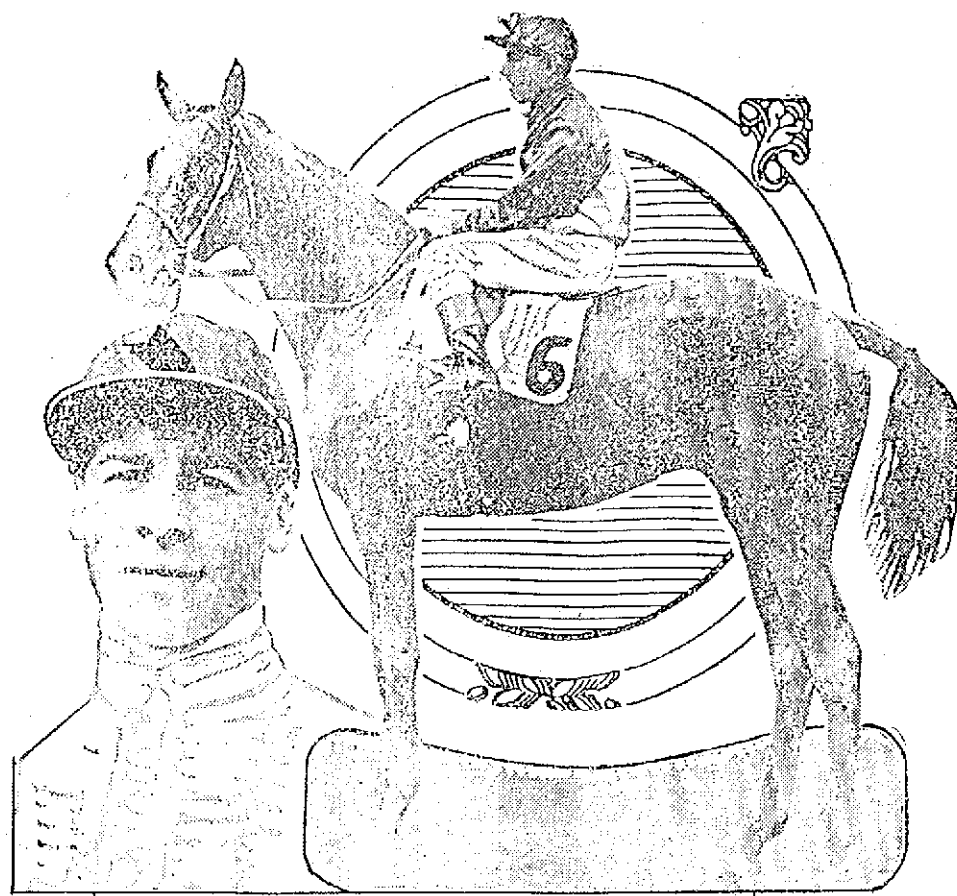

BIGELOW CARPET

Transfer Soon to be Completed—Henry P. Fairbanks to Retire

The following article relative to the Bigelow Carpet Co. deal, for the transfer of control, is from the Boston Transcript:

Statements made in the carpet and rug trade here are to the effect that the Bigelow Carpet Co. deal, for the transfer of control, has been practically completed. It is also stated that the bankers' syndicate formed to take over the stock of the company has been in control of over 75 per cent. of the stock for some time, the stock being on deposit with the Second National bank of Boston. This was for the purpose of making the offer of a share equivalent to $225 a share binding on the part of Kidder, Peabody & Co. and F. S. Mosely & Co., the bankers interested in the purchase of the Bigelow Carpet Co. At the request of the bankers the time for deposit of remaining Bigelow stock has been extended to Friday

NOTTER ... BUCKHORN, M'CAHEY UP ...

The recent race meets in the east, especially at the Belmont, Aqueduct and Empire City tracks, have developed a duel between Notter and McCahey for the crown of American jockey king. So far McCahey has the edge, having brought home more winners and being credited with better head work. Notter has the reputation of being the hardest finisher in the country, while his rival is less sensational, but much sturdier all the way.

of this week, July 17. From several quarters of the market here, statements were forthcoming to the effect that, while the Hartford Carpet Co. will practically assume control of the Bigelow Co's business, the concerns will be run as two separate and distinct companies. It is stated that the Bigelow Co. will be operated very much as a department of the Hartford Co. It is also said that Henry P. Fairbanks, for a number of years New York selling agent and representative of the Bigelow Co., will retire to private life, as soon as the present arrangements under way have been completed. When questioned as to his retirement, and what would be done with the Bigelow Co., Mr. Fairbanks said:

"For the past two years I have not been in good health and I purpose retiring and leading the life of a gentleman. So far as the affairs of the company are concerned, the change in control will go through. The bankers' syndicate of Boston had had control of 75 per cent. of the stock for some time and it is a question of settling up matters. With regard to the way in which the business will be run, I can only surmise. I believe that the selling end will be conducted somewhat on the same lines as a department is handled in such houses, for instance, as Frederick Victor & Achelle. The goods will be sold separately from those of the Hartford company, which does a large mail-order business, and markets a cheaper grade of goods, and go to a different class of trade. Supervision of the business will probably be looked after by the Hartford company, but the two companies will be run as separate concerns. This is simply my own idea of what will be done and is not official."

At the New York headquarters of the Hartford Carpet Co., yesterday, R. P. Perkins, president of the company was engaged in an important conference, and refused to make any statement, as did other members of the company. There appears to be a very general idea in the trade that the consolidation of carpet mills will not be confined to the Hartford and Bigelow plants, but will go still further. Earlier reports of a possible working agreement between the Alex. Smith & Sons Carpet Co. and the Hartford company interests has been revived, and is coming in for considerable comment.

BLAMED FOR COLLISION

BRITISH ADMIRALTY COURT FINDS STEAMER INCHMORE RESPONSIBLE FOR WHIRL

LONDON, July 17.—The British admiralty court today found the British steamer Inchmore responsible for the serious collision on June 17 with the North German Lloyd steamship Kaiser Wilhelm II. Just after the liner had left Southampton for Cherbourg and New York.

Sir Barrgrave Dana, the judge in giving his decision said he found the Inchmore had made a mistake in giving a signal that she had stopped when as a matter of fact she had not done so. This, he said, had misled those on board the Kaiser Wilhelm II. and had caused the collision which occurred in a thick fog and resulted in considerable damage to the German vessel.

MITCHELL, the Tailor, 31 to 35 MERRIMACK SQUARE
—LOWELL—

A QUARTER CENTURY AGO

Yesterday the grocers of Lowell closed up their establishments and held an outing. Nowadays they call them outings, but 25 years ago the word hadn't come into popular use and the good old fashioned word "picnic" was employed for such events. Elsewhere in The Sun you'll read about yesterday's affair; here's what the grocers did a quarter of a century ago:

"Nearly all the grocery and provision shops in the city closed at ten o'clock Wednesday morning so that the proprietors, clerks and their friends might attend the eighth annual picnic of these trades. The picnic grounds were at Tyngs Island and nearly 5000 people enjoyably spent the day there. The weather was excellent and the event compared favorably in all respects with the previous picnics. A live and enthusiastic committee carried out the day's program and looked after the comfort of the day's special guests. All the steamboats on the river had been engaged besides numerous other conveyances. The guests arrived at the island at noon and were tendered a complimentary banquet. The guests were Benjamin Johnson and A. C. Dowse, of the New England Grocer; C. S. Ober and C. W. Watson, of the Cannery and Grocers' Gazette; J. H. Fitchfield, F. H. Dickinson, T. L. Perkins, E. O. Wheeler and Joseph Edwards of Boston; Harry Ray of Haverhill; Mayor Palmer and members of the local city government. Many of the gentlemen were accompanied by their wives and daughters. An excellent program of sports was given, the winners being as follows: High jump, W. Foley; running race, W. Foley; boys' race, Andrew Gray; merchants' race, Andrew Clark, Frank Hanchett;

Henry Farrell, F. Buckle, C. Buxton, took prizes; fat men's race, Jesse Adams; potato race, James Couray; three-legged race, Halloran and McCluskey; swimming match, William Luby; two-mile race, Hugh Kieren and William Salmon. The baseball game between the Boston and Lowell grocers' clerks was won by the former, 10 to 6. The prizes were cash and groceries contributed by the merchants. The North Chelmsford band and an orchestra furnished music. The great gathering of people had a delightful time."

For many years the annual outing of the grocers and Butchers' was one of the most popular midsummer events in Lowell.

OLD TYNGS ISLAND

In the old days all picnics of any consequence were held at Tyngs Island which was then owned and managed by Charles F. Keyes, now the well-known auctioneer. In the summer Charlie had things going lively at the island, while in the cold weather he conducted the old Bijou theatre, in Merrimack street, opposite city hall, when it was a first class vaudeville house. Mr. Keyes sold Tyngs Island to Fay Bros. and Hoxford, about 25 years ago, and they in turn sold it to the old Country club which at that time had not yet consolidated with the Vesper club. Only once while Mr. Keyes had the management of the island did the picnicers "put it over on him" and that was on the occasion of the picnic of the Seaside Associates, a bunch of rough-necks, who had quarters in Dover street, Boston, near the South Boston line and who had among their membership a number of prominent scrapers, carmen and all round athletes; but principally scrapers, and they could scrap, too. Charlie didn't know what kind of a bunch the Seaside were until they arrived on the grounds, and then he wished he had never seen them. But for Joe Lannon, the heavyweight pugilist, former Superintendent Bill Moffatt might not have been drawing a pension today, while the late Sgt. Dunlavy might never have risen above the ranks. It was either on Memorial day or the 17th of June, and a few years more than a quarter of a century ago. In the morning, before the mob entrained for Lowell, a street parade took place in So. Boston with a band and the invited guests in carriages. A fine husky lot of train-wreckers they were, as they marched up West Fourth street to D. Broadway and thence down Broadway out of South Boston to the old Boston & Lowell station. As they walked along Broadway the spectators along the sidewalks shook their heads and remarked: "There'll be something doing wherever that bunch is going."

The guests of honor were John L. Sullivan, champion of the world, and Joe Lannon, South Boston's heavyweight who challenged any man in the world, barring John L. and who after things fought a 25-round draw with Jake Kilrain and licked Joe Ashton of Providence, both of whom were considered contenders for John L.'s title. Sullivan did not go to Lowell with the crowd, but fortunately for the Lowell police, Joe Lannon did. After things had got going real well at the island, a light broke out between a bunch from South Boston and another composed of their hated rivals from the South Cove. Manager Keyes and his assistants attempted to quiet the disturbance, but they didn't have a burglar's chance. Mr. Keyes then sent word to Lowell and up came "Big Bill" Moffatt, Officer Jim Dunlavy and others. The news that the police were coming was met with glad acclaim by the scrapers, not in the interest of the favorite pastimes of the "boys" from those localities in the old days, was licking police officers. "Big Bill" sailed right into the gang and as he appeared to be the principal fighter among the police, the crowd gave their undivided attention to him and for a while he did a club swinging act that would beat out Fred Bourke in his palmist days. Officer Dunlavy went to Moffatt's assistance and as he did, one thing grabbed a fence rail and saving for Dunlavy's head. Just at this moment Joe Lannon, who had been in another part of the grounds keeping out of the trouble, put in an appearance. Throwing off his coat he swung on the fellow with the fence rail just in time to save Dunlavy, and down went the guy and the fence rail for the count. Then Joe waded into the mob that was attacking Moffatt and every time he swung somebody in being knocked down. When the smoke of battle had cleared away the ground was strewn with the belligerents, who upon coming to, were greatly relieved to learn that it was Joe Lannon's club that had laid them out. There was some little honor scraper, whereas being licked by a common policeman would have meant lasting disgrace. Several arrests were made, and Joe Lannon was offered the position as honorary member of the police force, which he declined with thanks, and ever after Charlie Keyes had to know the pedigrees of all applicants for Tyngs Island before they were allowed the privileges of the grounds.

The Old Bijou Theatre

Speaking of Charlie Keyes as an entertainment promoter, would you ever believe that just about 25 years ago Mr. Keyes "canned" the afterward celebrated Rogers Brothers, Max and Gus, because their performance was too tough, even for a Lowell audience? Such is the fact. The Rogers Brothers, who were then doing a little Dutch turn of talking soft talk with their faces close together were engaged by Mr. Keyes for a week's turn at the Bijou. "Rot-ten" was the unanimous verdict of the gallery on the occasion of their first appearance. But Charlie was charitable and he let them go a couple of days, when finally he couldn't stand it himself, and he applied "the hook" to them. Subsequently you have had to pay two samoles for an orchestra seat to see the same Rogers Brothers.

There were performers at that old Bijou theatre who subsequently went to the top of their profession and acquired fame and fortune. A welcome quartet of entertainers at the old Bijou were the four Cohans, Mr. and Mrs. Jerry, George and Josie. George is now one of the best known and most successful playwrights and theatrical managers in the theatrical world. In those days Mr. and Mrs. Jerry, father and mother of George and Josie, did an Irish turn while George and Josie who were only kiddos, were singers and dancers and all four worked together. During one of their visits to Lowell Mrs. Cohan became quite ill and the family cancelled their engagements and remained in Lowell quite a long time, residing, I remember rightly, in Gorham street, about opposite St. John's church.

Josie Cohan is now Mrs. Fred Niblo, her husband being a well known actor and lecturer. Mr. and Mrs. Jerry are enjoying a life of luxurious ease, while George is in the heyday of his fame and more power to him.

George Leslie, the famous Irish comedian of recent years, was a regular performer at the old Bijou, who always made good, as were Goldie and St. Clair who afterward became two of the leading vaudevilleans of Europe. In those days clog dancing was at the height of its popularity, and Manager Keyes always getting the best, introduced to Lowell audiences the team of Barbour and Winstanley. The latter came from England and afterward became the world's most famous clog dancer. He has seen him at one of the local theatres after he had gone blind. He was led on and off the stage by an attendant, but the oldtime grace and precision was still there. His blindness made traveling difficult while of late years theatregoers lost all interest in clog dancing, and the last I heard of

ing vaudevilleans of Europe. NOW ARE THE DAYS CHILDREN NEED CARE

Summer Heat Dangerous to Little Ones Whose Bowels Are Neglected

A mother cannot do better for her children than to teach them from their earliest days regularity of the bowels. Regularity can be promoted without the child knowing it by watching its food and by so varying the food that all the elements of digestion are used, when nature will do the rest. The future health of the child depends upon this.

But try as you will there are times when the little one will become constipated and bilious. In hot weather immediate attention is necessary, as many serious diseases result from stuffed-up bowels. Don't give salts or cathartics or purgatives as they are too harsh, but give a gentle, pleasant-tasting bowel stimulant like Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin. It has been used by the children of this as well as a former generation, and thousands of families are proud to speak well of it, among whom we can mention Mrs. Louise Reynolds, 505 Jackson St., Lynchburg, Va., who is glad to recommend it, and Mr. Chas. W. Allen, Manassas, Tex., who writes that he often felt 100 years old, but feels younger now than his years.

Every druggist sells Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin, and the price is only Twenty cents and one dollar a large bottle. It will cure constipation and biliousness in young or old, break up a cold and stop summer diarrhoea by ridding the bowels of the poisons and germs that cause the trouble. It is a grand family laxative, with valuable tonic properties.

Families wishing to try a free sample bottle can obtain it, postpaid, by addressing Dr. W. B. Caldwell, 413 Washington St., Monticello, Ill.

A CRITICAL TIME

Though at first sight the resignation of Gen. Huerta seems to be a triumph for President Wilson, the Mexican question is by no means settled. For the next few weeks or months the administration will watch the Mexican horizon anxiously, for now all lesser considerations have vanished and the issue will be clearly drawn between the provisional government of Mexico on the one hand and the United States on the other. The personalities that clouded the question up to the present have been removed, and events may now arise which will test the principles of our state department to the utmost. Everything will depend on the course to be taken by the constitutionalists in the near future, and the world will judge the success or failure of American interference according to what is in store for the sorely stricken country.

President Huerta, before his resignation turned over the reins of government, or what stands for government in Mexico, to Francisco Carranza. It was stated when this was unofficially announced some days ago that President Wilson would not object but that he would regard the new president as a temporary ruler, merely filling in the gap between the dictator's regime and the election of a president presumably to be selected later by the Mexican people. Many are of the opinion that in this the American government is leaning unduly to the constitutionalists, because with the success of the rebel army the only candidate that could have any following is one acceptable to the followers of Carranza and Villa. There is danger here that the neutrality which the United States has claimed in all its dealings may yield to unfair partisanship. Still, everything will depend on the character of government adopted, for if Mexico becomes peaceful and normal, no one will quibble long over the means by which quiet has been restored.

The president must be more than anxious to withdraw the influence of the United States government from the situation, but nothing can be done until there is a president that our government will officially recognize. Up to the present it was no secret that the end most desired was the elimination of Huerta but now that he is removed from the scene, to what will the government direct its energies? It is to be hoped that it will strive to prevail on the constitutionalists to cease their warfare against the federals and to strive peacefully for some form of representative government. The rebel leaders declared on more than one occasion recently that they would march on Mexico City, and many who do not place great faith in the motives of Villa and the other leaders fear that they may still carry out their threat. What the result would be cannot be determined, but it is probable that Mexico may yet see the bloodiest chapter in its history.

Many influences are now being brought to bear on the state department in order that our government might impress on the constitutionalists the necessity for abandoning their bloody war against the federals. The taking of Mexico City would be attended with pillage, and a terrible loss of life, and it may be that the leaders cannot now quell the spirit of revenge that has been raised. If Villa and Carranza will patch up their differences, and if they have been sincere in their attitude towards the administration, it may be that the United States may now prevent further bloodshed. Huerta will undoubtedly get out of the country and the federal cause will collapse. Let us hope that the revolutionists will regard this as a final triumph and that they will proceed to the election of a strong president who may show the country the advantages of peace. The United States has shown a high purpose throughout its handling of the Mexican situation and if war will now cease, to be followed by a period of peace and reconstruction, the world will approve the idealism of those responsible for the watchful waiting policy.

PUBLIC INTEREST NEEDED

One of the regrets that is voiced in a thousand different ways in a thousand different communities is the lack of public interest in an intelligent character in all relating to city government. When election time comes round men in all walks of life manifest a temporary interest in candidates and in their promises. Through personal preference or personal pique or through some other unimportant bias many select their candidate and then determine to support that candidate through all manner of charges and counter charges. Others, and in this class are the greater number, have not followed public affairs with any interest for the year preceding and therefore are forced to accept the campaign slogans of the respective aspirants to office as descriptive of real conditions. Some candidate is ultimately elected for better or worse and the voting public falls into a political sleep for another year.

anything and yet nine times out of ten he is deceived or swayed by them. He is misled by some secondary interest and impelled by unreasoned prejudices he knows fairness and prudence to the winds and bases his political faith in better things on the slippery promises of some smooth and self-seeking politician. If he remembers the campaign promises of his hero a few months after election, he must feel a sense of humiliation at the ease with which he was deceived. Could he but realize how often he was thus deceived in the past, political campaigns would be altogether different, for business politicians would not dare to deceive the public as they now do in Lowell and surrounding cities.

At the present time there are many indications that some of the members of our municipal government have entirely forgotten their pledges of sincerity and economy, and the sadly confident Lowell public will soon find the realization in higher taxes and a larger municipal indebtedness than ever. If the people of Lowell desired any one thing more than another at the last elections it was economy, and economy was promised with a capital E. For a little while after election time some petty economies were practiced and then when public suspicions were lulled, the real trend of our municipal government was shown. Explain it as you will, there are undeniable proofs that we are having an ultra-political and extravagant regime at city hall, and there will be some mighty stumbling when the people get ready to pay the bills.

WAILINGS VS. FACTS

In commenting on political conditions throughout the country and tracing their influences on business it is easy to fall into the habit of generalizing, and when one does this, truth often vanishes. Opponents and apologists of any political regime are likely to fall into this error and they do fall into it frequently. One fact, therefore, is worth several abstract wailings or jubulations and it is refreshing to find that many of our politicians are abandoning the old practice of political generalization and are giving positive evidences of conditions as they see them. The following is an extract from a speech made a few days ago by Senator Hollis of New Hampshire, in answer to some doleful wailings of Senator Gallinger who could see nothing ahead but ruin for New Hampshire industry:

"Mr. President, I desire to state that I have been in New Hampshire recently, and though I made very diligent inquiries I could not learn of a single cotton mill or woolen mill or textile mill of any kind, nor a pulp mill, nor a paper mill that has closed. A few republican managers of mills say they are going to close down, but they have not done so as yet. If they do, it will be merely for the ordinary repairs in the summer. "The Millwain Shoe Co. was cited to me as a plant that had closed. I have a letter from the manager of that company saying that they shall begin again immediately after the 1st of July. In my own part of New Hampshire, in the vicinity of Concord, you cannot hire men at any sort of reasonable wages. Contractors are trying to get men to take care of their work; you cannot get a carpenter to patch your roof, and you cannot get a painter to paint a house. Labor has never been so well employed in New Hampshire as it is today. All these wails come from places that are farther away, based, generally, on what someone says, someone writes, someone guesses, or someone predicts. I state on my authority, from actual investigation, that labor has never been better employed in New Hampshire than it is today."

ACCIDENTAL POISONING

Since the publication of a sensational western story relating the death of a wealthy individual who had taken bicarbonate tablets by mistake, instances of such poisonings have multiplied in the press, and accusations to prevent such occurrences have sprung up in various quarters. Nevertheless, deaths attributed to accidental poisoning seem to be increasing rather than otherwise. On Tuesday the superintendent of a Boston bathhouse used some bicarbonate of mercury tablets to treat a wounded boy, and through some blunder one of the tablets got into a glass of hot water which the official later drank with fatal results. A few weeks ago the son of a Cambridge physician took a poisonous tablet instead of a medicinal one, and died as a result of his carelessness. These two notable instances should be enough to call the attention of this section of the country to the danger of having poison carelessly around which has not some distinctive mark that would instantly warn one coming in contact with it.

A bill to have all poisonous tablets wrapped separately was introduced in the last legislature but fell through, though far more unnecessary bills were passed. The adverse decision of the general court should not, however, discourage those who wish to see some such law, for the long list of fatalities due to a lack of some comprehensive regulation is enough to warrant a renewal of activity. Meanwhile parents and those in charge of places where poisons are kept should see that they are placed out of reach of the young, and that they are so marked as to prevent any sad occurrence such as that in Boston on Tuesday.

AUTOS AND STREET CARS

The Fall River Herald, commenting on a recent warning posted in electric cars by the Bay State Street railroad, which says: "Look out for automobiles coming in back of you when leaving car," suggests that a regulation obliging all drivers of automobiles to stop behind a car which has halted for any purpose, such a regulation is in vogue in the Rhode Island, as has been frequently commented on locally when a car from that state enters the city and it might be advantageously adopted in this state. No matter how careful one is in stepping from an electric car, the natural preoccupation of the time prevents one frequently from seeing an approaching automobile and as a result we have had many accidents in the past.

Though in some respects this may seem like a hardship on auto drivers, individual drivers need not find it necessary to resort to it very often because there are many streets where cars do not run. As the Herald says: "The automobilist who is so constantly leaving car," suggests that a regulation obliging all drivers of automobiles to stop behind a car which has halted for any purpose, such a regulation is in vogue in the Rhode Island, as has been frequently commented on locally when a car from that state enters the city and it might be advantageously adopted in this state. No matter how careful one is in stepping from an electric car, the natural preoccupation of the time prevents one frequently from seeing an approaching automobile and as a result we have had many

If a woman isn't jealous she isn't interested.

The rule is that the man who would pay if he had it seldom gets it.

Mrs. Jasper Ellington is franker than most. She admits that Jasper is the only man who ever proposed to her.

Edam Capps, whose wife went away a year ago last October to stay till Saturday, and who has not yet returned, has sued for divorce. Edam says a woman is always late in keeping an appointment, but if she doesn't show up in a year there's no use waiting for her.

This is an uncertain world. The same head that wears the laurel wreath today may be the receiving station for a flock of bricks tomorrow.

What has become of the old fashioned man who used to make his children speak pieces for company?

PROMISES IN POLITICS
During a municipal campaign in Chicago a politician dropped in one morning to see a certain grocer. During the conversation that took place the politician asked, "And I may count on your support, may I not?"

"Why, no, I am sorry to say," replied the grocer. "The fact is, I have promised my support to the other candidate."

The politician laughed. "Ah," said he, "in politics promising and performing are two different things."

"In that case," said the grocer cordially, "I shall be glad to give you my promise, sir."—Lippincott's.

SUN FASHION HINTS

The outlines of the charming taffeta gown pictured here remind one of a Greek vase. It is obviously the kind of dress that only the woman with a perfect figure should attempt to wear. The bodice, with its crossed over folds and huge corsage bouquet, has the long shoulder, the sleeves being practically nothing more than frills of tulle headed by dainty silk ruckings. The very full draped pannier is adorned with a knotted fringe of picot ribbon.

In Pethshire, Scotland, there is a marble slab with this stirring story recorded upon it:

There was once in the school a pupil named Alexander, a young Russell, who became an officer in the 74th Highlanders when only a lad of 17. In connection with the memorable loss of the Bismarck he won immortal glory. The troopship struck upon a rock; the soldiers were formed in ranks upon the deck to die; the women and children were being saved in boats.

Russell was ordered into one of the boats to command it, and a little way off he watched with dimmed eyes the doomed ship. When she went down he saw creatures of the deep contending for his beloved comrades. Then he saw a sailor's form rise up close to the boat and a hand strive to grasp the side.

A woman in the craft called out in agony: "Save him! Oh, save him, sir! He is my husband," but there was no room for another, and the boat was laboring heavily as it was. Russell looked at the woman and then at her children, then at those beseeching eyes in the deep, and, rising in the stern, he plunged into the water and helped the sailor into what had been his own place. Then amid a chorus of "God bless you" from every one in the boat, the brave young officer turned to meet his death.—Pearson's Weekly.

AN INVITATION

I have chosen this day to be up and away
(Heigh-ho and heigh-ho!)
From all of the worry and hurry and hurry,
From all of the hustle and bustle and hurry,
Our troubles! What matter? There's plenty of what!
Out there in the open where winds are a-blow,
Come, then, won't you go?
I have chosen this day to be up and away;
(Heigh-ho and heigh-ho!)
The maples and beeches will make us blithe speeches
Out there in the open where winds are a-blow,
Come, then, won't you go?
I have chosen this day to be up and away;
(Heigh-ho and heigh-ho!)
The blossoms, gay-petaled, have got it all settled;
We're not to be nagged and we're not to be nettled;
Devoid of annoyance, we'll join in the
Out there in the open where winds are a-blow!

"GROUND GRIPPER" Health Shoe

Seven Real Reasons Why "Ground Grippers" Are Famous

- 1—They cure Flat-Foot without plates. (See Dr. Crandon's letter.)
- 2—Exercise, Health, Strength when walking. (Read our Medical Book.)
- 3—Over 100 Hospitals and Colleges endorse them. (See Printed List.)
- 4—Famous people wear them. (Julian Eltinge) (Red Sox) (Elsie Janis), Etc.
- 5—Our Shoe has cured Flat-Foot, Varicose Veins, Bunions, Weak Ankles. One girl discarded crutches and plates.
- 6—Only best quality Upper and Sole Leather used. Proof if desired.
- 7—They make deformed feet normal and keep good feet healthy.

ACTUAL CURE MADE BY GROUND GRIPPER SHOES

E. W. BURT & CO., Inc. Makers and Patentees

This cure was sent to us by one of our leading agents and is authentic.

J. L. CHALIFOUX CO.
COR. MERRIMACK & CENTRAL ST.

In so-called "flat-foot," plates of steel or other material are given, which serve as mechanical braces, which give a push or lift to neutralize a defect. Such a measure must be inefficient, not only giving no cure, but at best only permanent dependence—one error neutralizing another for a time. Those who get well after the use of such plates do so because the cause of the foot collapsing is temporary and disappears. All other cases are permanently enslaved.

A tilted or twisted plate does not tilt or twist the foot; but on account of its arbitrary fixity only makes the foot try continuously to get away from it, and causes painful spasms. This leads to the question—

Why do some cases get better wearing plates?

Because, in certain cases, the feet work so hard to get away from the plates that they develop muscular power and strengthen ligaments. To get a result by this method, however, is indirect and illogical. There is much work and discomfort with little result.

Casts are taken of so-called "flat-foot." Casts impress the sufferer. They have no real bearing on the treatment. Proper walking, the strengthening of the feet, the restoration of foot and balance are accomplished alone by proper shoeing, proper muscular stimulation and mental direction. Right shoeing allows one to walk rightly—it does not make one walk rightly.

Proper walking is the proper exercise for all the waking hours. Proper walking will restore the stiffened feet and every minute of proper walking helps the feet to become soft and flexible as they were in childhood. Plates and stiff shoes are made because of the belief that the foot has a fixed arch, whereas the truth is that the foot has the power of arching. The corrective arch does not restore arching, but only holds up the bones like a crutch.

AMUSEMENT NOTES

LAKEVIEW PARK

Water sports of all kinds are scheduled for Lakeview Park next week. There will be fancy swimming and diving, long distance swimming races, exhibitions of wonderful water walking, water polo and various other "stunts" that will make the week an attractive one. One of the feature attractions engaged are two young women, who will be seen in fancy diving. Attractive in both form and feature, these young women are also said to be athletic to a degree, and are long distance swimmers of more than ordinary ability. There is quite a large number of entries for the races. Lieut. Hitchcock has also been engaged for an appearance every afternoon and evening next week in his famous water walking feats. Water polo games will also be played. There are always the latest and best pictures to be seen at the theatre where the admission is free and the program changes every Sunday, Monday and Thursday.

CANOE LAKE THEATRE

The dancing fans are all talking about the third edition of the Human Musical Revue, which is playing at Canoe Lake Park theatre this week and all on account of a decidedly novel and beautiful pantomime dancing specialty that is being presented by Gordon and the Elgin Sisters, entitled "Vision of Youth." Somehow there is a compelling interest in anything pantomime and in this very original number the revue company has made a phenomenal hit, winning the most enthusiastic and deserved applause of the patrons at every performance.

"The Trail of the Lonesome Pine" success is sidetracked by another tinsel novelty offering, "The Rose of the Mountain Trail," which while similar to the first named, is an improvement on it and as introduced by a bevy of skip-rope girls proves to be one of the most pleasing numbers of the show.

Barney Williams and May Wright present their own vaudeville act with which they have scored such a tremendous success in all of the principal vaudeville houses of the United States and Canada, and it is one riot of fun and merriment from start to finish.

A little girl from the chorus is opening the eyes of the patrons with some very clever and artistic toe dancing, and the patrons are all wondering who she is.

The sketch is another roar of laughter, "Uncle Elmer's Visit" being a specialty in which Barney Williams as "the kid" scores another hit. In fact all of the cast play their parts with particular vim and the result is a sure enough scream for all present.

The Oxford Quartet, these four wonderful singers who have won the hearts of all since the opening of the company, are sweeping the theatre with a regular gale of enthusiasm, and it is safe to predict that at the end of the summer the patrons will be sorry to see them go.

THE OWL THEATRE

"The Perils of Pauline" (ninth instalment) and last and released has been booked for today and tomorrow at the Owl. Pauline goes through many new, exciting dangers, and but for the intervention of her sweetheart, she would certainly have a hard time of it. Our advice to the public is to get there early and avoid the rush for seats. Every new picture of the series brings record-breaking crowds at the Owl, and if you're late you may have to wait for a seat. Although the theatre has a big seating capacity, over 1100, it is not adequate for the crowds that are following Pauline's exciting adventures. This last release is even more exciting than the preceding ones. Of course, the usual big roster of special Friday and Saturday attractions has been returned. "Our Mutual Friend" has been returned to her usual, after being kidnapped for some time, and many "fans" follow her adventures with interest. It is a worthy feature, combining amusement with a certain educational value. With Miss Mutual you see many interesting things of the big cities; you meet people of note, and it is altogether a feature of special worth. A Keystone comedy, "Ashes of the Past," a two-reel dramatic feature; "The Burden" and many others complete this topnotch program. Every picture is new to Lowell. Will you be at the Owl today or tomorrow?

THE KASINO

Chase dull care away. The Kasino offers you the opportunity. Its other name is sunshine. Every night and on Saturday afternoon Minnie's orchestra plays choice programs and also provides music for dancing. You won't know what Kasino standard means until you visit Thorndike hill. Get the Kasino habit.

FOR IRISH CAUSE

ly and city of Belfast having at least one nationalist representative. We assert that in aggregate wealth, instead of being the first, Ulster stands second to the province of Leinster, and that in per capita wealth, both Leinster and Munster exceed Ulster, the latter being the third of the four provinces into which the island is divided. We deny that home rule is a religious question and we proclaim that those who assert otherwise, willfully attempt to deceive. The foremost Catholics in Great Britain is the Duke of Norfolk, who is a bitter opponent of home rule, and he, as well as the chief whigs of the Tory party on the house of commons, are avowed Catholics and radical supporters of Carson and his tactics. On the other hand, the whole history of nationalist Ireland is a protest. Robert Emmet, Wolfe Tone, John Mitchell, Thomas Davis, Charles Stewart Parnell, the best loved leaders of the Irish people, were all Protestants and today in the ranks of the Irish parliamentary party are Protestants like Stephen Gwynn, William Abraham, Captain Donnellan, James Hogg, Swift McNeill, Richard Meade and T. W. Russell, and outside of parliament, there are staunch supporters of the Irish cause like Lord Esher, head of the Belfast ship yards, and others of the great merchants of Belfast.

We assert that "Ulsterism" is simply a form of political agitation like the war cry of the "Bloody Shirt" that years ago inflamed the north against the south in the United States. We declare that it simply covers the attempt of privilege, patronage and power to continue themselves illicitly in the ascendancy against the expressed will of the parliament of Great Britain and the overwhelming majority of Ireland.

Mr. Redmond declares that this Orange movement of organized force has been financed by all the wealthy and aristocratic enemies of popular liberties. The arming of the Orangemen of Ulster is an audacious attempt to overthrow the government. To render this iniquitous and unlawful conspiracy abortive, Mr. Redmond appeals to all Americans who love liberty to aid him and the Irish parliamentary party in organizing and arming the Irish National volunteers. His appeal, directed to the president of the United Irish League in America, is clear, emphatic and urgent. Money is urgently needed. The necessities are great and immediate. The United Irish League of America for fifteen years has aided the people of Ireland. Mr. Redmond and the Irish parliamentary party with the funds needed to carry out their successful propaganda of independence. There have been times when this splendid work was violently opposed by misguided men and the support has never been as adequate as it should have been, but all thinking and self-respecting men of the Irish race must now recognize the absolute wisdom of the policy of supporting the Irish parliamentary party and the superb leadership of the great Redmond.

This cautious, careful and conservative chief, speaking for the whole of a united nationalist Ireland, asks us in the United States again to help. The Irish national volunteers, as of right should be, are absolutely under his control and direction. His hands must be upheld. All the money needed must be forthcoming. We appeal to all our branches, organizations and affiliated societies to forward subscriptions at once to our national treasurer, Thomas B. Fitzpatrick, 101 Kingsbury street, Boston, Mass., and in all cities, towns and villages throughout the union where no branch exists, we urge transmission of funds to him or to The Irish World, 22 Barclay street, New York City, or where it may be preferred for any cause, to send money directly to John E. Redmond, house of commons, London, England. If transmitted through either The Irish World or Mr. Redmond, we ask subscribers to notify Mr. Fitzpatrick of the fact, so that an accounting may be kept and due acknowledgment had. We especially recommend the forwarding of money. It can be used for the purchase of intended more expeditiously, more economically, and with greater certainty of immediate results under Mr. Redmond's direction and there will be no misleading of the people either in America or Ireland by specious appeals to their unconquerable patriotism. Whatever money may be forwarded to the national treasurer, Mr. Fitzpatrick, will be at once transmitted to Mr. Redmond without deduction, for there are no salaried officials of any kind in the United Irish League of America, and the only reason for its existence is to act as an auxiliary to the people of Ireland, as the author of the instrument through which financial aid may be given.

QUARTER CENTURY AGO

the poor fellow he was in an institution for the blind.

A Few College Boys

Under the above headline, the Sun of quarter of a century ago had the following:

"The secretary's report No. 11 of the Harvard class of '85 contains the following account of Lowell members of the class: Cyrus Wendell, '85, is teaching the scientific course at the Lowell high school. Julian Lincoln Whitehouse is in the employ of the Lowell city government and also a teacher in the evening school. Hugh Henry Brogan was the first man to be elected to the position of head teacher of the new John Tyndal fellowship established in 1885. As holder of this he went to Germany in 1886 and has since pursued his studies in physics at Berlin. Previous to his departure for Berlin this student entered the Royal college of Science at Dublin. The second year he studied in Leipzig and the third in Paris. Last September the fellowship which was three years, ceased, and since then Mr. Brogan has pursued a course of physics at the Royal College of Science at Dublin. This year he will complete a four years' post-graduate course in physics and mathematics."

Upon receiving his LL. D. from Germany, Prof. Brogan returned to this country and was offered a professorship at Harvard. He declined the offer for the easier life of a private tutor and establishing himself in Cambridge his services were in great demand both by professors and students. In later years he returned to Lowell, desiring to take life easy and simply continue articles to the scientific magazines. But upon the occasion of a visit to Washington he became deeply interested in the work of the United States patent office and decided that he would like the work. In order to get acquainted with Washington and federal procedure he first passed the federal examination for a lucrative appointment in the naval observatory where he became noted for his perfection in mathematics. But the patent office had a greater attraction for him and passing that difficult examination at the top of the list he received an important appointment, and is there at the present time. Equally well known in Lowell was Prof. Brogan's brother, the late Peter Brogan who passed away in this city a few years ago. Peter for many years was head ticket-taker for the Buffalo Bill Wild West Show and was a close personal friend of Buffalo Bill. Now "Peter" came to get the position with the "Wild West Show" is quite interesting. When but a boy "Peter" shook the dust of Lowell from his heels and departed for the wild and woolly west to engage in the strenuous and romantic life of a cowboy. "Peter" went into the far west and struck a job on a ranch and became a full-fledged cowboy. He remained in the west for a number of years, writing back to Lowell only semi-occasionally. Finally having accumulated a substantial "bankroll" and tiring of the life of the ranch he decided to return to Lowell. Upon arriving here he found that his brother Hugh had gone to Germany to continue his studies. After remaining a short time in Lowell he packed up and departed for Germany to see Hugh. Locating him in Leipzig, "Peter" proceeded to enjoy the ease and comfort of the Germans, eventually becoming proficient in the German language. After remaining in Germany with Hugh for some time he decided to return to the states by way of England and Ireland. Upon his arrival in London he found the papers and the bill-boards filled with the announcements that Buffalo Bill and his Wild West Show had just arrived in London for their first European tour. "Peter" beat it for the show grounds to see who Bill had with him for cowboys and broncho-busters and upon arriving there found among the crowd a number of his old time pals of the plains. He was received like a long-lost brother and was forced to give up his idea of returning to the states and became one of the cowboy actors. Thus he started in riding bucking bronchos and lassoing the crowd and continued to do so while the show was in England. When the show prepared to depart for Germany it was discovered that there was no one among the ticket force who could talk the language of the Rhine and when "Peter" informed the management that he was right there with the "Cherman" he was given a position as a ticket taker and before the show came back to this country he had advanced to the position of head ticket-man which he held until his illness several years afterward forced him to retire.

Catholic Students' Picnic

Says The Sun of a quarter of a century ago:

"Under the direction of Brother Amelitz, the students of the Catholic college and the graduates of St. Patrick's school held a picnic on Thursday. Two well filled busses started from the school building in Suffolk street at 9 o'clock, and after a two hours' ride were landed on the grounds of 'Cable Park' which in Methuen. The boys took possession of the place and made the hills resound with college songs. All kinds of sports were instituted and the active feet of the merry-makers were kept busy chasing the ball and running all sorts of races. After the fine dinner prepared by Mr. Welch, the ball game was the most important event of the day. Edward P. Donohoe captained the students and Frank J. Sullivan, the school graduates. The school graduates won by a score of 21 to 16. Other sports were then taken up, James B. O'Connor and James B. Coughlin, being the judges. In the three running jumps, J. F. Courtney was first and Ed. Donohoe, second. John Corcoran and William Sheehan won first prize in the three-legged race with Michael Corcoran and Nicholas J. McCluskey, second. Dennis Morris won the running jump and Ed. Donohoe, the standing jump. Richard McCluskey won the 100 yards dash. Among the guests were the Xaverian Brothers, of St. Patrick's school; Rev. Fr. McDonough, of St. Peter's; Rev. Fr. Foley, Rev. Fr. Shaw, of St. Patrick's; Rev. John Gilday, of St. Michael's; Rev. Fr. Chester, S. J. and Rev. Fr. Dufour, S. J., of Holy Cross college, Worcester."

THIS IS THE BIGGEST GUN IN THE WORLD;
IT WILL HELP PROTECT THE PANAMA CANAL

The WORLD'S LARGEST CANNON

WASHINGTON, July 16.—When his of the tremendous power of this gun, breech-loading device has been perfected at Watervliet arsenal the greatest in the world, the biggest piece of ordnance in the world, which has just been shipped from Sandy Hook proving grounds, will be practically ready for service on the Panama canal fortifications. The carriage for this gun is now under construction in the Water-town (Mass.) arsenal. The gun probably will be taken back to Sandy Hook for tests after being mounted and will not be shipped to Panama before next spring. Some later may be had

When a shell leaves the gun it is revolving around its axis at about 4000 revolutions per minute and develops a pressure of 35,000 pounds to the square inch. The pressure to the rear on the gun and forward on the projectile amounts to 7,000,000 pounds. The projectile's velocity of 2250 feet per second gives a muzzle energy of somewhat more than 84,000 foot tons. Army ordnance officials believe this gun will be a tremendous instrument of peace when it is finally in position on the Panama canal.

NEARING CENTURY MARK

MILL WORKER WHO DIED AT AGE OF 91 CONDUCTED HOOP-SKIRT AND CORSET STORE IN LOWELL

MANCHESTER, N. H., July 17.—A record which probably cannot be duplicated in New England, if anywhere, has been established by a modern, alert little woman of 91 years, Mrs. Annis Truesdale, who had worked for over half a century in Manchester and Amoskeag mills. Unconsciously to illness all her long and happy life, a stroke of paralysis last week while at work caused the first cessation of work she had known. She died at 3 o'clock yesterday afternoon at the home of her granddaughter, Mrs. Estelle Duncklee, 1001 Hayward street. Mrs. Truesdale was stricken with a shock while at her work in the wool waste room of No. 2 mill Wednesday afternoon, July 8. One-half of her body was paralyzed, but her mind remained clear and her most frequent comment on her misfortune was "I don't understand why I had to be taken with a shock. I was feeling as well as I ever did in my life. I had been working all day, and was enjoying a little fun with my young companions in the rooms when this had to come on me."

During all her long connection with the Manchester mills, most of the time as a weaver, Mrs. Truesdale never lost any time, was always among the first centers at work, and was one of the leading spirits in fun making and jovialization among her fellow workers.

Lived Long in One Room

A peculiar fancy of hers led her to make her home in one room in one of the corporation boarding-houses, with Mrs. Hannah Lynch at 78 Bedford street. Although often asked to make her home with her young relatives here, she preferred to live alone, her one hobby being to make this solitary room as cozy and attractive as possible, the room which has represented home to her for over 45 years.

Her employers had approached her with the remark that she was too old a woman to be working, offering her her leisure with full pay. This suggestion, however, was quickly turned down by the alert little woman. "This is my home and my life," she declared. "I couldn't be comfortable sitting around or doing housework, and as long as I feel as well and strong as I do now, I'm going to work in the mills."

As soon as the extent of her illness was learned last week, Mrs. Truesdale was taken to the home of her granddaughter, Mrs. Estelle Duncklee, at 1001 Hayward street, where, through inability to stand nourishment, her life is slowly ebbing away. Continual calls from her employers and her mill friends with inquiries as to her condition serve as proof of her great popularity among the mill workers.

Mrs. Truesdale has outlived several overseers, Henry Powell, Frank Toll and John Frost numbering among the men under whom she worked and whom she has seen pass beyond.

A native of Canada, Mrs. Truesdale comes of an English stock. Her name was Annis Clark. After spending her girlhood at her parents' home, as is next known to have been conducting a hoop-skirt and corset store in Lowell and Lawrence, Mass. Her brother-in-law, Jesse Toothacher, conducted a hoop-skirt factory in New York city in the early 60's. Later Mrs. Truesdale went to New York, where she ran an establishment in which the now strange and quaint hoop-skirts were fitted and reconstructed to accord with the forms of the belles of the wartime.

Came Here Over 50 Years Ago

Over 50 years ago she came to Manchester and took employment in the Manchester mills as a weaver at which work she has been faithfully ever since until about three years ago when she went into the waste room. Remarkably alert and quick-moving, she presented a picture of health and almost youth which could not be duplicated by many women 30 or 40 years her junior. Her complexion was shell pink and white and there was scarcely a wrinkle on her face. Her eyesight was perfect and glasses were an unknown part of her work and pleasure. She was a small woman, weighing about 130 and her foot called for a three and one-half shoe. Five generations of her family are gathered at the home on Hayward street where she is lying. Her daughter-in-law, Mrs. Abbie Truesdale, the widow of Henry Truesdale, her granddaughter, Mrs. Estelle Duncklee; her great-granddaughter, Mrs. Jennie Bonner at 1003 Hayward street, and her great-great-grandson, Kenneth Bonner, Mrs. Elizabeth Willey, aged 85, of Somerville, Mass., is also at the Duncklee home. Mrs. Willey is a sister of Mrs. Truesdale and is herself a remarkably bright, alert, interesting woman.

CARPENTIER WINS ON FOUL

Frenchman Declared the Winner When Smith Was Disqualified in Sixth Round

LONDON, July 17.—Georges Carpentier, the young French champion and the only pugilist of premier rank France has ever contributed to the game, was awarded the decision last night over Gunboat Smith, the American fighter, on a foul in the sixth round of the fastest heavyweight fight Londoners have seen in many years.

The match between the heavyweights was fought at the Olympia and was scheduled to go 20 rounds.

To Smith and his supporters the finish was a tragedy, because the blow for which the American was disqualified was not intentional. It was launched in the heat of the whirlwind fighting, when the Frenchman had slipped to his knees and the spectators saw the giant sailor attempt to draw back almost as his arm flew out.

When the French contingent carried Carpentier to his corner in the sixth round the utmost confusion reigned. The ring was crowded with excited officials and seconds and thousands of spectators were on their feet shouting and groaning. In this round Carpentier, after playing for an opening, while keenly watching the American's right, had feinted cleverly with his left and then brought a powerful right across Smith's jaw.

The punch did not land squarely but glanced off, and, carried by the force of his blow, Carpentier swung round and slipped to his knees. Quickly Smith's right shot forth. He drew back and plainly would have withheld the blow on second thought. Then he stepped back and waited for the Frenchman to rise.

The Frenchman's manager, Deschamps, climbed through the ropes with seconds following, and picked up the fighter, who was holding his head in a dramatic manner with both hands. Deschamps carried Carpentier to the corner, where he made a great business of rubbing and restoring him, and then, turning to the American fighter, poured forth a stream of excited French invective.

French and American camp followers poured into the ring and surrounded the referee, Eugene Corri. Shouts of "Foul, foul!" were raised. Everybody talked to the referee at once, and the referee pointed to Carpentier, indicating that the Frenchman was the winner.

SMITH SEEKS ANOTHER MATCH WITH CARPENTIER—AMERICAN HAS ALIBI

LONDON, July 17.—"Gunboat" Smith and his manager, "Jim" Buckley, said today that they intended to make a further effort to arrange a return fight with Georges Carpentier, the French heavyweight, who yesterday was awarded the decision at Olympia when Smith was disqualified in the sixth round for hitting the Frenchman while he was on the ground.

The American boxer declared he was willing to meet the Frenchman anywhere and at any time and would prefer that the winner should take entire purse or gate money.

Carpentier would make no reply to Smith's offer to fight again, saying the matter was one for the consideration of his manager, who had not had time yet to take the matter up.

Smith today asserted that he never would fight again before a cinematograph. He said his eyes were weak, and he had to wear glasses in the sunlight. Last night the glare of the lights puzzled him and he thought this possibly had something to do with his striking Carpentier while the Frenchman was down.

Smith insists that even if his glove touched Carpentier it was unintentional and the blow did not hurt his opponent. Any other boxer, he said, would have continued the fight.

As to the blow which knocked him down in the fourth round, Smith said that while it was a hard one it did not put him out and he had simply remained down to gain the benefit of the rest.

While realizing that it is hopeless, Carpentier is making a formal protest against the referee's decision on the ground that it had been arranged for the episode in private out of the presence of the referee had given him. Deschamps, the Frenchman's manager, declared that Carpentier had been deceived and that he had been told that there was a chance of winning the bout on a technicality.

The boxing experts of the evening newspapers today are all divided in opinion as to the form of the fight. Some are of the opinion that the fight was a hard one and that the Frenchman was the winner. Others are of the opinion that the fight was a soft one and that the American was the winner.

KERMIT ROOSEVELT AND BRIDE WILL SAIL FOR SOUTH AMERICA JULY 29

NEW YORK, July 17.—Kermit Roosevelt, son of Colonel Roosevelt, will sail with his bride for South America on July 29. They recently arrived here from abroad, where they were married at Madrid, Spain. The Roosevelts were accompanied by Mrs. Nicholas Longworth, formerly Miss Alice Roosevelt, sister of Kermit, and by Joseph E. Willard, father of the bride, American ambassador to Spain. Kermit Roosevelt is an engineer, and his first undertaking as a married man will be to build a public market place at Curitiba, Brazil.

brains of Carpentier and his seconds. Eugene Corri, the referee, it is admitted by all, did the only thing possible after Deschamps had claimed a foul.

In their editorial comments on the fight, all the leading newspapers declare it was plain Smith did not make any intentional attempt to strike a foul blow.

Carpentier Willing to Fight

"If 'Gunboat' Smith wants a return match right away he isn't going to encounter the slightest difficulty," said Carpentier's manager later in the day. "It is Carpentier's wish, as it is mine, that the white champion of the world should retain the championship not by a mere fluke or disqualification, but by right of superiority in boxing," he continued.

Both sides thus have put themselves on record as desiring an early return match and the only bar to such a meeting appears to be the arrangement of a suitable purse.

GASH IN HEAD

Electrician Was Injured While Repairing Motor in Page's Restaurant

Henry Hall, an electrician, received a bad gash in his forehead this morning shortly before 11 o'clock while at work in Page's restaurant.

He was examining the motor and had just turned on the current to start it when the pulley supporting the belt-ting gave way, a piece of it striking him in the head. A cut of five inches in length was inflicted. He was taken to the Lowell General hospital.

A PRIVATE HOSPITALFormer Superintendent of Lowell
General Hospital Has Secured
Property — House Unoccupied for Fourteen Years Will be Opened Soon

The J. A. Coram mansion in Marlborough street is seen to be converted into a private hospital, the place to be conducted by Miss Helen M. Garrett, former superintendent of the Lowell General Hospital. Final arrangements will be made in a few days and Miss Garrett expects to open her new place within a month.

Miss Garrett was for six years superintendent of the Lowell General Hospital. Some ten years ago she resigned and accepted a similar position at the Amsterdam hospital in Amsterdam, N. Y., where she remained until a few months ago, when she decided to take a well earned rest. She came to Lowell and during her stay in this city she conceived the idea of opening a private institution and after inspecting several valuable pieces of property she came to the conclusion that the most desirable one was the Coram mansion in Marlborough street.

Mr. J. A. Coram, formerly of this city and now of Boston, was seen on the matter and inasmuch as he seemed to approve of the plan, steps were at once taken by Miss Garrett to secure the property. Men are now at work on the beautiful mansion putting things in shape for the building has been unoccupied for the past 14 years, and within a couple of weeks the hospital will be ready for occupancy.

Miss Garrett in conversation with a reporter of The Sun this morning said the building contains about 25 rooms with a seating capacity of 350, which can be later converted into apartments if necessary. The hospital will be in attendance and patients will be treated by their own physicians. There will be practically no changes in the interior or exterior of the building and all that is needed is to put the heating system in shape and take care of other minor details.

ANOTHER LOW RECORD

REACHED BY NEW HAVEN AT

OPERATIVE QUALITIES LATER

NEW YORK, July 16.—Signs of further liquidation were manifested by the stock market in the early dealings. New Haven was the factor that made for increased apprehension selling at 4 1/2, with a fraction under its low record of yesterday and a decline of 1 1/2 from the close, Baltimore &

Ohio issues which became weak yesterday on the Union Pacific extra dividend's decision registered lower prices and New York came with a fraction of its lowest price in a score of years.

Canadian Pacific, which rose smartly at the outset on assurances that no immediate financing is contemplated soon lost much of its gain. Partial recoveries followed the first decline.

The market showed decided recuperative qualities by noon, New Haven making more than full recovery as the selling in that quarter ceased but the list as a whole was subject to feverish fluctuations. Selling of U. S. Steel, ascribed in part to the bears, became the feature of the second hour, the stock declining 1 1/2 points to 58 1/2 on fairly large offerings but soon rebounding.

Baltimore & Ohio suffered an additional setback. Penna. fell a point and Ches-

& Ohio was again under pressure.

Among the active railways Erie second aid was prominent for a 2 1/2 point loss.

Denver issues collapsed after midday to lowest figures, the common falling

1 1/2 and the preferred 1 1/2, while the refunding bonds lost one per cent.

Meanwhile, the general market held firm, U. P. gaining a point on an announcement of the company's second quarter victory in connection with the payment of the extra dividend to common shareholders. Incidentally it was decided to disburse this dividend on

Further recovery in New Haven

which advanced almost three points from its low with concurrent weakness in some of the allied bonds and numerous offerings of Baltimore &

Ohio preferred for future delivery at 75 were among the features of the later trading.

Although today's market pursued an irregular course, the tendency among the leaders was toward betterment.

Baltimore & Ohio preferred for future delivery at 75 were among the features

LOWELL TAKES A COUPLE

Local Team Outclassed Lynn in Both Contests—The First Game Went Ten Innings

The Lynn club did not look at all natural yesterday for Patsy Flaherty's well known figure could be nowhere seen among the group of ball players that disembarked at Spaulding park for the double-header. Patsy's resignation Tuesday night was the biggest shakeup that the New England league has experienced this season.

Lynn's ex-manager was one of the most popular figures along the circuit and knew the game thoroughly. He was a gentleman on and off the field although Flaherty was always at loggerheads with the Lowell fans when the Shamrocks struck town. The bleachers will certainly miss their arguments with the former manager.

In his place as manager of the Lynn club was Ralph W. Reeve, a lawyer in the Town of Shoes and a former Dartmouth college ball tosser. In commenting upon the change in managers, the Lynn Telegram of Wednesday has the following to say:

"The King is dead! Long live the King!" Pat Flaherty yesterday voluntarily walked the gangplank of the Ocean Park baseball park, and Ralph Reeve, a prominent lawyer, graduate of Dartmouth and a former member of the Lynn association and manager of the Richmond club in the Virginia State league, was elected skipper to guide the craft over turbulent seas of local baseball thought.

"I will make no drastic changes until I know what is really doing. I haven't decided about playing. I do not anticipate any trouble with either the players or directors. I am to take full charge for this is the only condition under which I would ever consent to assume the management," said Reeve calmly to the Telegram.

Last night Patrick J. Flaherty came back to Lynn from the office of President Lammie of the Boston Red Sox, where he concluded the deal for "Squint" George Wilson. Wilson is expected to reach Lynn and settle terms with President Fraser. The directors left this matter entirely with Mr. Fraser.

While seated in the Seymour hotel last night the telephone kept up an almost incessant jingle until midnight with messages for Flaherty. Next Clerk Harry Thornett, who is becoming more and more popular, was phoned. These calls were of a sympathetic nature from fans who believe that Patrick, who is driven out by the directors, and they attribute to the popularity of the "Squint" George Wilson.

Flaherty had this to say: "I am going to hang around here for a few days and go fishing. You can tell the public for me that the directors are a bunch of good fellows. Pres. Fraser is one of the best in the world to work for. I wish him luck and also Ralph Reeve, whom I have always heard is a 'fiver'."

Around the city are two factions springing up. One side favors the directors and the other Flaherty, as would be expected. Ralph Reeve, a well known of American gentleman, who has made his way through college without an exception by his own good set of brains, honesty and ability to grasp game fortune by the hand when this generally disguised stranger knocks, must stand between two warring factions in Greater Lynn faction for his task is mighty as those who have handled a ball club fully realize. But Reeve is a hustler and he has a happy disposition that wins friends. The directors probably could never have made a hustler selection under the existing conditions.

As a rule, the worst move that can be made by a baseball club owner is to change managers during the season. The players are bound to take sides.

no matter how smoothly the situation appears to have been glided over. Flaherty undoubtedly had fast friends among the players on the Lynn club who were very sorry to see him go. In spite of the statement made by the former manager to the effect that he was treated "white" by President Fraser and the other directors, these player friends of Flaherty are likely to harbor a feeling that Patsy did not receive a fair show with the club and this feeling may affect their playing.

Lowell, after its 11 inning defeat at the hands of Lawrence Tuesday and the loss of Wednesday's game to the tallenders, was particularly anxious to annex both games yesterday afternoon. "Texas" Lohman was out to make a record for himself. The big southerner has been given a long rest in expectation of his work yesterday and looked "fit."

The day was very sultry and the players on both clubs were affected by the humidity to a great extent.

First Inning
Lohman forced Porter to hit to Dee and the Lynn speedy outfielder found the ball awaiting him at first. O'Brien lifted a fly to O'Brien in right center. Moulton smashed a fast grounder at Lohman. The ball bounded off Lohman's glove toward Dee and "Shorty" made a nice play when he threw to Kelly, making Lynn's second baseman. No runs, no hits, no errors.

Bates stuck two strikes over to Dee. "Shorty" did not take his bat from his shoulder. Bates struck Dee out with a slow curve. DeGroot was out at first when he hit a slow grounder toward first base which Bates fielded. O'Brien died at first when he hit to Sheehan at third, his grounder taking an obliging bound. No runs, no hits, no errors.

Second Inning
Lohman got Murphy on strikes and Wacob tagged the batter after dropping the third one. Courtney got the first hit of the game, a single between Kelly and Cargio, which went into right field. Sheehan sent a fly out to O'Brien at center. O'Brien missed the ball and Courtney attempted to make third. O'Brien, to Dee to Burke nailed the Lynn first sacker at the hot station, but Sheehan went to second. Fahy smashed a savage single through Burke's legs left field, scoring Sheehan on the game's first tally. Burke made a fine stop of Cunningham's bad bounding grounder and settled him at first. One run, two hits, one error.

Stimpson was out when he sent up a hot fly to O'Brien in right center. Burke was a patient waiter and worked it down to first base without hindrance from anyone. On the hit and run signal, Cargio smashed a single into left field which Porter allowed to get by him. Burke went around the sacks and tied the score, while Cargio went to second. Umpire Black called a strike on Kelly which drew down upon his head the wrath of the fans. Kelly singled through Courtney into right field and Cargio came home. Kelly ran over first base and was caught on his way to second. Wacob lifted to Fahy. Two runs, two hits, one error.

Third Inning
Lohman lost control and passed Bates, the first Lynn batter up in the third. Bates was caught off first on Wacob's quick snap to Kelly. "Felix" threw traveled down to first like a rifle shot. Kelly took Porter's fly between first and second. O'Brien was on the job in that direction. No runs, no hits, no errors.

Lohman waited Bates for a free pass. Murphy made a nice catch of Dee's foul fly behind the plate. DeGroot took three vicious swings at the ball but failed to connect. O'Brien singled to right and Lohman by fast springing made third on Cunningham's attempt to get O'Brien. Stimpson came through with a much needed hit, scoring Lohman and O'Brien. The latter slid completely over the plate and hasn't touched it yet. Catcher Murphy's back was toward the player and he did not notice the fact. Stimpson went to second on the throw to the plate. Burke closed the inning with a strike-out. Two runs, two hits, no errors.

Score: Lowell 4, Lynn 1.

Fourth Inning
Wacob made easy work of Moulton's high foul fly. Lohman made a neat pick-up of Murphy's grounder to the box. Lohman struck out Courtney. No runs, no hits, no errors.

"Heinie" Wagner and "Babe" Leonard of the Red Sox entered the grandstand in the fourth inning. The two big leaguers were sent up by Manager "Bill" Carrigan for the purpose of looking over "Texas" Lohman and also Capt. "Billy" Burke. Cargio slammed the ball to center, although Bates tried to knock it down. O'Brien was "chick's" limit on the throw. Kelly attempted to bunt and placed a pop fly in Sheehan's hands. Wacob also slid to Sheehan. Lohman fled to Porter. No runs, one hit, no errors.

Fifth Inning
Dee grabbed Sheehan's grounder and shot it over to Kelly for a put-out. Fahy singled to left for the second time. Lohman struck out Cunningham. Bates hit a slow grounder to Burke. Burke fielded the ball perfectly but the sphere slipped out of his hand as he was going to make the peg to first. Bates was safe at first and Fahy went to second. The best that Porter could do, however, was to send up a fly to O'Brien. No runs, one hit, one error.

Porter took Dee's fly in deep left. Fahy ran into short left and caught DeGroot's short fly. O'Brien was awarded a ticket to the first station on account of Bates' wildness. O'Brien had second base stolen but slid over the bag and Moulton had the ball on him nicely. No runs, no hits, no errors.

Sixth Inning
O'Brien got a freak hit when he slammed a hard grounder toward Lohman. The latter deflected the ball toward Burke and O'Brien was on. Moulton hit to Dee; Dee slammed the ball to Cargio and it bounded out of "Chick's" hand with plenty of time to make the play at second had not Dee handcuffed Cargio with his speed. There were two on and nobody down. Murphy singled to left, scoring O'Brien and sending Moulton to second. Courtney laid down a sacrifice bunt, advancing both Moulton and Murphy. Sheehan hit to Lohman. "Texas" heaved to Wacob and Pete ran down Moulton between third and the plate. Murphy went to third. Fahy made his third hit of the game which scored Murphy. Sheehan went to third; Fahy ran to second and when Wacob threw to second, Sheehan started for home but Dee's throw to Wacob nailed him at the plate in spite of his attempt to roll over the Lowell catcher. Two runs, three hits, one error.

Fahy's throw of Stimpson's grounder nipped the runner at first. Burke drew his second pass of the game but was out a moment later when he tried to steal second. The decision was a close one. Cargio fled to Porter in deep left. No runs, no hits, no errors.

Seventh Inning
Cunningham hit to Cargio and was thrown out at first. O'Brien gathered in Bates' fly to deep right center. Lohman stopped Porter's grounder with his gloved hand and threw the runner out at first. No runs, no hits, no errors.

Kelly beat out an infield hit to Fahy. The Lynn short stop did mightily well to get in front of the ball. The umpire called Wacob out on strikes; the last one, not even being close. Lohman slammed a single into center. Kelly going to second. Dee fled out to O'Brien in left center. DeGroot grounded to Bates and was out at first. No runs, two hits, no errors.

Eighth Inning
O'Brien got his second infield hit when he bounced a fast grounder off Lohman's shins. Moulton drove a double to left. O'Brien scored by fast springing. Murphy fled to Stimpson. Courtney fled to DeGroot. In short right, Sheehan hit a grounder near second base on which Cargio made a great stop and peg. Black ruled the runner out although the decision was questionable. One run, two hits, no errors.

O'Brien finally walked, although the umpire called a very weird strike on him. Stimpson sacrificed O'Brien to second. Burke responded to the entreaties of the crowd and sparked a single into left, scoring O'Brien. On the hit and run play, Cargio put a fly into Cunningham's glove in short right and Cunningham's throw to Courtney nailed Burke before he could get back to the bag. One run, one hit, no errors.

Ninth Inning
Stimpson made a swell catch of Fahy's fly near the left field fence. Flaherty went in to hit for Cunningham and got a lucky double in left. Flaherty's double was due to Dee running into Stimpson's territory. Harrington went to bat for Bates. He singled to left and when the ball went by Stimpson took second, Cunningham scoring. Reeve, Lynn's new manager, went in to run for Harrington. Porter fled to O'Brien. O'Brien fled to Stimpson and Lowell went to bat with the sacrifice. One run, two hits, one error.

Dedrick went in to pitch for Lynn and Manager Reeve went to right field. Kelly hit along the first base line. Courtney fielded the ball, Dedrick covered the bag and just got Kelly on the closest play of the game. Weaver hit for Wacob, struck out. Dedrick took Lohman's line drive. No runs, no hits, no errors.

Tenth Inning
Greenhalge went in to catch in place of Wacob. Stimpson made a nice catch of Moulton's fly near the foul line. Murphy went out, Dee to Kelly, on his grounder. Stimpson also took Courtney's fly. No runs, no hits, no errors.

Dee sent a line drive into Fahy's hands. DeGroot singled into center and then stole second. Dedrick walked O'Brien. Stimpson was safe when he hit a slow roller to Fahy. Fahy fumbled the ball, but Stimpson would have been safe, anyway, and the bases were full. Burke singled over Dedrick's head, bringing in the winning run.

COM. MORSE'S CHARGES AGAINST SUPT. PUTNAMHearing on Order of Removal Resumed Today — Purchasing
facturing Co., First Witness

The hearing of Lowell F. Putnam, superintendent of streets, on charges for his removal from office brought by Charles J. Morse, commissioner of streets and highways, was resumed in the aldermanic chamber at city hall this forenoon. The hearing was begun on Wednesday of this week and was continued to today though Mayor Murphy in the beginning, believed it could be disposed of in one session.

Mr. Putnam was examined by counsel on both sides on Wednesday and other witnesses were heard, including Hon. John F. Meahan, former mayor. Mr. Putnam, however, was the principal witness, and it was generally conceded that his examination did not prove much against him, so far, at least, as the sale of old paving blocks was concerned. It being brought out that the sale was effected with the approval of the then mayor, Hon. John F. Meahan; Peter A. Mackenzie, then purchasing agent, and William W. Duncan, then city solicitor.

In his recommendations for the removal of Mr. Putnam, Commissioner Morse claimed that he knowingly and without right sold $25,000 worth of blocks to the Boston & Northern street railway company and caused the payment therefor to be diverted from the general treasury to the credit of the appropriation of the street department. Included in his reasons for the removal of Mr. Putnam, Morse states that he has not the necessary confidence in and reliance upon the judgment and ability of Mr. Putnam and that he should be removed for the good of the public service.

There was a big crowd of spectators on hand when Mayor Murphy declared the hearing open at 10:30 o'clock. The first witness called was Bertrand Currier, purchasing agent for the Merrimack Manufacturing Co.

He produced bills for stones and paving blocks purchased by his company, and checks given out by the company.

He said they were delivered in 1910-11 and stated there were no others, as far as he knew.

"Do you know of any time of receiving 24,000 and some odd blocks?" "None other than are represented here."

"What is the total amount of blocks received?" asked Mr. Hennessy. "24,972," was the reply.

Mr. Dunbar cross-examined the witness, asking him the dates of the checks and he said: Dec. 30, 1910, for 6,000 second-hand paving blocks, $135. The check is dated Jan. 23, 1911, and was received by the city treasurer.

"Is Putnam's name on the check or bill?" "No, sir."

The next bill was Jan. 1, 1913, for 4572 second-hand paving blocks, the amount paid being $131.51. Payment was made Feb. 13, 1913.

The next one was for 15,100 second-hand blocks to the amount of $407.70, the bill being dated Sept. 16, 1911.

Supt. Lees Called

Mr. Thomas Lees, of the Bay State Street Railway, was then called and he stated he was general superintendent of the Boston & Northern Street Railway Co. in 1910. He said in May, 1910, when the company decided to build the West Centralville route they decided to use old rails and also second-hand paving blocks if they could be secured. "I spoke to Supt. Putnam, who seemed willing. I spoke to Engineer Bowers, who said blocks and rails could be used. I then informed Mr. Putnam I would purchase second-hand blocks and both of us agreed on the price, $27 per thousand. Mr. Putnam came to my office and we agreed to pay in material. We then went to the purchasing agent's office, where the proposition was outlined. Later the mayor and city solicitor were called upon and they agreed to the proposition, the payment to be made with crushed stones or other material. I heard nothing more from the city until December."

"Up to that time you had never received a bill from the company?" "No."

"What was the occasion of Putnam's visit to your office, as mentioned by you?"

"He brought in bills, some of which were approved by the purchasing agent and some by him."

"You paid bills approved by the purchasing agent and by Mr. Putnam?" "Yes, to the amount of $2195.43 and $81.44 in cash."

"These blocks were used by your company to pave between tracks?" "Yes."

"Where did you use them?" "Lilley avenue and Hildreth street."

"Did you pave from Parker to Jennings in 1912?" "Yes, this being another lot of 50,000 blocks."

"60,000 were laid on Lilley avenue?" "Yes."

"Did you lay blocks anywhere else?" "From Pawtucket to Baldwin street on Middlesex street."

"Did you lay some on Middlesex street between Wilder street and the city line?" "Yes, some."

"In 1911 on Chelmsford street from Jennings street to the turnout did you lay more blocks?" "We replaced the same paving."

"On Varnum avenue from the turnout to 228, did you lay any?" "I don't recall any work being done there."

"Altogether, what is the yardage of the amount of second-hand blocks purchased from city and laid in 1910?" "I cannot give you the yardage but in 1910, 83,825 blocks were purchased from the city and laid, while in 1911 59,669 blocks were purchased and laid."

"Mr. Lees was then asked to produce the receipts for the transactions and he did. He said one order of 59,669 blocks was paid in cash."

"Mr. Dunbar: 'The payment by the street company was in compliance with an agreement made by Mr. Putnam, the mayor and city solicitor, was it not?'"

"The mayor then informed Mr. Dunbar that he could not have the witness repeat his answer to a previous question, and the question was overruled."

"When the bills were finally paid by your company, they had been approved by the purchasing agent?" said Mr. Dunbar.

Mr. Hennessy objected, saying it was not up to Mr. Lees to say if the bills were approved by the purchasing agent.

The question was allowed and the reply was: "The bill was approved by myself and to the best of my recollection when I approved it, it was as it is today."

"What was the agreement between you and the city officials?" "We were to pay in crushed stones or such material as the city might use."

"Did you have a similar agreement for the blocks used in Jennings street?" "Yes, sir."

"How was this lot paid?" "In cash."

Mr. Dunbar read a letter sent by Mr. Lees to a Boston official dated Jan. 18, 1912, in reference to an agreement for 59,669 blocks at $27 per thousand, and the letter was identified by the witness, who also stated the amount had been paid in cash.

"Do you recall how the balance of $81.44 was paid?" "Yes, in cash."

"Did the company carry out the terms of its agreement?" "Yes."

"So that when those bills were paid the transaction entered into by you and the officials of the city was faithfully gone through?" "Yes."

Andrew J. Welch

Mr. Andrew J. Welch was then called by Mr. Hennessy. He stated he is a paving cutter, having been in the business 26 years. In the employ of the city since 1911. Prior to 1911 he was employed by Frank Mallory and the Boston & Northern Street Railway Co. In 1911 he worked for the Bay State Street Railway Co., working about four weeks for the company, recutting paving on Middlesex street from car barn to Baldwin street.

"At that time the company was laying blocks in Middlesex street?" "Yes."

"At the time you were employed was the city of Lowell delivering blocks there?" "No, the company was."

"Where did they come from?" "City of Lowell, I guess."

"Do you know how many blocks were recut while you were there?" "I can't recall."

"In 1911 you had experience with Mr. Putnam?" "Yes, I had a contract to supply the city with 200,000 recut paving blocks."

"You were employed at the city ledge in 1911?" "Yes, to recut 200,000 blocks."

"Did you cut them?" "Yes."

"While you were there did the Bay State Co. take blocks away?" "Yes, about 300,000. I spoke to Mr. Putnam in 1911 about the Bay State Co. taking blocks out of the yard. I called Mr. Putnam's attention to it and rence Minot, Samuel Rea, Morton F. Plant, DeVar Warner, John T. Pratt, Howard Elliott, James Richards, W. M. Crane, J. T. Hadley and J. H. Hustle as having been directors since 1903 but, as to whether their failure to cause the road to institute a restitution suit has made them liable on account of negligence and violation of fiduciary duty, advised and make no special averment.

The litigation is in the form of an equity action entered by the attorneys as trustees under the will of Otha Bull Vaughan. They own 50 shares of New Haven stock and bring the action "in behalf of themselves and all other stockholders of said corporation who may become parties."

The bill of complaint declares that the defendants on account of breach of directors' duty chiefly through causing New Haven to acquire illegally its Boston & Maine, trolley and steamship properties are bound to pay to the New Haven $122,000,000 withdrawn therefrom wrongfully and for ultra vires and illegal purposes. It is alleged that the losses resulting from these acquisitions approximate $122,000,000 and that under the federal anti-trust act the New Haven is entitled to recover from the defendants threefold that sum, or $366,000,000.

Monopoly Scheme

Among allegations in the suit are the following:

"That about 1904 directors, Rockefeller, Mellon, Brooks, Barney, Skinner, Miller, Brush, Twombly, Taft, Morgan, Sr., Miller and De Var Warner conceived and entered upon a plan to acquire to effect a monopoly of the transportation companies and systems in the New England states; that in execution of this plan they negotiated for the competitive steam and electric railways and steamship lines and that in line with these acquisitions these directors and those associated with them took about $200,000,000 from the New Haven's treasury.

"That of this total approximately $102,000,000 has been expended on street railways as contrasted with only $50,000,000 in value thereof, representing $46,000,000 loss.

"That $24,000,000 of these expenditures were on street railways located chiefly in Massachusetts and Vermont, of which the fair value is $13,000,000, about $30,000,000 on those chiefly in Rhode Island, against $10,000,000 fair value; and about $45,000,000 on those chiefly in Connecticut and New York, against $23,000,000 fair value.

"About May, 1907, defendants acquired with cash or its equivalent belonging to the New Haven from and through defendants Ledyard and Pratt who were at the time directors of the defendants and as its Boston & Maine, which was operating a steam road competitive in certain territory with the New Haven, especially in respect to traffic with western states. A total expenditure of about $22,000,000 on Boston & Maine by the New Haven has been caused by the defendants and as its Boston & Maine shares are worth not over $10,000,000 it has lost approximately $12,000,000.

"That the New Haven had no charter authority to acquire the properties in question, that their acquisition was prohibited by specific statutory enactment in Massachusetts at least, and also by the Sherman anti-trust act; and that the New Haven did not acquire legal titles for any purposes except to compel return to it of its funds illegally expended in connection therewith.

"That there are claims against defendants for New Haven's political contributions and payment of lobbyists."

Mr. Putnam gave orders to the men not to take any more. In the afternoon and during all night the men of the company were back on the job taking blocks away.

"Do you know of any time in 1911 when the street car company took away recut blocks?" "Yes, I have receipts in my pocket. On Aug. 4, 1911, the company took out 2700 blocks."

"What was the value of those blocks?" "They cost the city $50 a thousand."

"What is a cull?" "A block not fit to be used again, but the city could have 9-inch culls recut and save $1.50 on the 100 after paying the cutters."

"Do you know of anybody else who got blocks from the city?" "Yes, John F. Saunders and Edward Barrett. Blocks were also delivered by city teams to the Merrimack Mfg. Co."

"Who was in charge of the paving blocks at that time?" "I and another party."

"Who counted the blocks?" "I couldn't say if they were ever counted."

"How many blocks were taken by the Merrimack Mfg. Co. in 1911?" "To my best judgment, 40,000."

"In 1911 did you know of anybody who had charge of counting the blocks?" "No, sir."

"Who counted your blocks?" asked the mayor.

"The city's men."

"Did they also count the blocks taken out?" "No, sir."

Mr. Welch Cross-Examined

Mr. Dunbar then cross-examined the witness.

"What is your present position?" "Sort of a boss or second hand."

"What kind of a boss?" "That kind that don't get paid."

"Did you get a raise lately?" "None of your business."

"I don't care," said Mr. Dunbar, "but the council would like to know."

"Yes, last April."

"Who signed your raise?" "Mr. Morse."

"Do you work by contract?" "No, sir, we receive daily wage. We get $4 a day for 40 blocks an hour."

"Who figures your work?" "It is up to the engineers to do it after blocks are laid."

"What was the pay before the raise?" "$3.60 a day."

"Have you any other receipts but the two you produced?" "I have receipts from all who took away blocks while I was in charge."

"The total number of recut blocks delivered while you were there was 40,000?" "Yes."

"What is the fair value of those blocks?" "$175."

Appointment of Receiver, Special Master or Another Official Against Defendant Directors and Directors' Estates Asked in Suit Filed in the Supreme Court—Action Brought by Counsel for Minority Stockholders

BOSTON, July 17.—The appointment of a receiver, special master or other official, to prosecute claims aggregating $306,000,000 against defendant directors and directors' estates of the New York, New Haven & Hartford railroad is asked in a suit filed by the supreme court today. The action is brought by Whipple, Sears & Ogden, representing minority stockholders of the company.

The suit in which the attorneys recently demanded the directors join is designed to force restitution from those responsible of funds alleged to have been illegally expended in building up the New Haven system.

Judge Bailey issued an order of notice returnable next Friday to show cause why a receiver should not be appointed and why an injunction against the disposition of the defendants' stock should not be issued.

List of the Defendants

The defendants, who include various New Haven directors since 1903 and estates of deceased directors, are William Rockefeller, Charles M. Pratt, Lewis Cass Lodge, Jr., John T. Twombly, George Miller, George J. Brush, James S. Henshaw, A. M. Robertson, Frederick F. Brewster, Charles F. Brooks, De Newton Barney, James S. Elton, Henry K. McLaugh, Robert W. Taft, William Skinner, Charles S. McLean, Alexander Cochran, J. P. Morgan, Edwin Miller estate, J. De Var Warner estate, Amory W. Lawrence estate.

The plaintiffs also name John L. Billard, George F. Baker, T. DeWitt Coyne, Edward Milligan, F. T. Maxwell, Theodore N. Vail, S. W. Winslow, Laurence Minot, Samuel Rea, Morton F. Plant, DeVar Warner, John T. Pratt, Howard Elliott, James Richards, W. M. Crane, J. T. Hadley and J. H. Hustle as having been directors since 1903 but, as to whether their failure to cause the road to institute a restitution suit has made them liable on account of negligence and violation of fiduciary duty, advised and make no special averment.

The litigation is in the form of an equity action entered by the attorneys as trustees under the will of Otha Bull Vaughan. They own 50 shares of New Haven stock and bring the action "in behalf of themselves and all other stockholders of said corporation who may become parties."

The bill of complaint declares that the defendants on account of breach of directors' duty chiefly through causing New Haven to acquire illegally its Boston & Maine, trolley and steamship properties are bound to pay to the New Haven $122,000,000 withdrawn therefrom wrongfully and for ultra vires and illegal purposes. It is alleged that the losses resulting from these acquisitions approximate $122,000,000 and that under the federal anti-trust act the New Haven is entitled to recover from the defendants threefold that sum, or $366,000,000.

Monopoly Scheme

Among allegations in the suit are the following:

"That about 1904 directors, Rockefeller, Mellon, Brooks, Barney, Skinner, Miller, Brush, Twombly, Taft, Morgan, Sr., Miller and De Var Warner conceived and entered upon a plan to acquire to effect a monopoly of the transportation companies and systems in the New England states; that in execution of this plan they negotiated for the competitive steam and electric railways and steamship lines and that in line with these acquisitions these directors and those associated with them took about $200,000,000 from the New Haven's treasury.

"That of this total approximately $102,000,000 has been expended on street railways as contrasted with only $50,000,000 in value thereof, representing $46,000,000 loss.

"That $24,000,000 of these expenditures were on street railways located chiefly in Massachusetts and Vermont, of which the fair value is $13,000,000, about $30,000,000 on those chiefly in Rhode Island, against $10,000,000 fair value; and about $45,000,000 on those chiefly in Connecticut and New York, against $23,000,000 fair value.

"About May, 1907, defendants acquired with cash or its equivalent belonging to the New Haven from and through defendants Ledyard and Pratt who were at the time directors of the defendants and as its Boston & Maine, which was operating a steam road competitive in certain territory with the New Haven, especially in respect to traffic with western states. A total expenditure of about $22,000,000 on Boston & Maine by the New Haven has been caused by the defendants and as its Boston & Maine shares are worth not over $10,000,000 it has lost approximately $12,000,000.

"That the New Haven had no charter authority to acquire the properties in question, that their acquisition was prohibited by specific statutory enactment in Massachusetts at least, and also by the Sherman anti-trust act; and that the New Haven did not acquire legal titles for any purposes except to compel return to it of its funds illegally expended in connection therewith.

"That there are claims against defendants for New Haven's political contributions and payment of lobbyists."

Mr. Putnam gave orders to the men not to take any more. In the afternoon and during all night the men of the company were back on the job taking blocks away.

"Do you know of any time in 1911 when the street car company took away recut blocks?" "Yes, I have receipts in my pocket. On Aug. 4, 1911, the company took out 2700 blocks."

"What was the value of those blocks?" "They cost the city $50 a thousand."

A letter was received from Rochester, N. Y., in the Freeport (N. Y.) murder mystery in which the writer said he had killed Mrs. William D. Bailey in Dr. Edwin Carman's office. The picture shows Sheriff Pettit and Dr. Carman talking about the "confession." The sheriff did not place any stock in the letter. Dr. Carman considered it a possible help to the defense of his wife.

POISONED BY THE GRIP

The grip is no respecter of persons. No age or station of life is exempt from it. The grip is not a fatal disease but it leaves its victim in such a debilitated condition that one of our foremost medical writers has been led to say, "It is astonishing the number of people who have been crippled in health for years after an attack." It is a common thing to hear people date various ailments from an attack of grip.

The condition of those who have had the grip is one that calls for a tonic for the blood. Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are specially adapted to meet this need as they purify and enrich the blood, tone up the nerves and give vigor, strength and health to the debilitated system.

"The grip left me without any vitality whatever," says one who has found relief, "and I lost all appetite and ambition. I was reduced in weight and was frequently confined to bed for two days or more. My friends thought I was going into consumption. I owe my recovery to Dr. Williams' Pink Pills and cheerfully recommend them." The details of this case and a chapter on the proper treatment of the grip and its after-effects will be found in the booklet "Building Up the Blood" which will be sent free on request by the Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Schenectady, N. Y.

LOWELL MEN ARRESTED

CHARGED WITH BREAKING INTO CAFE IN LEBANON, N. H.—LOCAL POLICE WILL INVESTIGATE

Six Lowell men are now under arrest at Lebanon, N. H., according to a report received here, for breaking and entering the People's Cafe early Wednesday morning. When arrested, the men gave the following names: Louis Pentol, Arthur Torner, Edmond Frechette, John Terrier, Edward Lambert and Frank Lendre.

The sextet deny that they are guilty of the offense but they were seen leaving the cafe by a man who conducted a store next door. The man was not suspicious at first and did not report the matter to the police until an hour later, when they were rounded up in another part of the city.

The local police believe that the men arrested in Lebanon might have been implicated in the many thefts which have occurred in this city recently but as yet the prisoners have not been connected with them.

TO SEND $100,000. TO IRELAND

HON. MICHAEL J. RYAN Who Presided

(Special to The Sun)
NEW YORK, July 16.—At 6 o'clock this afternoon the most enthusiastic meeting ever held on this continent in the interest of Ireland came to an end at the Knickerbocker hotel. It was a meeting of the executive committee of the United Irish League of America and Canada, and the delegates represented states as far west as Illinois and Ohio, and south as far as Washington, D. C., while delegates from Montreal and Ontario came to the front with large contributions. The thing that stirred the friends of Ireland was the announcement that the home rule bill was in jeopardy, that the Irish nation was to be dismembered so as to exclude Ulster. The delegates made clear their sentiments in regard to these proposed concessions to Ulster and expressed a willingness to fight the question of Ireland's independence by an appeal to arms rather than allow any betrayal of the cause at the 11th hour.

Hon. Michael J. Ryan presided and read the appeal of Mr. Redmond to equip and sustain the Irish volunteers, not only to defend the lives and the property of Irish nationalists, but if necessary in case of emergency to fight for Ireland's right to legislative independence. At a preliminary meeting held Wednesday night Messrs. Ryan, Thomas B. Fitzpatrick and Michael J. Jordan were appointed a committee to draft an appeal to the friends of Ireland. This was read and adopted as appended.

Humphrey O'Sullivan Applauded
When subscriptions were called for, Mr. Humphrey O'Sullivan gave his views of the situation, having recently visited Ireland and contributed $500 to the cause. He won great applause when he handed in his check for $500 additional. Then the contributions were hurried at the chairman as fast as he could announce them, many being personal donations and the remainder pledges of branches of the United Irish League. Philadelphia at a recent meeting subscribed $2000, and the amount was increased today.

$100,000 Subscribed
Treasurer Fitzpatrick read the report of the funds received for the past two years, showing that Massachusetts leads with over $12,000; Pennsylvania next with $15,000, and New York third with over $18,000. This started the rivalry of the three states and the result was that when the meeting closed the sum of $100,000 was subscribed. This included a pledge of $1000 from Lowell, if needed.

When the matter of settling where the next convention should be held, came up, a motion was offered that it should go to Philadelphia. Humphrey

United Irish League Holds Enthusiastic Meeting in New York

HUMPHREY O'SULLIVAN Contributed $500 to Cause

O'Sullivan moved it should go to Lowell, saying he would pay all the local expenses.

Edward J. Gallagher said Lowell had claims to recognition inasmuch as it was in Lowell that the first Land League in America was started, and Lowell had contributed more than any other city in Massachusetts outside Boston. There was a strong plea made for Philadelphia, the home of President Ryan, and Mr. O'Sullivan seeing the sentiment in favor of that city, withdrew his motion. The date of the convention will depend upon Mr. Redmond's convenience but it will probably be in September.

The appeal issued to the friends of Ireland was as follows:

To the Friends of Ireland in the United States:

Under the leadership of John E. Redmond, the centuries old struggle of the people of Ireland for national self-government is on the eve of victory. The battle has been won by constitutional means, and within the limits even of English law. It has been a contest of intellect for justice. In the train of Irish progress and as a result of Irish agitation, there has come an awakening of the people of Great Britain with the resultant legislation for their betterment and forecasting of the era of democracy triumphant. In England, Scotland and Wales the old usages of race and creed skillfully fomented by official power and privilege are passing away and men like

Asquith and Birrell and Churchill and Morley, as Gladstone in another day, have joined hands with Ireland.

To secure the defeat of the Liberal party and thus restore the power of an hereditary house of lords with its veto upon beneficent legislation, the wealth of Tory England has seized upon the prejudices of a small portion of Ireland and by appeals to all the baser passions of men, has sought to fan into new flame the fires of irreligious hates.

Through its agencies, it has sought to poison the wells of public information. Cablegrams foretelling civil war, forecasts of riots, false and fraudulent statistics, misleading statements about the wealth, resources and population of Ulster, distorted stories of reception and welcomes to the nearly 70-year-old lawyer chieftain of the Orange forces, make up the regular news inflicted upon the American public. We assert that five-sixths of the people of Ireland are in favor of home rule; we assert that the majority of the people of Ulster are in favor of home rule. Both statements are susceptible of mathematical demonstration for the official parliamentary representation from the whole of Ireland is made up of 85 home rulers to 16 unionists, and from the province of Ulster, there come 17 home rulers to 16 Tories, every county

Francisco Carbajal Advises the United States That He is Ready to Resign — Era of Bloodshed at End

WASHINGTON, July 17.—Administration officials saw peace looming today on the horizon of Mexican politics. Francisco Carbajal's informal statement to the Washington government that he intended to retire in favor of Carranza, constitutionalist chief, and Carranza's announcement that he was willing to negotiate with the federalists for peaceful transfer for power in Mexico City was regarded as practical assurance that the era of bloodshed was at an end in the southern republic.

The road remaining to be cleared, however, for negotiation between the two Mexican factions. Carbajal, Huerta's successor, seeks a proclamation of amnesty for the forces which fought against the northern armies. Members of the revolutionary junta in Washington expressed doubt whether Carranza would be willing to grant it. They took the position that persons who turned against Madero should be compelled to face court trials. By that means, they contended, potential possibilities of counter uprisings would be eliminated.

The crux of the situation appeared to hang on the extent of the quarter that Carranza might be willing to grant his fallen foes.

Stumbling Blocks Swept Aside

That all stumbling blocks would be swept aside, however, for the peaceful entry of Carranza into the Mexican capital was the belief generally expressed.

Fears expressed over the attitude that Carranza might be willing to grant his fallen foes.

THE BON MARCHE

Annual Outing at Nantasket Beach Yesterday Was Best Ever

Nantasket beach was the destination of the Bon Marche clerks yesterday. Nearly 100 clerks assembled at the North station where three special cars were awaiting their arrival, and at 6 o'clock they steamed off for Boston, where they took the Elevated for

BIGELOW CARPET

Transfer Soon to be Completed—Henry P. Fairbanks to Retire

The following article relative to the Bigelow Carpet Co. deal, for the transfer of control, is from the Boston Transcript:

Statements made in the carpet and rug trade here due to the effect that the Bigelow Carpet Co. deal, for the transfer of control, has been practically completed. It is also stated that the company's stock has been in control of over 10 per cent. of the stock for some time, the stock being on deposit with the Second National bank of Boston. This was for the purpose of making the offer of a figure equivalent to $150 a share for the stock of the company. The offer was made by the Bigelow Carpet Co. and E. S. Hildreth & Co., the bankers interested in the purchase of the Bigelow Carpet Co. At the request of the bankers the offer for deposit of remaining Bigelow stock has been extended to Friday

NOTTER BUCKHORN, M'CAHEY UP

The recent race meets in the east, especially at the Belmont, Aqueduct and Empire City tracks, have developed a duel between Notter and McCahey for the crown of American jockey king. So far McCahey has the edge, having brought home more winners and being credited with better head work. Notter has the reputation of being the hardest finisher in the country, while his rival is less sensational, but much steadier all the way.

of this week, July 11. From several quarters of the market here, statements were forthcoming to the effect that, while the Hartford Carpet Co. will practically assume control of the Bigelow Carpet Co.'s business, the concern will be run as two separate and distinct companies. It is stated that the Bigelow Co. will be operated very much as a department of the Hartford Co. It is also said that Henry P. Fairbanks, for a number of years New York selling agent and representative of the Bigelow Co., will retire to private life, as soon as the present arrangements under way have been completed. When questioned as to his retirement, and what would be done with the Bigelow Co., Mr. Fairbanks said:

"For the past two years I have not been in good health and I purpose retiring and leading the life of a gentleman. So far as the affairs of the company are concerned, the change in control will go through. The business of Boston had had control of 75 per cent. of the stock for some time and it is a question of settling up matters. With regard to the way in which the business will be run, I can only surmise. I believe that the selling agent will be conducted somewhat on the same lines as a department is handled in such houses, for instance, as Frederick Victor & Achelis. The goods will be sold separately from those of the Hartford company, which does a large mail-order business, and markets a cheaper grade of goods, and go to a different class of trade. Supervision of the business will probably be looked after by the Hartford company, but the two companies will be run as separate concerns. This is simply my own idea of what will be done and is not official."

At the New York headquarters of the Hartford Carpet Co. yesterday, H. P. Perkins, president of the company was engaged in an important conference, and refused to make any statement, as did other members of the company. There appears to be a very general idea in the trade that the consolidation of carpet mills will not be confined to the Hartford and Bigelow plants, but will go still further. Earlier reports of a possible working agreement between the Alex Smith & Sons Carpet Co. and the Hartford company interests has been revived, and is coming in for considerable comment.

BLAMED FOR COLLISION

BRITISH ADMIRALTY COURT FINDS STEAMER INCHMORE RESPONSIBLE FOR WRECK

LONDON, July 17.—The British admiralty court today found the British steamer Inchmore responsible for the serious collision on June 17 with the North German Lloyd steamship Kaiser Wilhelm II. Just after the liner had left Southampton for Cherbourg and New York.

Sir Baggave Dean, the judge in giving his decision said he found the Inchmore had made a mistake honestly in giving a signal that she had stopped when as a matter of fact she had not done so. This, he said, had misled those on board the Kaiser Wilhelm II. and had caused the collision which occurred in a thick fog and resulted in considerable damage to the German vessel.

—LOWELL—

A QUARTER CENTURY AGO

Yesterday the grocers of Lowell closed up their establishments and held an outing. Nowadays they call them outings, but 25 years ago the word hadn't come into popular use and the good old fashioned word "picnic" was employed for such events. Elsewhere in The Sun you'll read about yesterday's affair; here's what the grocers did a quarter of a century ago.

Nearly all the grocery and provision shops in the city closed at ten o'clock Wednesday morning so that the proprietors, clerks and their friends might attend the eighth annual picnic of these trades. The picnic grounds were at Tyngs Island and nearly 5000 people enjoyably spent the day there. The weather was excellent and the event compared favorably in all respects with the previous picnics. A live and enthusiastic committee carried out the day's program and looked after the comfort of the day's special guests. All the steamboats on the river had been engaged besides numerous other conveyances. The guests arrived at the island at noon and were tendered a complimentary banquet. The guests were Benjamin Johnson and A. C. Dowse, of the New England Grocers' C. S. Ober and C. W. Watson of the Grocers' Gazette; J. H. Ziffelbach, F. H. Dickinson, T. L. Perkins, F. O. Wheeler and Joseph Edwards of Boston; Harry Ray of Haverhill; Mayor Palmer and members of the local city government. Many of the gentlemen were accompanied by their wives and daughters. An excellent program of sports was given, the winners being as follows: High jump, W. Foley; running race, W. Foley; boys' race, Andrew Gray; merchants' race, Andrew Clark, Frank Hanchett;

Henry Farrell, F. Buckle, C. Buxton, took prizes; fat men's race, Jesse Adams; potato race, James Conroy; three-legged race, Halloran and McCluskey; swimming match, William Luby; two-mile race, Hugh Kieren and William Salmon. The baseball game between the Boston and Lowell grocers' clerks was won by the former, 16 to 6. The prizes were cash and groceries contributed by the merchants. The North Chelmsford band and an orchestra furnished music. The great gathering of people had a delightful time. For many years the annual outing of the "Grocers and Butchers" was one of the most popular midsummer events in Lowell.

Old Tyngs Island

In the old days all picnics of any consequence were held at Tyngs Island which was then owned and managed by Charles F. Keyes, now the well-known auctioneer. In the summer Charles had things going lively at the island, while in the cold weather he conducted the old Bijou theatre, Merrimack street, opposite city hall, when it was a first class vaudeville theatre. Mr. Keyes sold Tyngs Island to Fay Bros. and Hosford, about 25 years ago, and they in turn sold it to the old Country club which at that time had not yet consolidated with the present club. Only once while Mr. Keyes had the management of the island did the picnickers "put it over on him" and that was on the occasion of the picnic of the Seaside Associates, a bunch of rough-necks, who had quarters in Dover street, Boston, near the South Boston line, and who had among their membership a number of prominent scrapers, gamblers and all round athletes; but principally scrapers, and they could scrap, too. Charlie didn't know what kind of a bunch the Seaside were until they arrived on the grounds, and then he wished he had never seen them. But for Joe Lannon, the heavyweight pugilist, former-Superintendent Bill Moffatt might not have been drawing a pension today, while the late Sgt. Dunlavey might never have risen above the ranks. It was either on Memorial day or the 17th of June, and a few years more than a quarter of a century ago. In the morning, before the mob entrained for Lowell, a street parade took place in So. Boston with a band and the invited guests in carriages. A fine husky lot of Irish wrechers they were, as they marched up West Fourth street to D, to Broadway and thence down Broadway out of South Boston to the old Boston & Lowell station. As they walked along Broadway the spectators along the sidewalks shook their heads and remarked, "There'll be something doing wherever that bunch is going."

The guests of honor were John L. Sullivan, champion of the world, and Joe Lannon, South Boston's heavyweight who challenged any man in the world to a fight. Sullivan and Joe Lannon fought a 25-round draw with Jake Kilrain and picked Joe Ashton of Providence, both of whom were considered contenders for John L.'s title. Sullivan did not go to Lowell with the crowd, but fortunately for the Lowell police, Joe Lannon did. After things had got going real well at the island, a fight broke out between a bunch from South Boston and another composed of their hated rivals from the South Cove. Manager Keyes and his assistants attempted to quell the disturbance, but they didn't have a burglar's chance. Mr. Keyes then sent word into Lowell and up came "Big Bill" Moffatt, Officer Jim Dunlavey and others. The news that the police were coming was met with glad acclaim by the scrapers, not in the interest of peace, however, but because one of the favorite pastimes of the "boys" from these localities in the old days, was kicking police officers. "Big Bill" sailed right into the gang and as he swung on the fellow with the fence rail just in time to save Dunlavey, and down went the guy and the fence rail for the count. Then Joe waded into the mob that was attacking Moffatt and every one of the fellows who had gathered around and stayed down. When the smoke of battle had cleared away the ground was strewn with the belligerents, who upon coming to, were greatly relieved to learn that it was Joe Lannon's assistant, rather than a policeman, that had laid them low. For there was some little honor in being knocked out by a heavyweight scraper, whereas being kicked by a common policeman would have meant lasting disgrace. Several arrests were made, and Joe Lannon was offered the position as honorary member of the police force, which he declined with thanks, and ever after Charlie Keyes had to know the pedigrees of all applicants for Tyngs Island before they were allowed the privileges of the grounds.

The Old Bijou Theatre

Speaking of Charlie Keyes as an entertainment promoter, would you ever believe that just about 25 years ago Mr. Keyes "canned" the afterward celebrated Rogers Brothers, Max and Gus, because their performance was too tough, even for a Lowell audience? Such is the fact. The Rogers Brothers, who were then doing a little Dutch turn of talking soft talk with their faces close together were engaged by Mr. Keyes for a week's turn at the Bijou. "Rotten" was the unanimous verdict of the gallery on the occasion of their first appearance. But Charlie was charitable and he let them go a couple of days, when finally he couldn't stand it himself, and he applied "the hook" to them. Subsequently you have had to pay two samboes for an orchestra seat to see the same Rogers Brothers.

There were performers at that old Bijou theatre who subsequently went to the top of their profession and acquired fame and fortune. A welcome quartet of entertainers at the old Bijou were the four Cohans, Mr. and Mrs. Jerry, George and Josie. George is now one of the best known and most successful playwrights and theatrical managers in the theatrical world. In those days Mr. and Mrs. Jerry, father and mother of George and Josie, did an Irish turn, while George and Josie who were only kiddos, were singers and dancers and all four worked together. During one of their visits to Lowell Mrs. Cohan became quite ill and the family cancelled their engagements and remained in Lowell quite a long time, residing, if I remember rightly, in Gorham street, about opposite St. John's church.

Josie Cohan is now Mrs. Fred Nitto, her husband being a well known actor and lecturer. Mr. and Mrs. Jerry are enjoying a life of luxurious ease, while George is in the heyday of his fame, and more power to him.

George Leslie, the famous Irish comedian of recent years, was a regular performer at the old Bijou, who always made good, as were Goldie and St. Clair who afterward became two of the leading vaudevillians of Europe. In those days clog dancing was at the height of its popularity, and Manager Keyes always getting the best, introduced to Lowell audiences the team of Barbour and Winstanley. The latter came from England and afterward became the world's most famous clog dancer. He has been seen at one of the local theatres after he had gone blind. He was led on and off the stage by an attendant, but the oldtime grace and precision was still there. His blindness made traveling difficult while of late years theatregoers lost all interest in clog dancing, and the last I heard of

NOW ARE THE DAYS CHILDREN NEED CARE

Summer Heat Dangerous to Little Ones Whose Bowels Are Neglected

A mother cannot do better for her children than to teach them from their earliest days regularly of the bowels. Regularity can be promoted without the child knowing it by watching its food and by so varying the food that all the elements of digestion are used, when nature will do the rest. The future health of the child depends upon this.

But try as you will there are times when the little one will become constipated and illious. In hot weather immediate attention is necessary, as many serious diseases result from stuffed-up bowels. Don't give salts or cathartics or purgatives as they are too harsh, but give a gentle, pleasant-tasting bowel stimulant like Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin. It has been used by two children of this as well as a former generation, and thousands of families are proud to speak well of it, among whom we can mention Mrs. Louise Reynolds, 909 Jackson St., Lyndhurst, Va., who is glad to recommend it, and Mr. Chas. W. Allen, Mayor, Tex., who writes that he often felt 100 years old, but feels younger now than his years.

Every druggist sells Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin, and the price is only fifty cents and one dollar a large bottle. It will cure constipation and biliousness in young or old, break up a cold and stop summer diarrhoea by ridding the bowels of the poisons and germs that cause the trouble. It is a grand family laxative, with valuable tonic properties.

Families wishing to try a free sample bottle can obtain it postpaid, by addressing Dr. W. B. Caldwell, 413 Washington St., Monticello, Ill.

- 4—Famous people wear them. (Julian Ellinge) (Red Sox) (Elsie Janis), Etc.
- 5—Our Shoe has cured Flat-Foot, Varicose Veins, Bunions, Weak Ankles. One girl discarded crutches and plates.

- 7—They make deformed feet normal and keep good feet healthy.

ACTUAL CURE MADE BY GROUND GRIPPER SHOES

E. W. BURT & CO., Inc. Makers and Patentees

This cure was sent to us by one of our leading agents and is authentic.

J. L. CHALIFOUX CO.
COR. MERRIMACK & CENTRAL ST.

In so-called "flat-foot," plates of steel or other material are given, which serve as mechanical braces, which give a push or lift to neutralize a defect. Such a measure must be inefficient, not only giving no cure, but at best only permanent dependence—one error neutralizing another for a time. Those who get well after the use of such plates do so because the cause of the foot collapsing is temporary and disappears. All other cases are permanently enslaved.

A tilted or twisted plate does not tilt or twist the foot; but on account of its arbitrary fixity only makes the foot try continuously to get away from it, and causes painful spasms. This leads to the question—

Why do some cases get better wearing plates?

Because, in certain cases, the feet work so hard to get away from the plates that they develop muscular power and strengthen ligaments. To get a result by this method, however, is indirect and illogical. There is much work and discomfort with little result.

Casts are taken of so-called "flat-foot." Casts impress the sufferer. They have no real bearing on the treatment. Proper walking, the strengthening of the feet, the restoration of foot and balance are accomplished alone by proper shoeing, proper muscular stimulation and mental direction. Right shoeing allows one to walk rightly—it does not make one walk rightly.

Proper walking is the proper exercise for all the waking hours. Proper walking will restore the stiffened feet and every minute of proper walking helps the feet to become soft and flexible as they were in childhood. Plates and stiff shoes are made because of the belief that the foot has a fixed arch, whereas the truth is that the foot has the power of arching. The corrective arch does not restore arching, but only holds up the bones like a crutch.

LAKEVIEW PARK
Water sports of all kinds are scheduled for Lakeview Park next week. There will be fancy swimming and diving, long distance swimming races, exhibitions of wonderful water walking, water polo and various other "stunts" that will make the week an attractive one. One of the feature attractions engaged are two young women, who will be seen in fancy diving. Attractive in both form and feature, these young women are also said to be athletic to a degree, and are long distance swimmers of more than ordinary ability. There is quite a large number of entries for the races. Lieut. Hitchcock has also been engaged for an appearance every afternoon and evening next week in his famous water walking feats. Water polo games will also be played. There are always the latest and best pictures to be seen at the theatre where the admission is free.

CANOE LAKE THEATRE
The dancing fans are all talking about the third edition of the Human Musical Revue, which is playing at Canoe Lake Park theatre this week and all on account of a decidedly novel and beautiful pantomimic dancing specialty that is being presented by Gordon and the Elgin Sisters, entitled "A Vision of Youth." Somehow there is a compelling interest in anything pantomimic and in this very original number, the program changes every Sunday, Monday and Thursday.

her the revue company has made a phenomenal hit, winning the most enthusiastic and deserved applause of the patrons at every performance. "The Trail of the Lonesome Pine" success is untracked by another timely novelty offering, "The Rose of the Mountain Trail," which while similar to the first named, is an improvement on it and as introduced by a bevy of skip-ropping girls proves to be one of the most pleasing numbers of the show. Barney Williams and May Wright present their own vaudeville act which they have scored such a tremendous success in all of the principal vaudeville houses of the United States and Canada, and it is one riot of fun and merriment from start to finish. A little girl from the chorus is opening the eyes of the patrons with some very clever and artistic toe dancing, and the patrons are all wondering who she is. The sketch is another rear of laughter, "Uncle Hiram's Visit" being a rural specialty in which Barney Williams as the kid scores another hit. In fact all the last play their parts with particular vim and the result is a sure enough scream for all present. The Oxford Quartet, those four wonderful singers who have won the hearts of all since the opening of the company, are enjoying the theatre with a regular cast of enthusiasm, and it is safe to predict that at the end of the summer the patrons will be sorry to see them go.

THE OWL THEATRE
"The Perils of Pauline" (fifth instalment and last one released) has been booked for today and tomorrow at the Owl. Pauline goes through many new, exciting dangers, and but for the intervention of her sweetheart, she would certainly have a hard time of it. Our advice to the public is to get there early and avoid the rush for seats. Every new picture of the series brings record-breaking crowds at the Owl, and if you're late you may have to wait for a seat. Although the theatre has a big seating capacity, over 1100, it is not adequate for the crowds that are following Pauline's exciting adventures. This last release is even more exciting than the preceding ones. Of course, the usual big roster of special Friday and Saturday attractions has been secured. "Our Mutual Girl" has been returned to her aunt, after being kidnapped for some time, and many "fans" follow her adventures with interest. It is a worthy feature combining amusement with a certain educational value. With Miss Mutual you see many interesting things of the big cities; you meet people of note, and it is altogether a feature of special worth. A Keystone comedy, "Ashes of the Past," a fine two-reel dramatic feature, "The Burden" and many others complete this topnotch program. Every picture is new to Lowell. Will you be at the Owl today or tomorrow?

THE KASINO
Chase dull care away. The Kasino offers you the opportunity. Its other name is sunshine. Every night and on Saturday afternoon, there's orchestra plays choice programs, and also provides music for dancing. You won't know what Kasino standard means until you visit Thorndike hill. Get the Kasino habit.

FOR IRISH CAUSE

ty and city of Belfast having at least one nationalist representative. We assert that in aggregate wealth, instead of being the first, Ulster stands second to the province of Limerick, and that in per capita wealth, both Limerick and Munster exceed Ulster, the latter being the third of the four provinces into which the island is divided. We deny that home rule is a religious question and we proclaim that those who assert otherwise, wilfully attempt to deceive. The foremost Catholic in Great Britain is the Duke of Norfolk who is a bitter opponent of home rule, and he, as well as the chief whigs of the Tory party on the house of commons, are avowed Catholics, and radical supporters of Carson and his tactics. On the other hand, the whole history of nationalist Ireland is a protest. Robert Emmet, Wolfe Tone, John Mitchell, Thomas Davis, Charles Stewart Parnell, the best loved leaders of the Irish people, were all Protestants and today in the ranks of the Irish parliamentary party are Protestants like Stephen Gwynn, William Abraham, Captain Donnellan, James Haughey, Swift McKel, Richard McGee and T. W. Russell, and outside of parliament, there are staunch supporters of the Irish cause like Lord Pirie, head of the Belfast ship yards, and others of the great merchants of Belfast.

A Few College Boys

Under the above headline, the Sun of quarter of a century ago had the following:

"The secretary's report No. 11 of the Harvard class of '85 contains the following accounts of Lowell members of the class: Cyrus Wendell, Irish, is teaching the scientific course at the Lowell high school. Julian Lincoln Whitehouse is in the employ of the Lowell city government and also a teacher in the evening school. Hugh Henry Progan was the first man to be awarded the new John Tynan fellowship, established in 1885. As a holder of this he went to Germany in 1886 and has since pursued his studies in physics at Berlin. Previous to his departure for Berlin this student entered the Royal college of Science at Dublin. The second year he studied in Leipzig and the third in Paris. Last September the fellowship which was three years, ceased, and since then Mr. Progan has pursued a course of physics at the Royal College of Science at Dublin. This year he will complete a four years' post-graduate course in physics and mathematics."

Upon receiving his LL. D. from Germany, Professor Progan returned to this country and was offered a professorship at Harvard. He declined the offer for the easier life of a private tutor and establishing himself in Cambridge his services were in great demand both by professors and students. In later years he returned to Lowell, deciding to take life easy and simply contribute articles to the scientific magazines. But upon the occasion of a visit to Washington he became deeply interested in the work of the United States patent office and decided that he would like the work. In order to get acquainted with Washington and federal procedure he first passed the federal examination for a lucrative appointment in the naval observatory where he became noted for his perfection in mathematics. But the patent office had a greater attraction for him and passing that difficult examination at the top of the list he received an important appointment, and is there at the present time. Equally well known in Lowell was Prof. Progan's brother, the late Peter Progan who passed away in this city a few years ago. Peter for many years was head ticket-taker for the Buffalo Bill Wild West Show and was a close personal friend of Buffalo Bill. How "Pete" came to get the position with the "Wild West Show" is quite interesting. When but a boy "Pete" shook the dust of Lowell from his heels and departed for the wild and woolly west to engage in the strenuous and romantic life of a cowboy. "Pete" went into the far west and struck a job on a ranch and became a full-fledged cowboy. He remained in the west for a number of years, writing back to Lowell only semi-occasionally. Finally having accumulated a substantial "bundle" and tired of the life of the ranch he decided to return to Lowell. Upon arriving here he found that his brother Hugh had come to Germany to continue his studies. After remaining a short time in Lowell he packed up and departed for Germany to see Hugh. Locating him in Leipzig "Pete" proceeded to enjoy the ease and comfort of the Germans, eventually becoming proficient in the German language. After remaining in Germany with Hugh for some time he decided to return to the states by way of England and Ireland. Upon his arrival in London he found the papers and the bill-boards filled with the announcements that Buffalo Bill and his Wild West Show had just arrived in London for their first European tour. "Pete" beat it for the show grounds to see who Bill had with him for cowboys and broncho-busters and upon arriving there found among the crowd a number of his old time pals of the plains. He was received like a long-lost brother and was forced to give up his idea of returning to the states and become one of the cowboy actors. Thus he started in riding bucking bronchos and lassoing redskins and continued to do so while the show was in England. When the show prepared to depart for Germany it was discovered that there was no one among the ticket force who could talk the language of the Rhine and when "Pete" informed the management that he was right there with the "Cherman" he was given a position as a ticket taker and before the show came back to this country he had advanced to the position of head ticket-man which he held until his illness several years afterward forced him to retire.

Catholic Students' Picnic

Says The Sun of a quarter of a century ago:

"Under the direction of Brother Angelus, the students of the Catholic colleges and the graduates of St. Patrick's school held a picnic at Methuen Thursday. The well-filled barges started from the school building in Suffolk street at 9 o'clock, and after a two hours' ride were landed on the grounds of 'Uncle Dick' Welch in Methuen. The boys took possession of the place and made the hills resound with college songs. All kinds of sports were instituted and the active feet of the merry-makers were kept busy chasing the ball and running all sorts of races. After the fine dinner prepared by Mr. Welch, the ball game was the most important event of the day. Edward P. Donohoe captained the students and Frank J. Sullivan, the school graduates. The school graduates won by a score of 21 to 15. Other sports were then taken up. James B. O'Connor and James B. Coughlin, being the judges. In the three running jumps, J. F. Courtney was first and Ed. Donohoe, second. John Corcoran and William Sheehan won first prize in the three-legged race with Michael Corcoran and Richard J. McChesney, second. Dennis Morris won the swimming jump and Ed. Donohoe won the standing jump. Richard J. McChesney won the 100 yards dash. Among the guests were the Xaverian Brothers of St. Patrick's school; Rev. Fr. McDonough, of St. Peter's; Rev. Fr. Foley, Rev. Fr. Shaw, of St. Patrick's; Rev. John Gillay, of St. Michael's; Rev. Fr. Chester, S. J. and Rev. Fr. Dufour, S. J., of Holy Cross college, Worcester."

THIS IS THE BIGGEST GUN IN THE WORLD;

The WORLD'S LARGEST CANNON—

WASHINGTON, July 16.—When its breech-loading device has been perfected at Watervliet arsenal the great 16-inch gun, the biggest piece of ordnance in the world, which has just been shipped from Sandy Hook proving grounds, will be practically ready for service on the Panama canal fortifications. The carriage for this gun is now under construction in the Watervliet arsenal. The gun probably will be taken back to Sandy Hook for tests after being mounted and will not be shipped to Panama before next spring. Some idea may be had

of the tremendous power of this gun, destined to protect the Pacific entrance to the Panama canal, from the fact that it is 50 feet long, weighs 152 tons and fires a projectile about six feet long. The projectile itself weighs a ton and is discharged by 555 pounds of powder. It requires eight men to carry the powder charge. This gun has a maximum range of from 22 to 23 miles. It has sufficient power, theoretically to pierce two feet of the best armor at the muzzle. At 11 miles the gun is calculated to pierce a 12-inch armor plate or any side armor about lives here, she preferred to live alone, her one hobby being to make this solitary room as cozy and attractive as possible, the room which has represented home to her for over 45 years. Her employers had approached her with the remark that she was too old a woman to be working, offering her her leisure with full pay. This suggestion, however, was quickly turned down by the alert little woman. "This is my home and my life," she declared. "I couldn't be comfortable sitting around or doing housework, and as long as I feel as well and strong as I do now, I'm going to work in the mills."

As soon as the extent of her illness was learned last week, Mrs. Truesdale was taken to the home of her granddaughter, Mrs. Estella Duncklee, at 1031 Hayward street, where, through inability to stand nourishment, her life is slowly ebbing away. Continual calls from her employers and her mill friends with inquiries as to her condition serve as proof of her great popularity among the mill workers.

Mrs. Truesdale has outlived several overseers, Henry Powell, Frank Toll and John Frost numbering among the men under whom she worked and whom she has seen pass beyond.

A native of Canada, Mrs. Truesdale comes of an English stock. Her name was Annie Clark. After spending her girlhood at her parents' home, she is next known to have been conducting a hoop-skirt and corset store in Lowell and Lawrence, Mass. Her brother-in-law, Jesse Toothacher, conducted a hoop-skirt factory in New York city in the early 60's. Later Mrs. Truesdale went to New York, where she ran an establishment in which the new change and quality hoop-skirts were fitted and reconstructed to accord with the forms of the belles of the wartime.

Came Here Over 50 Years Ago

Over 50 years ago she came to Manchester and took employment in the Manchester mills as a weaver at which work she has been faithfully ever since until about three years ago when she went into the waste room. Remarkably alert and quick-moving, she presented a picture of health and almost youth which could not be duplicated by many women 30 or 40 years her junior. Her complexion

She was a small woman, weighing about 120 and her foot called for a three and one-half shoe. Five generations of her family are gathered at the home on Harvard street where she is lying. Her daughter-in-law, Mrs. Abbie Truesdale, the widow of Henry Truesdale; her granddaughter, Mrs. Estella Duncklee; her great-granddaughter, Mrs. Jennie Bonner at 1031 Hayward street, and her great-great-grandson, Kenneth Bonner, Mrs. Elizabeth Willey, aged 50, of Somerville, Mass., is also at the Duncklee home. Mrs. Willey is a sister of Mrs. Truesdale and is herself a remarkably bright, alert, interesting woman.

MILL WORKER WHO DIED AT AGE OF 91 CONDUCTED HOOP-SKIRT AND CORSET STORE IN LOWELL

MANCHESTER, N. H., July 17.—A record which probably cannot be duplicated in New England, if anywhere, has been established by a modern, alert little woman of 91 years, Mrs. Annie Truesdale, who had worked for over half a century in Manchester and Amoskeag mills. Unaccustomed to little fun with my young companions in the rooms when this had to come on me." During all her long connection with the Manchester mills, most of the time as a weaver, Mrs. Truesdale never lost any time, was always among the first corners at work, and was one of the leading spirits in fun making and jollification among her fellow workers. Lived Long in One Room A peculiar fancy of hers led her to make her home in one room in one of the corporation boarding-houses, with Mrs. Hannah Lynch at 78 Bedford street. Although often asked to make her home with her young relationed her long and happy life, a stroke of paralysis last week while at work caused the first cessation of work she had known. She died at 3 o'clock yesterday afternoon at the home of her granddaughter, Mrs. Estella Duncklee, 1031 Hayward street. Mrs. Truesdale was stricken with a shock while at her work in the waste room of No. 9 mill Wednesday afternoon, July 8. One-half of her body was paralyzed, but her mind remained clear and her most frequent comment on her misfortune was: "I don't understand why I had to be taken with a shock. I was feeling as well as I ever did in my life. I had been working all day, and was enjoying a

INDICT MRS. CARMAN FOR MANSLAUGHTER

1. MRS. CARMAN, 2. DR. CARMAN, 3. ELWOOD T. BARDES, 4. MADELINE BAILEY, 5. HAZEL COMBS, 6. CELIA COLEMAN, 7. W.D. BAILEY

FREEMONT, N. Y., July 17.—Florence Carman was indicted for manslaughter in the first degree by the Nassau county grand jury, sitting at Mineola. The jury reached a decision after two hours' deliberation. The original plan was to present the indictment yesterday afternoon, but after a telephone communication with Supreme Court Justice Van Sicken at Jamaica it was learned that he could not reach Mineola to receive the jury's findings yesterday, so the formal indictment will not be made until this afternoon. Mrs. Carman will be arraigned immediately afterward and will plead, not guilty. Her trial will be fixed for the September sitting of the supreme court at Mineola. Her counsel will straightway ask for her liberty under bail, and unless present indications miscarry the request will be granted and bail will be fixed at something not exceeding $15,000.

STRONGER INDICTMENT LATER

MINEOLA, N. Y., July 17.—Notwithstanding that manslaughter in the first degree was said to have been agreed on by the Nassau county grand jury which investigated the case of Mrs. Florence Carman, in jail charged with having shot Mrs. Louise Bailey, it was reported today that the prosecuting authorities hoped that a stronger superseding indictment might be returned later on the basis of new evidence. This evidence, it was said, was discovered yesterday about the time the manslaughter charge was decided upon.

The present indictment, according to arrangement, was to be handed up in the supreme court this afternoon.

88 Gooding St., Pawtucket, R. I.—"My face broke out in eczema blotches which itched severely. They were deep red and I could not keep from scratching it at night. It seemed as if I would scratch my face to pieces and they itched so at night I could hardly sleep. I tried different creams and ointments but instead of getting better it seemed worse. After a month I used Cuticura Soap and Ointment. The itching was so much relieved that I kept on and after two weeks the trouble was gone." (Signed) Miss Ellen S. Whitaker, Jan. 31, 1914.

Villa might take to the new turn in the situation partially were discounted by his statement that there was no need for apprehension regarding his stay in the north. He said he expected to move his troops from Chihuahua state toward Mexico City within the next few days.

From his headquarters in Monterrey, Carranza announced his plan of conducting negotiations for the establishment of the constitutional government in Mexico without further sacrifice of life. He declared, however, that unconditional surrender would be the only basis upon which the parleys would result successfully.

Huerta Accused of Treason

Details of the much discussed plan of Guadalupe, the constitutionalist platform, were made public here today. The plan was drawn up in Coahuila state, March 25, 1913, by Carranza and the group that opposed Huerta's accession to power. It recites the illegality of the Huerta regime, accuses the former provisional president of treason and repudiates all of the acts of his administration and of states that adhered to him, concluding:

"In order to organize the army entrusted with the accomplishment of our purpose we hereby appoint as first chief of the army which shall be named 'Constitutionalist,' Mr. Venustiano Carranza, governor of the state of Coahuila.

"When the constitutional army occupies Mexico City, Carranza, or whoever may succeed him in the command of the army, will be appointed an interim head of the executive power.

"The ad interim president of the republic shall call a general election as soon as peace is established, delivering the power to the man who shall be elected.

"Such citizens as act as first chiefs of the constitutional army in those states where the governments have recognized Huerta, shall assume the character of provisional governors there and hold local elections after those citizens elected to the high national offices, according to the aforesaid provision have already taken possession of their posts to fulfil their duties."

ATTORNEY GENERAL OF MEXICO RESIGNS

MEXICO CITY, July 17.—Ricardo Gomez Robelo, attorney general of the republic, has resigned. General Hernandez, former president of the republic, has also resigned. The state legislature appointed Francisco Canas to succeed him.

"The gambling houses in the capital were closed last night by order of President Carranza. It was announced that no more gambling would be allowed by the authorities.

HEAVY FIGHTING IS REPORTED AT ACAPULCO

ON BOARD U. S. S. CALIFORNIA, Acapulco, July 16, via wireless to San Diego, July 17.—Heavy fighting is reported at Acapulco, where three factions of the Mexican forces, constitutionalists, federales and Zapaltas, have become embroiled over possession of the seaport.

Foreign property and shipping are reported to be in danger and Rear Admiral Howard, commanding the Pacific fleet, has dispatched the cruiser Chattanooga to aid the cruiser Cleveland in protecting foreign interests.

The federal evacuation of Guaymas is complete. The last of the garrison, long hemmed in by the constitutional forces of General Obregon, embarked southward tonight with their horses and accoutrements in six steamers and four towing schooners. A provisional government has been established and order prevails throughout the city.

NO MORE BLOODSHED

SAYS GEN. CARRANZA
MONTERREY, Mexico, July 17.—Fighting by constitutionalists is over in Mexico. If plans announced here yesterday by Venustiano Carranza go into effect.

General Carranza declared his main object now would be to conduct negotiations for the constitutionalists to enter Mexico City and establish their government without further bloodshed or danger to property.

FEDERALS ANNULLED THE CONSTITUTIONALIST GARRISON

EL PASO, July 17.—Federal soldiers under General Roques yesterday afternoon evacuated Palomas captured Wednesday after almost annihilating the constitutionalist garrison. Seven members of the garrison barricaded themselves in a house on the edge of the village and held their position against the federal force until the invaders evacuated.

UNITED STATES ARMY SOON TO MAKE REPORT

In Connection With Development of the Merrimack River—Congressman Rogers Gets Information From the Engineer in Charge of Work—Bill to Build Bridge Over Merrimack River at Lawrence

The proposition to develop the Merrimack river from Lowell to the sea is fast reaching a very important point and according to communications received by Congressman John Jacob Rogers, the United States Army will probably make its recommendations within six or eight weeks.

Mr. Rogers made recent inquiry of engineers as to the present status of the survey of the Merrimack river, and he is in receipt of a letter from Gen. Don C. Kingman, chief of engineers of the United States Army. Gen. Kingman referred Congressman Rogers' inquiry to Col. Craighill, the district engineer officer at Boston in charge of the work, and Col. Craighill replied as follows:

"The field work remaining to be done is about one week's time of sounding party; completion of gauge readings, which will be about July 25; completion of borings, which will be about Aug. 15; completion of computation, map work, and report on the survey, which will take until about Aug. 31."

Merrimack River Bridge

The proposition to build a bridge across the Merrimack river at Lawrence is receiving the attention of the house of representatives and Congressman Rogers is very much interested in a bill introduced this week by Congressman Phelan. The bill became necessary in view of the interstate character of the Merrimack river. Mr. Rogers is cooperating with Mr. Phelan in every way to secure prompt action on this bill so that there will be no unnecessary delay in securing its passage. In a communication to The Sun, relative to the bill, Mr. Rogers says:

"We hope to have it brought up in the house next Monday, which, being unanimous consent day, gives an opportunity for the passage of much uncontested legislation. I may add that the committee on interstate and foreign commerce has only this morning favorably reported the bill."

"City Solicitor Daniel J. Murphy of Lawrence and Mr. B. H. Davis, consulting engineer for the central bridge commission of Lawrence, were in Washington Tuesday in the endeavor to expedite the legal procedure, and I had a conference with them arranged by Congressman Phelan, whose guests they were. Col. Jadin, who is engineer in charge of bridges across navigable rivers, as well as Congressman Phelan and the Lawrence representatives, are fully impressed with the importance of having a draw placed in the bridge, so that future navigation may not be interfered with. The pending bill is designed fully to safeguard the interests of the commonwealth in this regard. I have also brought to the attention of Congressman Reed and Stevens, the two representatives of the state of New Hampshire, the importance to their state of having the bridge properly equipped with a draw."

Copy of Bridge Bill

The following is a copy of the bill introduced by Mr. Phelan asking consent of congress for the city of Lawrence, county of Essex, state of Massachusetts, to construct a bridge across the Merrimack river:

Be it enacted by the senate and house of representatives of the United States of America in congress assembled, That the consent of congress is hereby granted for the city of Lawrence, county of Essex, state of Massachusetts, and its successors and assigns, to construct, maintain and operate a bridge and approaches thereto across the Merrimack river, at a point suitable to the interests of navigation, at or near the foot of Amesbury street.

rence, county of Essex, state of Massachusetts, and its successors and assigns, to construct, maintain and operate a bridge and approaches thereto across the Merrimack river, at a point suitable to the interests of navigation, at or near the foot of Amesbury street.

HON. JOHN JACOB ROGERS

In the city of Lawrence, in the county of Essex, in the state of Massachusetts, in accordance with the provisions of the act entitled "An act to regulate the construction of bridges over navigable waters," approved March 23, 1906.

Sec. 2. That the right to alter, amend or repeal this act is hereby expressly reserved.

OLDEST MILL WORKER

MANCHESTER, N. H., July 11.—Mrs. Annis Truesdale, the oldest mill operative in the country, died yesterday morning, following a stroke of paralysis, at the home of her granddaughter, Mrs. Estelle Dandridge, 104 Hayward street. Mrs. Truesdale, although 91 years old, was at her work in the Amesbury mill till July 8, when she was stricken. It was the first cessation from work that she had in a continuous service of more than half a century.

She was a weaver, and enjoyed her work, often saying that she was happier at her employment than she could possibly be in any other way. For a great many years she made her home in a corporation boarding-house, with Mrs. Hannah Lynch at 78 Bedford street, and a single room was her abode for 46 years.

During her long identification with the mills Mrs. Truesdale outlived several overseers. She served under Henry Powell, Frank Torrie and John W. Frost, all of whom are dead. She was of English ancestry, but was born in Canada. Her maiden name was Annis Clark. When a girl she left her home in Canada and was employed as a clerk in a store in Lowell, Mass., afterward working in a hoop skirt factory in New York city.

Nearly 60 years ago she came to Manchester and engaged in work in the mills of this city. She was remarkably well preserved, was quick and alert in her movements, her mind was ever vigorous and she possessed a pink and white complexion and a face in which there was not a semblance of a wrinkle.

She was a small woman, weighing less than 100 pounds. She leaves a sister, Mrs. Elizabeth Willey, aged 80, of Somerville, Mass., and several more distant relatives.

POLICE COURT

This forenoon but his case was continued for one week.

It is said that Courchesne, who is but 16 years of age, was employed at the furniture store of the complainant afternoons during the past winter. Mr. Desmarais alleges that he had taken sums of money at different times which totaled about $300. During the present summer Courchesne has been traveling through Canada and was apprehended soon after his arrival home. It is understood that he denies having had anything to do with the theft.

Michael Coggin and Charles Brisson, two other juveniles, were sentenced to the Lyman school and the Industrial school at Sherburne, respectively.

Joseph Suprenant was called on for continuance for assault and battery upon one Napoleon Charest and after hearing the testimony of a more witness, the defendant was discharged as Judge Enright did not believe there was an assault committed.

Jerry Was in Bad

Jeremiah Connors, the man who denied that he had ever been arrested in Lowell before when brought into court yesterday, was called again today and was identified by a jail officer as the person who spent one month at Sheriff Eveleth's mansion last winter and he also answered the description of the Jerry Connors who has appeared in the local court three times. A sentence to the state farm was imposed.

Assaulted Daughter-in-Law

Melvina Nault pleaded not guilty to assault and battery upon her daughter-in-law, Mrs. Mary Louise Nault. The complainant stated that she went to the home of her mother-in-law on Campus street and after a short argument was assaulted and ejected from the premises. The witness stated that she had a baby in her arms and both were injured during the affray. Mrs. Melvina Nault, the defendant, stated that she ordered her daughter-in-law to leave the house as a result of certain gossip which, it is alleged, the complainant was responsible for. The defendant was found guilty and ordered to pay a fine of $5. Gardner W. Pearson for the complainant and Albert O. Hamel for the defendant.

To the Common Jail

Hattie Josselyn, a neat appearing young woman, pleaded guilty to being a lewd, wanton and lascivious person in speech and behavior. Supt. Welch told the court that he had investigated the conditions surrounding the case and found that the defendant had recently served a sentence at Sherburne. He suggested a two months' sentence.

LOWELL TAKES A COUPLE

Local Team Outclassed Lynn in Both Contests—The First Game Went Ten Innings

The Lynn club did not look at all natural yesterday for Patsy Flaherty's well known figure could be nowhere seen among the group of ball players that disembarked at Spaulding park for the double-header. Patsy's resignation Tuesday night was the biggest shakeup that the New England league has experienced this season.

Lynn's ex-manager was one of the most popular figures along the circuit and knew the game thoroughly. He was a gentleman on and off the field although Flaherty was always at loggerheads with the Lowell fans when the Shoemakers struck town. The bleacherites will certainly miss their arguments with the former manager.

In his place as manager of the Lynn club was Ralph W. Reeve, a lawyer in the Town of Shes and a former Dartmouth college ball tosser. In commenting upon the change in managers, the Lynn Telegram of Wednesday has the following to say:

"The King is dead! Long live the King!" Pat Flaherty yesterday voluntarily walked the gangplank of the Ocean Park baseball park, and Ralph Reeve, a prominent lawyer, graduate of Dartmouth and a former member of the Lynn association and manager of the Richmond club in the Virginia State league, was elected skipper to guide the craft over turbulent seas of local baseball thought.

"I will make no drastic changes until I know what is really doing. I haven't decided about playing. I do not anticipate any trouble with either the players or directors. I am to take full charge for this is the only condition under which I would ever consent to assume the management," said Reeve calmly to the Telegram.

Last night Patrick J. Flaherty came back to Lynn from the office of President Latham of the Boston Red Sox, where he concluded the deal for "Spaulding" George Wilson. Wilson is expected to reach Lynn and settle terms with President Fraser. The directors left this matter entirely with Mr. Fraser.

While seated in the Seymour hotel last night the telephone kept up an almost incessant jangle until midnight with messages for Flaherty. Not only Harry Thorne, who is becoming very popular, was a caller. These phone calls were of a sympathetic nature from fans who believe that Patrick was driven out by the directors, and they attested to the popularity of the resigned Ocean Park leader.

Flaherty had this to say: "I am going to hang around here for a few days and go fishing. You can tell the public for me that the directors are a bunch of good fellows. Pres. Fraser is one of the best in the world to work for. I wish him luck and also Ralph Reeve, whom I have always heard is a prince."

Around the city are two factions springing up. One side favors the directors and the other Flaherty, as would be expected. Ralph Reeve, a fine specimen of American gentleman, who has made his way through college without aid except by his own good set of brains, honesty and ability to grasp Dame Fortune by the hand when she generally disgusts stranger.

Reeve's most stand between two warring factions in Greater Lynn fandom for his task is mighty as those who have handled a ball club fully realize. But Reeve is a hustler and he has a happy disposition that wins friends. The directors probably could never have made a happier selection under the existing conditions.

As a rule, the worst move that can be made by a baseball club owner is to change managers during the season. The players are bound to take sides, no matter how smoothly the situation appears to have been glided over. Flaherty undoubtedly had fast friends among the players on the Lynn club who were very sorry to see him go. In spite of the statement made by the former manager to the effect that he was treated "white" by President Fraser and the other directors, these player friends of Flaherty are likely to harbor a feeling that Patsy did not receive a fair show with the club and this feeling may affect their playing.

Lowell, after its 11 inning defeat at the hands of Lawrence Tuesday and the loss of Wednesday's game to the fallenders, was particularly anxious to annex both games yesterday afternoon. "Texas" Lohman was out to make a record for himself. The big southerner has been given a long rest in expectation of his work yesterday and looked "fit."

The day was very sultry and the players on both clubs were affected by the humidity to a great extent.

took three vicious swings at the ball failed to connect. O'Brien singled to right and Lohman by fast springing made third on Cunningham's attempt to get O'Brien. SECOND GAME
In spite of Greenhalge's wild leave into left field which gave Lynn a brace of cheap runs in the third after Orcutt had scored an earned run after making his double in the first inning, Lowell came from behind and annihilated Harrington for a 12-3 victory in the second game. Cook worked on the mound for the local club and the visitors deserved but a single tally.

The second game was shortened to seven innings by mutual consent on account of the first fracas going into an extra session. Lowell did not score until the fifth inning but that one inning was enough to win most any ball game. Seven runs crossed the plate in this inning. Five singles, a double, a pass and two outfield errors contributed the damage. Eleven batters faced the Lynn pitchers in this session.

Not content with putting the game on ice Lowell went in to bat in the sixth and turned the contest into a slaughter. Five more runs resulted from four singles, a double and an infield error. Weaver went in to bat for Cook in the fifth and pitched the remainder of the game.

CARPENTIER WINS ON FOUL ALBANY LIKES BROOKS

Frenchman Declared the Winner When Smith Was Disqualified in Sixth Round

LONDON, July 17.—Georges Carpentier, the young French champion and the only pugilist of premier rank France has ever contributed to the game, was awarded the decision last night over Gunboat Smith, the American fighter, on a foul in the sixth round of the fastest heavyweight fight Londoners have seen in many years.

The match between the heavyweights was fought at the Olympia and was scheduled to go 20 rounds.

To Smith and his supporters the finish was a tragedy, because the blow for which the American was disqualified was not intentional. It was launched in the heat of the whirlwind fighting, when the Frenchman had slipped to his knees and the spectators saw the giant sailor attempt to draw back almost as his arm flew out.

When the French centurion carried Carpentier to his corner in the sixth round the utmost confusion reigned. The ring was crowded with excited officials and seconds and thousands of spectators were on their feet shouting and groaning. In this round Carpentier, after playing for an opening, while keenly watching the American's right, had feinted cleverly with his left and then brought a powerful right across Smith's jaw.

The punch did not land squarely but glanced off, and, carried by the force of his blow, Carpentier swung round and slipped to his knees. Quickly Smith's right shot forth. He drew back and plainly would have withheld the blow on second thought. Then he stepped back and waited for the Frenchman to rise.

The Frenchman's manager, Deschamps, climbed through the ropes with seconds following, and picked up the fighter, who was holding his head in a dramatic manner with both hands. Deschamps carried him to the corner, where he made a great business of rubbing and restoring him, and then, turning to the American fighter, poured forth a stream of exalted French invective.

French and American camp followers poured into the ring and surrounded the referee, Eugene Corri. Shouts of "Foul, foul!" were raised. Everybody talked to the referee at once, and the referee pointed to Carpentier, indicating that the Frenchman was the winner.

SMITH SEEKS ANOTHER MATCH WITH CARPENTIER—AMERICAN HAS ALIBI.

LONDON, July 17.—"Gunboat" Smith and his manager, "Jim" Buckley, said today that they intended to make a further effort to arrange a return fight with Georges Carpentier, the French heavyweight, who yesterday was awarded the decision at Olympia when

Smith was disqualified in the sixth round for hitting the Frenchman while he was on the ground.

The American boxer declared he was willing to meet the Frenchman anywhere and at any time and would prefer that the winner should take entire purse or gate money.

Carpentier would make no reply to Smith's offer to fight again, saying the matter was one for the consideration of his manager, who had not had time to take the matter up.

Smith today asserted that he never would fight again before a cinematograph. He said his eyes were weak and he had to wear glasses in the sunlight. Last night the glare of the lights puzzled him and he thought this possibly had something to do with his striking Carpentier while the Frenchman was down.

Smith insists that even if his glove touched Carpentier it was unintentional and the blow did not hurt his opponent. Any other boxer, he said, would have continued the fight.

As to the blow which knocked him down in the fourth round, Smith said that while it was a hard one it did not put him out and he had simply remained down to gain the benefit of the rest.

While realizing that it is hopeless, Buckley is making a formal protest against the referee's decision on the ground that it had been arranged for the seconds to remain out of the ring until after the referee had given his decision. Deschamps, the Frenchman's manager, Buckley points out, disregarded this arrangement and jumped into the ring immediately he saw there was a chance of winning the bout on a technicality.

The boxing experts of the evening newspapers today are as divided in opinion in respect to the force of the foul blow given by Smith as were those of the morning newspapers. Men with actual ring experience, such as Fred Welsh, the lightweight champion, however, say that Carpentier was not hurt and that the scene which followed the foul blow was the result of quick simultaneous working of the brains of Carpentier and his seconds.

Eugene Corri, the referee, it is admitted by all, did the only thing possible after Deschamps had claimed a foul.

In their editorial comments on the fight, all the leading newspapers declared it was plain Smith did not make any intentional attempt to strike a foul blow.

Carpentier willing to fight
"If 'Gunboat' Smith wants a return match right away he isn't going to encounter the slightest difficulty," said Carpentier's manager later in the day. "It is Carpentier's wish, as it is mine, that the white champion of the world should retain the championship not by a more fluke or disqualification, but by right of superiority in boxing," he continued.

Both sides thus have put themselves on record as desiring an early return match and the only bar to such a meeting appears to be the arrangement of a suitable purse.

The following extract from the Albany Evening Journal tells the tale of the Gardner Brooks-Jabez White bout in that city last Monday night.

The Albany writer is of the opinion that the Lowell boy is the coming bantam weight champion of the world. This is what he has to say.

The Delphin A. O. at its second show at Chadwick park last night introduced to the fight fans of this vicinity for the first time a boxer by the name of Gardner Brooks. He came here with the reputation of winning all of his 22 fights, 28 of them being ended by a knockout. That was the only recommendation the fans had to go by, but that was enough, as about 2000 fight enthusiasts saw this Brooks give Jabez White the finest and the most artistic trimming ever handed a fighter in an Albany ring.

From the time the gong started the bout, when Brooks started going by putting over a left jab that brought the claret, until the end of the tenth round, White was on the receiving end of more jabs, uppercuts and swings than he ever was before.

Never since the night in the Gaiety theatre, when Young Ahearn made his Albany debut, has there been such a clever man perform in this city. He keeps at it all the time, picking and jabbing wherever he sees an opening. Being a nephew of Jimmy Gardner, he adopts the same style as that famous mitt warrior did in his palmy days. When Brooks entered the ring, followed by his manager, Hector McInnis, the fans saw a mere slip of a boy. Being only 17 years old he has not yet attained his development. Small in arm and shoulders he did not look like a boy who could punch.

healed thumb. With Tyrus back in the game the Tigers will be the most aggressive looking aggregation in the American league.

Bob Kelly got hold of the ball in good shape yesterday and laid his timber against two in each game which bounced off for safeties. His last clout to left went for two sacks.

Umpire Black was very bad on several of his decisions. In the second inning of the second game Stimpson and Burke had started on their way for a double steal when the ball went by. Eberly, Stimpson should have been allowed to score and Burke to take third for they were entitled to a stolen base and the passed ball would have given them two bases.

Portland plays a double header here tomorrow and also takes part in a double bill here Monday. Saturday's game of games is scheduled but the two on Monday makes up for a rainy day back in the early part of the season.

Jack Matthews has been signed up by Jesse Burkett and played against Lewiston yesterday. Matty drew a pass, slammed out a two bagger and pulled down two line drives. Not so bad for one day's work.

It never does a sporting writer or his paper any particular good to provide alibis for the directors of any branch of athletics. We are all of us liable to make mistakes and the best way is to acknowledge them frankly. A baseball writer, for instance, may be a personal friend of a baseball manager but he would be unfaithful to himself, to his paper, and to the baseball public at large if he did not comment on every situation impartially.

The youngsters in charge of the scoreboard yesterday kept the crowd guessing as to what was the correct score of the game. When Lowell scored seven runs in the fifth inning of the second game a 4 and 3 were hung up. The effect of a poorly manipulated scoreboard is worse than none at all.

Gunboat Smith is the second American boxer to go down to defeat within a fortnight at the hands of a European. Smith apparently never had a chance to win after the first round. Carpentier showed wonderful improvement over his previous boxing and his hitting powers were undreamed of by the American.

Detroit took first blood from the Red Sox yesterday. Cobb's is still out of the game and may not play for a week or more on account of his undering secretary, Thomas F. Kelley; senior woodward, Owen O'Neill; junior woodward, John F. Sullivan; senior headie, Michael Devine; junior headie, James Dolan; lecturer, Patrick J. Mahoney.

William Crossland of this city, a young man employed as a machinist at the Boston & Maine repair shops in Billerica, had a narrow escape from instant death this forenoon when he slipped from an engine upon which he was working and fell to the tracks in front of the wheels. The heavy engine passed over one foot, badly crushing it, and the other just escaped being caught under the wheel. He was brought to this city on a train and met at the railroad station by the city ambulance which conveyed him to St. John's hospital.

According to witnesses of the accident Crossland was standing between the locomotive and the tender and when he attempted to step to the ground slipped and fell under the wheels. His cries attracted the attention of the engineer but it was too late to stop the engine. Dr. Neil K. Forhan of Billerica was summoned and he ordered the injured man removed to the hospital where he was worked over for nearly two hours in an attempt to save the injured limb. Mr. Crossland came to this city shortly after the opening of the repair shops in Billerica and has lived here since.

FOOT CRUSHED

Machinist at B. & M. Shops in Billerica—Fell From Engine

William Crossland of this city, a young man employed as a machinist at the Boston & Maine repair shops in Billerica, had a narrow escape from instant death this forenoon when he slipped from an engine upon which he was working and fell to the tracks in front of the wheels. The heavy engine passed over one foot, badly crushing it, and the other just escaped being caught under the wheel. He was brought to this city on a train and met at the railroad station by the city ambulance which conveyed him to St. John's hospital.

According to witnesses of the accident Crossland was standing between the locomotive and the tender and when he attempted to step to the ground slipped and fell under the wheels. His cries attracted the attention of the engineer but it was too late to stop the engine. Dr. Neil K. Forhan of Billerica was summoned and he ordered the injured man removed to the hospital where he was worked over for nearly two hours in an attempt to save the injured limb. Mr. Crossland came to this city shortly after the opening of the repair shops in Billerica and has lived here since.

MANY WITNESSES IN THE PUTNAM CASE

Including John D. Blessington
Who is Said to be Slated to Succeed Mr. Putnam as Superintendent of Streets

The hearing of Newell F. Putnam, superintendent of streets, on charges for his removal from office brought by Charles J. Morse, commissioner of streets and highways, was resumed in the aldermanic chamber at city hall this forenoon. The hearing was begun on Wednesday of this week and was continued to today though Mayor Murphy in the beginning, believed it could be disposed of in one session.

Mr. Putnam was examined by counsel on both sides on Wednesday and other witnesses were heard, including Hon. John F. Meahan, former mayor. Mr. Putnam, however, was the principal witness, and it was generally conceded that his examination did not prove much against him, so far, at least, as the sale of old paving blocks was concerned, it being brought out that the sale was effected with the approval of the then mayor, Hon. John F. Meahan; Peter A. Mackenzie, then purchasing agent, and William W. Duncan, then city solicitor.

In his recommendations for the removal of Mr. Putnam, Commissioner Morse claimed that he knowingly and without right sold $3,625 paving blocks to the Boston & Northern street railway company and caused the payment therefor to be diverted from the general treasury to the credit of the appropriation of the street department. Included in his reasons for the removal of Mr. Putnam, Mr. Morse states that he has not the necessary confidence in and reliance upon the judgment and ability of Mr. Putnam and that he should be removed for the good of the public service.

There was a big crowd of spectators on hand when Mayor Murphy declared the hearing open at 10:35 o'clock. The first witness called was Bertrand Currier, purchasing agent for the Merrimack Manufacturing Co.

He produced bills for stones and paving blocks purchased by his company, and checks given out by the company.

He said they were delivered in 1910-11 and stated there were no others, as far as he knew.

"Do you know of any time of receiving 24,000 and some odd blocks?" "None other than are represented here."

"What is the total amount of blocks received?" asked Mr. Hennessy. "24,472," was the reply.

Mr. Dunbar cross-examined the witness, asking him the dates of the checks and he said: Dec. 30, 1910, for 5,000 second-hand paving blocks, $133. The check is dated Jan. 25, 1911, and was received by the city treasurer.

"Is Putnam's name on the check or bill?" "No, sir."

The next bill was Jan. 1, 1912, for 4522 second-hand paving blocks, the amount paid being $131.54. Payment was made Feb. 15, 1913.

The next one was for 15,100 second-hand blocks to the amount of $407.70, the bill being dated Sept. 15, 1911.

Supt. Lees called.

Mr. Thomas Lees, of the Bay State Street Railway, was then called and he stated he was general superintendent of the Boston & Northern Street Railway Co. in 1910. He said in May, 1910, when the company decided to build the West Centralville route they decided to use old rails and also second-hand paving blocks if they could be secured. "I spoke to Supt. Putnam, who seemed willing. I spoke to Engineer Bowers, who said blocks and rails could be used. I then informed Mr. Putnam I would purchase second-hand blocks and both of us agreed on the price, $27 per thousand. Mr. Putnam came to my office and we agreed to pay in material. We then went to the purchasing agent's office, where the proposition was outlined. Later the mayor and city solicitor were called upon and they agreed to the proposition, the payment to be made with crushed stones or other material. I heard nothing more from the city until December."

"Up to that time you had never received a bill from the company?" "No."

"What was the occasion of Putnam's visit to your office, as mentioned by you?"

"He brought in bills, some of which were approved by the purchasing agent and some by him."

"You said bills approved by the purchasing agent and by Mr. Putnam?"

"Yes, to the amount of $2156.43 and $61.44 in cash."

"These blocks were used by your company to pave between tracks?"

"Yes."

"Where did you use them?"

"Liller avenue and Middlesex street."

"Did you pave from Parker to Jennings in 1911?"

"Yes, this being another lot of 59,669 blocks."

"63,000 were laid on Liller avenue?"

"Yes."

"Did you lay blocks anywhere else?"

"From Pawtucket to Baldwin street on Middlesex street."

"Did you lay some on Middlesex street between Wilder street and the city line?"

"Yes, some."

"In 1911 on Chelmsford street from Jennings street to the turnout did you lay more blocks?"

"We replaced the same paving."

"On Varnum avenue from the turnout to 228, did you lay any?"

"I don't recall any work being done there."

"Altogether, what is the yardage of the amount of second-hand blocks purchased from city and laid in 1910?"

"I cannot give you the yardage, but in 1910, $3,625 blocks were purchased from the city and laid, while in 1911 59,669 blocks were purchased and laid."

"Mr. Lees was then asked to produce the receipts for the transactions and he did. He said one order of 59,669 blocks was paid for cash."

Mr. Dunbar: "The payment by the street company was in compliance with an agreement made by Mr. Putnam, the mayor and city solicitor, was it not?"

"The mayor then informed Mr. Dunbar that he could not have the witness repeat his answer to a previous question, and the question was overruled."

"When the bills were finally paid by your company, they had been approved by the purchasing agent?" said Mr. Dunbar.

Mr. Hennessy objected, saying it was not up to Mr. Lees to say if the

Third Edition BUSY SESSION TODAY IN JUVENILE COURT

Judge Fisher in Police Court— Woman Accused of Assaulting Her Daughter-in-law—Jeremiah Connors Couldn't Prove Alibi

As Judge Enright had considerable business of a minor nature in the juvenile session of court today, Associate Justice Frederick A. Fisher was called to sit in the regular session of police court. Among the offenders in the juvenile session was Harvey Trudell, charged with taking part in a game on the Lord's day and he was found guilty and ordered to pay a fine of $25. Alfred Soucy, accused of being present at a game, paid a fine of $5.

"Not guilty," said John F. Smith when asked to plead to a charge of drunkenness. Officer Joseph Clark testified that he arrested the prisoner about 2 o'clock this morning in an alley off Hampshire street. He said that Smith had been causing trouble in Centralville early in the morning and when arrested was helpless.

"What time was I arrested?" asked Smith. "About 5 minutes before 2 o'clock," said the officer.

"Did you see me before that time?" "Yes; about 12:45 o'clock."

"Why did you let me go then and walk the streets of Lowell for an hour if I was as drunk as you said I was?" queried the defendant.

The officer said that he allowed Smith to go the first time because he promised to go home.

The defendant admitted that he had a few drinks last evening but denied that he was intoxicated. Supt. Welch questioned him at length about his former residence and it was finally decided to continue the case until tomorrow for further consideration.

The Juvenile Session

Lucien Courchesne was arrested yesterday afternoon by Lieut. Maher and Sergeant Groulx on a warrant charging him with the larceny of $300 from one Napoleon Desmarais, who conducts a furniture store in Centralville. The defendant was brought into the juvenile session of police court.

STAKES FOR FIGHT

Carpentier Got $15,000 and Smith Received $10,000

LONDON, July 17.—The stakes for last night's fight in which Georges Carpentier won over Gunboat Smith on a foul were paid over today. Carpentier personally receiving a check for $15,000, while Buckley received $10,000 on behalf of Smith.

Buckley made no formal protest but wanted to discuss the fairness of Eugene Corri's ruling. He refused to shake hands with Corri.

The chairman of the gathering declined to permit any discussion. He announced on behalf of Dick Burge, the promoter of yesterday's match, that Burge was ready to put up another purse of the same amount for a return fight.

For the first time Deschamps revealed today that he had promised to match Carpentier against Matt Wells if the Frenchman proved successful in yesterday's contest. As soon as the Carpentier-Wells match was over, he added, Carpentier was ready to fight Smith again either in Europe or America, whichever provided the bigger purse.

While Buckley was endeavoring to discuss Corri's ruling, the chairman said: "In this country when a decision is given by a referee it is accepted in a sportsmanlike way."

WITNESS TELLS OF DISPUTE THE NIGHT BEFORE MURDER AT TRIAL TODAY

NEW HAVEN, July 17.—Quarrels which James Plew had with William O. Wakefield in the tent occupied by the Wakefield family in Bristol and especially the last dispute on the night before the murder were re-told by George Gillette, the upstairs neighbor, in the course of today's session of the second trial of Mrs. Bessie J. Wakefield, charged with murder of her husband. Gillette testified that on the day before the murder Mrs. Wakefield referring to her husband remarked: "I wish he was dead; then I would get another man."

That night, Gillette testified, he heard scuffling downstairs and Wakefield's voice. "Let me up, Jim." The witness had never seen Plew, who was hanged for the actual killing. He knew Wakefield's voice. After Wakefield disappeared his wife stayed several days with the Gillettes and once she asked the witness if he had killed himself. Gillette said he told her he could for three months at least.

W. Whittemore of the Country Club. Outmet in defeating G. H. Purbee of Brae Burn was around the course in 75, winning by a score of 5 up and 3 to play, while Whittemore in eliminating H. In the other matches R. H. Gorton of Brae Burn defeated V. S. Lawrence of Woodland four up and two to play and B. W. Estabrook, Brae Burn, disposed of R. P. Lyons of Albemarle, by three up, two to play.

WHAT PADDY THOUGHT ABOUT SHOES

Paddy said: "I never git 'em on till I wear them a day or two, and stretch 'em a little."

With thousands of new boots for men, women and children always in our large shoe dept. and being replenished every day, we must have plenty to easily put on and wear, without waiting to be stretched.

DR. CARMAN PLANS TO USE "CONFESSION" LETTER AS AID TO DEFENSE OF HIS WIFE IN MURDER CASE

1-SHERIFF PETTIT - 2-DR CARMAN - THEY ARE READING MYSTERIOUS LETTER IN MURDER CASE © 1914 AMERICAN PRESS ASSOCIATION

A letter was received from Rochester, N. Y., in the Freeport (N. Y.) murder mystery in which the writer said he had killed Mrs. William D. Bailey in Dr. Edwin Carman's office. The picture shows Sheriff Pettit and Dr. Carman talking about the "confession." The sheriff did not place any stock in the letter. Dr. Carman considered it a possible help to the defense of his wife.

POISONED BY THE GRIP

The grip is no respecter of persons. No age or station of life is exempt from it. The grip is not a fatal disease but it leaves its victim in such a debilitated condition that one of our foremost medical writers has been led to say: "It is astonishing the number of people who have been crippled in health for years after an attack." It is a common thing to hear people date various ailments from an attack of influenza.

The condition of those who have had the grip is one that calls for a tonic for the blood. Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are specially adapted to meet this need as they purify and enrich the blood, tone up the nerves and give vigor, strength and health to the debilitated system.

"The grip left me without any vitality whatever," says one who has found relief, "and I lost all appetite and confidence. I was reduced in weight and was frequently confined to bed for two days or more. My friends thought I was going into consumption. I owe my recovery to Dr. Williams' Pink Pills and cheerfully recommend them." The details of this case and a chapter on the proper treatment of the grip and its after-effects will be found in the booklet "Building Up the Blood" which will be sent free on request by the Dr. Williams Medicine Co., Schenectady, N. Y.

LOWELL MEN ARRESTED

CHARGED WITH BREAKING INTO CAFE IN LEBANON, N. H.—LOCAL POLICE WILL INVESTIGATE

Six Lowell men are now under arrest at Lebanon, N. H., according to a report received here, for breaking and entering the People's Cafe early Wednesday morning. When arrested the men gave the following names: Louis Pental, Arthur Terrier, Edmond Frechette, John Terrier, Edward Lambert and Frank Lemire.

The sextet deny that they are guilty of the offense but they soon leave the cafe by a man who conducts a store next door. The man was not suspicious at first and did not report the matter to the police until an hour later, when they were rounded up in another part of the city.

The local police believe that the men arrested in Lebanon might have been implicated in the many thefts which have occurred in this city recently but as yet the prisoners have not been connected with them.

TO SEND $100,000 TO IRELAND

HON. MICHAEL J. RYAN
Who Presided

United Irish League
Holds Enthusiastic Meeting in New York

To Fight by Appeal to Arms Rather Than
Grant Concessions

Lowell Delegates Active —Appeal to Friends of Ireland Issued

HUMPHREY O'SULLIVAN
Contributed $500 to Cause

O'Sullivan moved it should go to Lowell, saying he would pay all the local expenses.

Edward J. Gallagher said Lowell had claims to recognition inasmuch as it was in Lowell that the first Land League in America was started, and Lowell had contributed more than any other city in Massachusetts outside Boston. There was a strong plea made for Philadelphia, the home of President Ryan, and Mr. O'Sullivan sealed the sentiment in favor of that city, withdrew his motion. The date of the convention will depend upon Mr. Ryan's convenience but it will probably be in September.

The appeal issued to the friends of Ireland was as follows:

To the Friends of Ireland in the United States:

Under the leadership of John E. Redmond, the centuries' old struggle of the people of Ireland for national self-government is on the eve of victory. The battle has been won by constitutional means, and within the limits even of English law. It has been a contest of intellect for justice. In the train of Irish progress and as a result of Irish agitation, there has come an awakening of the people of Great Britain with the resultant legislation for their betterment and forecasting of the era of democracy triumphant. In England, Scotland and Wales the old antagonisms of race and creed skillfully fomented by official power and privilege, are passing away and men like

To secure the defeat of the liberal party and thus restore the power of an hereditary house of lords with its veto upon beneficent legislation, the wealth of tory England has seized upon the prejudices of a small portion of Ireland and by appeals to all the baser passions of men, has sought to fan into new flame the fires of irreligious hate.

Through its agencies, it has sought to poison the wells of public information. Cablegrams foretelling civil war, forecasts of riots, false and fraudulent statistics, misleading statements about the wealth, resources and population of Ulster, distorted stories of receptions and welcomes to the heavily 70-year-old lawyer, chief of the Orange forces, make up the regular news inflamed upon the American public. We assert that five-sixths of the people of Ireland are in favor of home rule; we assert that the majority of the people of Ulster are in favor of home rule. Such statements are susceptible of mathematical demonstration for the elected parliamentary representation from the whole of Ireland, is made up of 35 home rulers to 16 unionists, and from the province of Ulster, there come 17 home rulers to 15 Tories, every count.

GEN. CARRANZA TO BE PRESIDENT OF MEXICO

Francisco Carbajal Advises the United States That He is Ready to Resign — Era of Bloodshed at End

WASHINGTON, July 17.—Administration officials saw peace looming today on the horizon of Mexican politics. Francisco Carbajal's informal statement to the Washington government that he intended to retire in favor of Carranza, constitutionalist chief, and Carranza's announcement that he was willing to negotiate with the federals for peaceful transfer of power in Mexico City was regarded as practical assurance that the era of bloodshed was at an end in the southern republic.

The road remaining to be cleared, however, for negotiation between the two Mexican factions. Carbajal, Huerta's successor, seeks a proclamation of amnesty for the forces which fought against the northern armies. Members of the revolutionary junta in Washington expressed doubt whether Carranza would be willing to grant it. They took the position that persons who turned against Madero should be compelled to face court trials. By that means, they contended, potential possibilities of counter uprisings would be eliminated.

The crux of the situation appeared to hang on the extent of the quarter that Carranza might be willing to grant his fallen foes.

THE BON MARCHE

Annual Outing at Nantasket Beach Yesterday Was Best Ever

Nantasket beach was the destination of the Bon Marche clerks yesterday. Nearly 150 clerks assembled at the North station where three special cars were awaiting their arrival, and at 2 o'clock they started off for Boston where they took the Elevated for

MANAGER ELBERT J. GILMORE

Rowe's wharf, and the good ship sailed down the delightful Boston harbor with the happiest crowd of pleasure-seekers that has been delivered at Nantasket beach this season. That very delightful hour's sailing was filled with pleasure on the boat and the sail was only too short. There were solos, choruses and a generally jolly time by the fun-makers that comprised the members of this happy party.

It was the first outing that Mr. E. J. Gilmore, the genial manager, had been able to attend in three years, because of sickness and death in his family.

and his presence added to the pleasure of the occasion as the clerks were delighted to have Mr. Gilmore with them.

Children took with all its usual attractions was inspected and enjoyed by the party from fortune telling to bump-the-bumps. The celebrated shore dinner was prepared for the large party, and if it was not one of the best shore dinners the management ever put out it wasn't because arrangements were not made in placing the order for the best. Everybody after having their appetites sharpened by the sight of the old ocean did justice to the dinner. The lunch man having been satisfied, the party started on their round of pleasure. The two principal features was bathing and dancing and the bathers certainly looked like a bunch of normals in the water. The lunch and other up-to-date dances were indulged in, while others were delightedly entertained with Carter's celebrated concert band on the Nantasket veranda. This band has few equals and no superior. Taking this and the various other attractions, before one could realize what the time was, the day had passed and the crowd was marshaled together and took the boat at 4:44 for Boston. When aboard the boat an impromptu concert was started in which some of the leaders and talented vocalists were Mr. John J. Martin with his sweet tenor voice and Miss Mae Ryan with her beautiful soprano voice. Phil Mulcahey contributed with Harry Lauder songs and all the popular songs of the day. Miss Mae Roberts did her part towards catering to the amusement of the lady players. Making it all in all it was a splendid and interesting day.

The committee on arrangements for the outing was: Chairman, M. J. Ryan; Philias Duval and Moses Saulnier, and Fred A. Dubois, ex-officio. The permanent officers of the association are: President, Fred A. Dubois; vice president, Margaret Murray; treasurer, Sydney Whitman; secretary, Diana Lavale, and collector, Eva Surprenant.

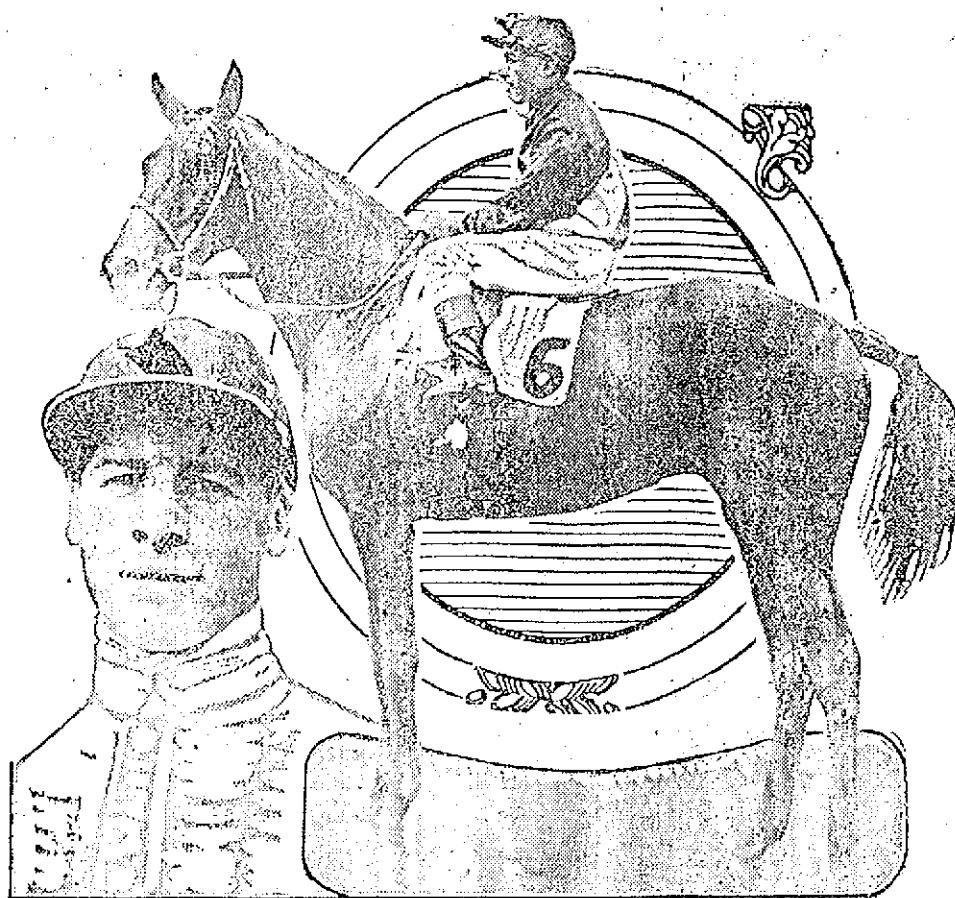

BIGELOW CARPET

Transfer Soon to be Completed—Henry P. Fairbanks to Retire

The following article relative to the Bigelow Carpet Co. deal, for the transfer of control, is from the Boston Transcript:

Statements made in the carpet and rug trade here are to the effect that the Bigelow Carpet Co. deal, for the transfer of control, has been practically completed. It is also stated that the bankers' syndicate formed to take over the stock of the company has been in control of over 75 per cent of the stock for some time, the stock being on deposit with the Second National bank of Boston. This was for the purpose of making the offer of a figure equivalent to $225 a share binding on the part of Kidder, Peabody & Co. and P. S. Moseley & Co., the bankers interested in the purchase of the Bigelow Carpet Co. At the request of the bankers the time for deposit of remaining Bigelow stock has been extended to Friday

NOTTER ... BUCKHORN, MCCAHEY UP ...

The recent race meets in the east, especially at the Belmont, Aqueduct and Empire City tracks, have developed a duel between Notter and McCahey for the crown of American jockey king. So far McCahey has the edge, having brought home more winners and being credited with better head work. Notter has the reputation of being the hardest finisher in the country, while his rival is less sensational, but much steadier of this week, July 17. From several quarters of the market here, statements were forthcoming to the effect that, while the Hartford Carpet Co. will practically assume control of the Bigelow Co.'s business, the concerns will be run as two separate and distinct companies. It is stated that the Bigelow Co. will be operated very much as a department of the Hartford Co. It is also said that Henry P. Fairbanks, for a number of years New York selling agent and representative of the Bigelow Co., will retire to private life, as soon as the present arrangements under way have been completed. When questioned as to his retirement, and what would be done with the Bigelow Co., Mr. Fairbanks said:

"For the past two years I have not been in good health and I purpose retiring and leading the life of a gentleman. So far as the affairs of the company are concerned, the change in control will go through. The bankers' syndicate of Boston had had control of 75 per cent of the stock for some time and it is a question of settling up matters. With regard to the way in which the business will be run, I can only surmise. I believe that the selling end will be conducted somewhat on the same lines as a department is handled in such houses, for instance, as Frederick Victor & Achols. The goods will be sold separately from those of the Hartford company, which does a large mail-order business, and markets a cheaper grade of goods, and go to a different class of trade. Supervision of the business will probably be looked after by the Hartford company, but the two companies will be run as separate concerns. This is simply my own idea of what will be done and is not official."

At the New York headquarters of the Hartford Carpet Co., yesterday, R. P. Perkins, president of the company was engaged in an important conference, and refused to make any statement, as did other members of the company. There appears to be a very general idea in the trade that the consolidation of carpet mills will not be confined to the Hartford and Bigelow plants, but will go still farther. Earlier reports of a possible working agreement between the Alex. Smith & Sons Carpet Co. and the Hartford company interests has been revived, and is coming in for considerable comment.

BLAMED FOR COLLISION

BRITISH ADMIRALTY COURT FINDS STEAMER INCEMORE RESPONSIBLE FOR WRECK

LONDON, July 17.—The British admiralty court today found the British steamer Incemore responsible for the serious collision on June 17 with the North German Lloyd steamship Kaiser Wilhelm II. Just after the liner had left Southampton for Cherbourg and New York.

Sir Baigraue Dean, the judge in giving his decision said he found the Incemore had made a mistake, honestly in giving a signal that she had stopped when as a matter of fact she had not done so. This, he said, had misled those on board the Kaiser Wilhelm II. and had caused the collision which occurred in a thick fog and resulted in considerable damage to the German vessel.

—LOWELL—

A QUARTER CENTURY AGO

Yesterday the grocers of Lowell closed up their establishments and held an outing. Nowadays they call them outings, but 25 years ago the word hadn't come into popular use and the good old fashioned word "picnic" was employed for such events. Elsewhere in The Sun you'll read about yesterday's affair; here's what the grocers did quarter of a century ago:

"Nearly all the grocers and provision shops in the city closed at ten o'clock Wednesday morning so that the proprietors, clerks and their friends might attend the eighth annual picnic of these trades. The picnic grounds were at Tyngs Island and nearly 5000 people joyfully spent the day there. The weather was excellent and the event compared favorably in all respects with the previous picnics. A live and enthusiastic committee carried out the day's program and looked after the comfort of the day's special guests. All the steamboats on the river had been engaged besides numerous other conveyances. The guests arrived at the island at noon and were treated to a complimentary banquet. The guests were Benjamin Johnson and A. C. Dowse, of the New England Grocer; C. S. Ober and C. W. Watson of the Canners and Grocers' Gazette; J. H. Mitchell, F. H. Dickinson, E. L. Perkins, F. O. Wheeler and Joseph Edwards of Boston; Harry Ray of Haverhill; Mayor Palmer and members of the local city government. Many of the gentlemen were accompanied by their wives and daughters. An excellent program of sports was given, the winners being as follows: High jump, W. Foley; running race, W. Foley; boys' race, Andrew Gray; merchants' race, Andrew Clark, Frank Hauchett;

Old Tyngs Island

In the old days all picnics of any consequence were held at Tyngs Island which was then owned and managed by Charles F. Keyes, now the well-known auctioneer. In the summer Charles had things going lively at the island while in the cold weather he conducted the old Bijou theatre, in Merrimack street, opposite city hall. When it was a first class vaudeville theatre. Mr. Keyes sold Tyngs Island 25 years ago, and they in turn sold it to the old Country club which at that time had not yet consolidated with the Vesper club. Only once while Mr. Keyes had the management of the island did the picnicers "put it over on him" and that was on the occasion of the picnic of the Seaside Associates, a bunch of rough-necks, who had quarters in Dover street, Boston, near the South Boston line, and who had among their membership a number of prominent scrapers, oarsmen and all round athletes; but principally scrapers, and they could scrap, too. Charlie didn't know what kind of a bunch the Seaside were until they arrived on the grounds, and then he wished he had never seen them. But for Joe Lannon, the heavyweight pugilist, former-Superintendent Bill Moffatt might not have been drawing a pension today, while the late Sergt. Dunlavey might never have risen above the ranks. It was either on Memorial day or the 17th of June, and a few years more than quarter of a century ago. In the morning, before the mob entrained for Lowell, a street parade took place in Boston with a band and the invited guests in carriages. A fine husky lot of train-wreckers they were, as they marched up West Fourth street to D, to Broadway and thence down Broadway out of South Boston to the old Boston & Lowell station. As they walked along Broadway the spectators along the sidewalks shook their heads and remarked: "There'll be something doing wherever that bunch is going." The guests of honor were John L. Sullivan, champion of the world, and Joe Lannon, South Boston's heavyweight who challenged any man in the world baring John L., and who afterward fought a 25-round draw with Jake Kilrain and licked Joe Ashton of Providence, both of whom were considered contenders for John L.'s title. Sullivan did not go to Lowell with the crowd, but fortunately for the Lowell police, Joe Lannon did. After things had got going real well at the island, a fight broke out between a bunch from South Boston and another composed of their hated rivals from the South Cove. Manager Keyes and his assistants attempted to quell the disturbance, but they didn't have a burglar's chance. Mr. Keyes then went into Lowell and up came "Big Bill" Moffatt. Officer Jim Dunlavey and others. The news that the police were coming was met with glad acclaim by the scrapers, not in the interest of peace, however, but because one of the favorite pastimes of the "haves" was licking police officers. "Big Bill" sailed right into the gang and as he appeared to be the principal fighter among the police, the crowd gave their undivided attention to him and for a while he did a club swinging act that would heat out Fred Rourke in his palest days. Officer Dunlavey went to Moffatt's assistance and as he did, one thing grabbed a fence rail and swung for Dunlavey's head. Just at this moment Joe Lannon, who had been in another part of the grounds keeping out of the trouble, put in an appearance. Throwing off his coat he swung on the fellow with the fence rail just in time to save Dunlavey, and down went the guy and the fence rail. Then Joe waded into the mob that was attacking Moffatt and every time he swung somebody dropped and stayed down. When the smoke of battle had cleared away the ground was strewn with the hapless fellows who upon coming to were greatly relieved to learn that it was Joe Lannon's mighty mitt, rather than a policeman's club that had laid them low, for there was some little honor in being knocked out by a heavyweight scrapper, whereas being licked by a common policeman would have meant lasting disgrace. Several arrests were made, and Joe Lannon was offered the position as honorary member of the police force, which he declined with thanks, and ever after Charlie Keyes had to know the pedigree of all applicants for Tyngs Island before they were allowed the privileges of the grounds.

The Old Bijou Theatre

Speaking of Charlie Keyes as an entertainment promoter, would you ever believe that just about 25 years ago Mr. Keyes "canned" the afterward celebrated Rogers Brothers, Max and Gus, because their performance was too tough, even for a Lowell audience? Such is the fact. The Rogers Brothers, who were then doing a little Dutch turn of talking soft talk with their faces close together were engaged by Mr. Keyes for a week's turn at the Bijou. "Rot-ten" was the unanimous verdict of the gallery on the occasion of their first appearance. But Charlie was charitable and he let them go a couple of days, when finally he couldn't stand it himself, and he applied "the hook" to them. Subsequently you have had to pay two samoleons for an orchestra seat to see the same Rogers Brothers.

There were performers at that old Bijou theatre who subsequently went to the top of their profession and acquired fame and fortune. A welcome quartet of entertainers at the old Bijou were the four Cohans, Mr. and Mrs. Jerry, George and Josie. George is now one of the best known and most successful playwrights and theatrical managers in the theatrical world. In those days Mr. and Mrs. Jerry, father and mother of George and Josie, did an Irish turn while George and Josie who were only kiddos, were slagers and dancers and all four worked together. During one of their visits to Lowell Mrs. Cohan became quite ill and the family cancelled their engagements and remained in Lowell quite a long time, residing, if I remember rightly, in Gorham street, about opposite St. John's church. Josie Cohan is now Mrs. Fred Nitbo, her husband being a well known actor and lecturer. Mr. and Mrs. Jerry are enjoying a life of luxurious ease, while George is in the heyday of his fame, and more power to him. George Leslie, the famous Irish comedian of recent years, was a regular performer at the old Bijou, who always made good, as were Goidie and St. Glair who afterward became two of the leading vaudevillians of Europe. In those days clog dancing was at the height of its popularity, and Manager Keyes always getting the best, introduced to Lowell audiences the team of Barbour and Winstanley. The latter came from England and afterward became the world's most famous clog dancer. He had medals and championship belts galore and he could shake his feet on the little marble slab until the cows came home. Winstanley some years ago became stone blind, but even after his blindness he continued to make his living as a clog dancer. I recall having seen him at one of the local theatres after he had gone blind. He was led on and off the stage by an attendant, but the oldtime grace and precision was still there. His blindness made traveling difficult while of late years theatregoers lost all interest in clog dancing, and the last I heard of

Summer Heat Dangerous to Little Ones Whose Bowels Are Neglected

A mother cannot do better for her children than to teach them from their earliest days regularly of the bowels. Regularity can be promoted without the child knowing it by watching its food and by so varying the food that all the elements of digestion are used, when nature will do the rest. The future health of the child depends upon this.

But try as you will there are times when the little one will become constipated and bilious. In hot weather immediate attention is necessary, as many serious diseases result from stuffed-up bowels. Don't give salts or cathartics or purgatives, as they are too harsh, but give a gentle, pleasant-tasting bowel stimulant like Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin. It has been used by the children of this as well as of a former generation, and thousands of families are proud to speak well of it, among whom we can mention Mrs. Louise Reynolds, 303 Jackson st., Lynchburg, Va., who is glad to recommend it, and Mr. Chas. W. Allen, Manchester, Tex., who writes that he often felt 100 years old, but feels younger now than his years.

Every druggist sells Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin, and the price is only forty cents and one dollar a large bottle. It will cure constipation and biliousness in young or old, break up a cold and stop summer diarrhoea by ridding the bowels of the poisons and germs that cause the trouble. It is a grand family laxative, with valuable food properties.

Families wishing to try a free sample bottle can obtain it, postpaid, by addressing Dr. W. D. Caldwell, 413 Washington st., Monticello, Va.

THREE DOLLARS PER YEAR TWENTY-FIVE CENTS PER MONTH

A CRITICAL TIME

Though at first sight the resignation of Gen. Huerta seems to be a triumph for President Wilson, the Mexican question is by no means settled. For the next few weeks or months the administration will watch the Mexican horizon anxiously, for now all lesser considerations have vanished and the issue will be clearly drawn between the provisional government of Mexico on the one hand and the United States on the other. The personalities that clouded the question up to the present have been removed and events may now arise which will test the principles of our state department to the utmost. Everything will depend on the course to be taken by the constitutionalists in the near future, and the world will judge the success or failure of American interference according to what is in store for the sorely stricken country.

President Huerta, before his resignation turned over the reins of government, or what stands for government in Mexico, to Francisco Carranza. It was stated when this was unofficially announced some days ago that President Wilson would not object but that he would regard the new president as a temporary ruler, merely filling in the gap between the dictator's regime and the election of a president presumably to be selected later by the Mexican people. Many are of the opinion that in this the American government is leaning unduly to the constitutionalists, because with the success of the rebel army the only candidate that could have any following is one acceptable to the followers of Carranza and Villa. There is danger here that the neutrality which the United States has claimed in all its dealings may yield to unfair partisanship. Still, everything will depend on the character of government adopted, for if Mexico becomes peaceful and normal, no one will quibble long over the means by which quiet has been restored.

The president must be more than anxious to withdraw the influence of the United States government from the situation, but nothing can be done until there is a president that our government will officially recognize. Up to the present it was no secret that the end most desired was the elimination of Huerta but now that he is removed from the scene, to what will the government direct its energies? It is to be hoped that it will strive to prevail on the constitutionalists to cease their warfare against the federals and to strive peacefully for some form of representative government. The rebel leaders declared on more than one occasion recently that they would march on Mexico City, and many who do not place great faith in the motives of Villa and the other leaders fear that they may still carry out their threat. What the result would be cannot be determined, but it is probable that Mexico may yet see the bloodiest chapter in its history.

Many influences are now being brought to bear on the state department in order that our government might impress on the constitutionalists the necessity for abandoning their bloody war against the federals. The taking of Mexico City would be attended with pillage, and a terrible loss of life, and it may be that the leaders cannot now quell the spirit of revenge that has been raised. If Villa and Carranza will patch up their differences—and if they have been sincere in their attitude towards the administration—it may be that the United States may now prevent further bloodshed. Huerta will undoubtedly get out of the country and the federal cause will collapse. Let us hope that the revolutionists will regard this as a final triumph and that they will proceed to the election of a strong president who may show the country the advantages of peace. The United States has shown a high purpose throughout its handling of the Mexican situation and if war will now cease, to be followed by a period of peace and reconstruction, the world will approve the idealism of those responsible for the watchful waiting policy.

PUBLIC INTEREST NEEDED

One of the regrets that is voiced in a thousand different ways in a thousand different communities is the lack of public interest in an intelligent character in all relating to city government. When election time comes round men in all walks of life manifest a temporary interest in candidates and in their promises. Through personal preference or personal pique or through some other unimportant bias many select their candidate and then determine to support that candidate through all manner of charges and counter charges. Others, and in this class are the greater number, have not followed public affairs with any interest for the year preceding and therefore are forced to accept the campaign slogans of the respective aspirants to office as descriptive of real conditions. Some candidate is ultimately elected for better or worse and the voting public falls into a political sleep for another year.

The man on the street will tell you that campaign pledges do not mean anything and yet nine times out of ten he is deceived or swayed by them. Blinded by some secondary interest and impelled by aroused prejudices he throws fairness and prudence to the winds and bases his political faith in better things on the slippery promises of some smooth and self-seeking politician. If he remembers the campaign promises of his hero a few months after election, he must feel a sense of humiliation at the ease with which he was deceived. Could he but realize how often he was thus deceived in the past, political campaigns would be altogether different, for sincere politicians would not dare to deceive the public as they now do in Lowell and surrounding cities.

At the present time there are many indications that some of the members of our municipal government have entirely forgotten their pledges of sincerity and economy, and the sadly confident Lowell public will soon find the realization in higher taxes and a larger municipal indebtedness than ever. If the people of Lowell desired any one thing more than another at the last elections it was economy, and economy was promised with a capital E. For a little while after election time some petty economies were practiced and then when public suspicions were still, the real trend of our municipal government was shown. Explain it as you will, there are undeniable proofs that we are having an ultra-political and extravagant regime at city hall, and there will be some mighty grumbling when the people get ready to pay the bills.

WAILINGS VS. FACTS

In commenting on political conditions throughout the country and tracing their influences on business it is easy to fall into the habit of generalizing, and when one does this, truth often vanishes. Opponents and apologists of any political regime are likely to fall into this error and they do fall into it frequently. One fact, therefore, is worth several abstract wailings or jubiliations and it is refreshing to find that many of our politicians are abandoning the old practice of political generalization and are giving positive evidences of conditions as they see them. The following is an extract from a speech made a few days ago by Senator Hollis of New Hampshire, in answer to some doleful wailings of Senator Gallinger who could see nothing ahead but ruin for New Hampshire industry:

"Mr. President, I desire to state that I have been in New Hampshire recently, and though I made very diligent inquiries I could not learn of a single cotton mill or woolen mill or textile mill of any kind, nor a pulp mill, nor a paper mill that has closed. A few republican managers of mills say they are going to close down, but they have not done so as yet. If they do, it will be merely for the ordinary repairs in the summer. The McWhorter Shoe Co. was cited to me as a plant that has closed. I have a letter from the manager of that company saying that they shall begin again immediately after the 4th of July. In my own part of New Hampshire, in the vicinity of Concord, you cannot hire men at any sort of reasonable wages. Contractors are trying to get men to take care of their work; you cannot get a carpenter to patch your roof, and you cannot get a painter to paint a house. Labor has never been so well employed in New Hampshire as it is today. All these wails come from places that are farther away, based, generally, on what someone says, someone writes, someone guesses, or someone predicts. I state on my authority, from actual investigation, that labor has never been better employed in New Hampshire than it is today."

ACCIDENTAL POISONING

Since the publication of a sensational western story relating the death of a wealthy individual who had taken bicarbonate tablets by mistake, instances of such poisonings have multiplied in the press, and agitators to prevent such occurrences have sprung up in various quarters. Nevertheless, deaths attributed to accidental poisoning seem to be increasing rather than otherwise. On Tuesday the superintendent of a Boston bathhouse used some bicarbonate of mercury tablets to treat a wounded boy, and through some blunder one of the tablets got into a glass of ice water which the official later drank with fatal results. A few weeks ago the son of a Cambridge physician took a poisonous tablet instead of a medicinal one, and died as a result of his carelessness. These two notable instances should be enough to call the attention of this section of the country to the danger of having poison carelessly around which has not some distinctive mark that would instantly warn one coming in contact with it.

A bill to have all poisonous tablets wrapped separately was introduced in the last legislature but fell through, though far more unnecessary bills were passed. The adverse decision of the general court should not, however, discourage those who wish to see some such law, for the long list of fatalities due to a lack of some comprehensive regulation is enough to warrant a renewal of activity. Meantime parents and those in charge of places where poisons are kept should see that they are placed out of reach of the young, and that they are so marked as to prevent any sad occurrence such as that in Boston on Tuesday.

AUTOS AND STREET CARS

The Fall River Herald, commenting on a recent warning posted in electric cars by the Bay State Street railroad, which says: "Look out for automobiles coming in back of you when leaving car," suggests that a regulation be passed obliging all drivers of automobiles to stop behind a car which has halted for any purpose. Such a regulation is in vogue in Rhode Island, and has been frequently commented on locally when a car from that state enters the city, and it might be advantageously adopted in this state. No matter how careful one is in stepping from an electric car, the natural preoccupation of the time prevents one frequently from seeing an approaching automobile and as a result we have had many accidents in the past.

Though in some respects this may seem like a hardship on auto drivers, individual drivers need not find it necessary to resort to it very often because there are many streets where cars do not run. As the Herald says: "The automobilist who is so conscientious that it gives his nervous system a shock to stop his car once it is under way, can pick out any number of streets where he will not be bothered by the street cars." At present the tendency is for drivers to make people run for their lives at street crossings and wherever autos come without much warning, but in the case of autos approaching an electric car, the burden of care should not be on the alighting passenger. In time all autos will probably be obliged to stop momentarily in the interest of public safety.

SEEN AND HEARD

If a woman isn't jealous she isn't interested.

The rule is that the man who would pay if he had it seldom gets it.

Mrs. Jasper Killington is franker than most. She admits that Jasper is the only man who ever proposed to her.

Lots of men never know what the back staff of a livery stable looks like until they move to a prohibition town.

The only fellow who admits he doesn't know much about baseball is the one who has been going to games all his life.

I often wonder why the devil tried Job out with bolts instead of getting him a position on the editorial end of a newspaper.

Edam Capps, whose wife went away a year ago last October to play till Saturday, and who has not yet returned, has sued for divorce. Edam says a woman is always late in keeping an appointment, but if she doesn't show up in a year there's no use waiting for her.

Luke McLuke says: What has become of the old-fashioned woman who used to hit her husband with the rolling pin? Even when a princess has a blister on each heel and a corn on each little toe you could never get her to admit that her shoes are too tight.

This is an uncertain world. The same head that wears the laurel wreath today may be the receiving station for a flock of bricks tomorrow.

What has become of the old-fashioned man who used to make his children speak pieces for company? Cheer up, even if you are poor. You can write a love letter and not have to stay awake nights knowing that it will cost you $50,000 to get it back.

Everything but wedding rings are being worn tighter this summer.

PROMISES IN POLITICS

During a municipal campaign in Chicago a politician dropped in one morning to see a certain grocer. During the conversation the grocer placed the politician asked, "And I may count on your support, may I not?"

"Why, no, I am sorry to say," replied the grocer. "The fact is, I have promised my support to the other candidate."

The politician laughed. "Ah," said he, "in politics promising and performing are two different things."

THE VASE SHAPED GOWN

The outlines of the charming taffeta gown pictured here remind one of a Greek vase. It is obviously the kind of dress that only the woman with a perfect figure should attempt to wear. The bodice, with its crossed over folds and huge corsage bouquet, has the long shoulder, the sleeves being practically nothing more than frills of tulle headed by dainty silk ruchings. The very full draped pannier is adorned with a knotted fringe of pleat ribbon.

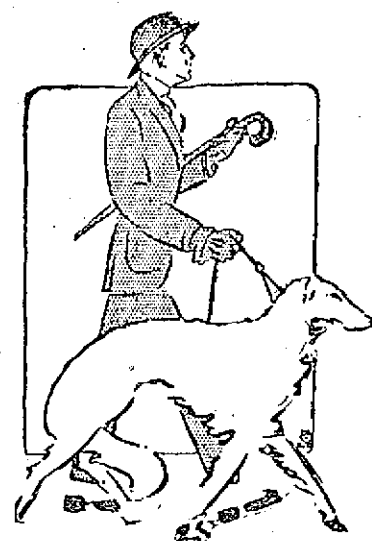

In Pethshire, Scotland, there is a marble slab with the stirring story recorded upon it:

There was once in the school a pupil named Alexander Cumine Russell, who became an officer in the 14th Highlanders when only a lad of 17. In connection with the memorable loss of the Birkenhead he won immortal glory. The troopship struck upon a rock; the soldiers were formed in ranks upon the deck to die; the women and children were being saved in boats.

Russell was ordered into one of the boats to command it, and a little way off he watched with dimmed eyes the doomed ship. When she went down he saw creatures of the deep contending for his beloved comrades. Then he saw a sailor's form rise up close to the boat and a hand strive to grasp the side.

A woman in the craft called out in agony: "Save him! Oh, save him, sir! He is my husband," but there was no room for another, and the boat was laboring heavily as it was. Russell looked at the woman and then at her children, then at those beseeching eyes in the deep, and, rising in the stern, he plunged into the water and helped the sailor into what had been his own place. Then amid a chorus of "God bless you!" from every one in the boat the brave young officer turned to meet his death.—Pearson's Weekly.

AN INVITATION
I have chosen this day to be up and away
(Heigh-ho and heigh-ho!)
From all of the worry and flurry and hurry
From all of the bustle and bustle and hurry
Our troubles! What matter? There's plenty of attic
Out there in the open where winds are a-blow!
Come, then, won't you go?
I have chosen this day to be up and away
(Heigh-ho and heigh-ho!)
Some jolly fine fellow (a black bird or yellow)
Will hail us "Hullo!" with a note that is melody
The maples and beeches will make us blithe speeches
Out there in the open where winds are a-blow!
Come, then, won't you go?
I have chosen this day to be up and away
(Heigh-ho and heigh-ho!)
The blossoms, gay-petaled, have got it all settled;
We're not to be nagged and we're not to be nettled;
Devoid of annoyance, we'll join in the joyance
Out there in the open where winds are a-blow!
Come, then, won't you go?

"GROUND GRIPPER" Health Shoe

Seven Real Reasons Why "Ground Grippers" Are Famous

- 1—They cure Flat-Foot without plates. (See Dr. Crandon's letter.)
- 2—Exercise, Health, Strength when walking. (Read our Medical Book.)
- 3—Over 100 Hospitals and Colleges endorse them. (See Printed List.)
- 4—Famous people wear them. (Julian Eltinge) (Red Sox) (Elsie Janis), Etc.
- 5—Our Shoe has cured Flat-Foot, Varicose Veins, Bunions, Weak Ankles. One girl discarded crutches and plates.
- 6—Only best quality Upper and Sole Leather used. Proof if desired.
- 7—They make deformed feet normal and keep good feet healthy.

ACTUAL CURE MADE BY GROUND GRIPPER SHOES

The above patient living in Springfield, Mass., was suffering with Flat Foot and Bunions, a local doctor advised her to wear "Ground Grippers." The Doctor kept a careful diagram of her foot from April 19th to July 10th and the above drawing is reproduced from his records.

In so-called "flat-foot," plates of steel or other material are given, which serve as mechanical braces, which give a push or lift to neutralize a defect. Such a measure must be inefficient, not only giving no cure, but at best only permanent dependence—one error neutralizing another for a time. Those who get well after the use of such plates do so because the cause of the foot collapsing is temporary and disappears. All other cases are permanently enslaved.

A tilted or twisted plate does not tilt or twist the foot; but on account of its arbitrary fixity only makes the foot try continuously to get away from it, and causes painful spasms. This leads to the question—

Why do some cases get better wearing plates?

Because, in certain cases, the feet work so hard to get away from the plates that they develop muscular power and strengthen ligaments. To get a result by this method, however, is indirect and illogical. There is much work and discomfort with little result.

Casts are taken of so-called "flat-foot." Casts impress the sufferer. They have no real bearing on the treatment. Proper walking, the strengthening of the feet, the restoration of foot and balance are accomplished alone by proper shoeing, proper muscular stimulation and mental direction. Right shoeing allows one to walk rightly—it does not make one walk rightly.

Proper walking is the proper exercise for all the waking hours. Proper walking will restore the stiffened feet and every minute of proper walking helps the feet to become soft and flexible as they were in childhood. Plates and stiff shoes are made because of the belief that the foot has a fixed arch, whereas the truth is that the foot has the power of arching. The corrective arch does not restore arching, but only holds up the bones like a crutch.

AMUSEMENT NOTES

LAKEVIEW PARK

Water sports of all kinds are scheduled for Lakeview Park next week. There will be fancy swimming and diving, long distance swimming races, exhibitions of wonderful water walking, water polo and various other "stunts" that will make the week an attractive one. One of the feature attractions engaged are two young women, who will be seen in fancy diving. Attractive in both form and feature, these young women are also said to be athletic to a degree, and are long distance swimmers of more than ordinary ability. There is quite a large number of entries for the races. Lieut. Hitchcock has also been engaged for an appearance every afternoon and evening next week in his famous water walking feats. Water polo games will also be played. There are always the latest and best pictures to be seen at the theatre where the admission is free.

CANOE LAKE THEATRE

The dancing fans are all talking about the third edition of the Roman Musical Revue, which is playing at Canoe Lake Park theatre this week and all on account of a decidedly novel and beautiful pantomime dancing specialty that is being presented by Gordon and the Elgin Sisters, entitled "A Vision of Youth." Somehow there is a compelling interest in anything pantomimic and in this very original number the revue company has made a phenomenal hit, winning the most enthusiastic and deserved applause of the patrons at every performance. "The Trail of the Lonesome Pine" success is sidetracked by another tune-out melody offering, "The House of the Mountain Trail," which while similar to the first named, is an improvement on it and as introduced by a bevy of skip-ropping girls proves to be one of the most pleasing numbers of the show.

Barney Williams and May Wright present their own vaudeville act with which they have secured such a tremendous success in all of the principal vaudeville houses of the United States and Canada, and it is one riot of fun and merriment from start to finish. A little girl from the chorus is opening the eyes of the patrons with some very clever and artistic toe dancing, and the patrons are all wondering who she is.

The sketch is another roar of laughter, "Uncle Hiram's Visit" being a special specialty in which Barney Williams as "the kid" scores another hit. In fact all of the cast play their parts with particular vim and the result is a sure enough scream for all present.

The Oxford Quartet, those four wonderful singers who have won the hearts of all since the opening of the company, are sweeping the theatre with a regular tide of enthusiasm, and it is safe to predict that at the end of the summer the patrons will be sorry to see them go.

THE OWL THEATRE

"The Perils of Pauline" (ninth installment) and last one released) has been booked for today and tomorrow at the cool Owl. Pauline goes through many new, exciting dangers, and but for the intervention of her sweetheart, she would certainly have a hard time of it. Our advice to the public is to get there early and avoid the rush for seats. Every new picture of the series brings record-breaking crowds, and the Owl, and if you're late you may have to wait for a seat. Although the theatre has a big seating capacity, over 1100, it is not adequate for the crowds that are following Pauline's exciting adventures. This last release is even more exciting than the preceding one. Of course, the usual big roster of special Friday and Saturday attractions has been secured. Mutual Girl has been returned to her aunt, after being kidnapped for some time, and many "fans" follow her adventures with interest. It is a worthy feature, combining amusement with a certain educational value. With Miss Mutual you see many interesting things of the big cities; you meet people of note, and it is altogether a feature of special worth. A Keystone comedy "Ashes of the Past," a fine two-reel dramatic feature, "The Burden" and many others complete this topnotch program. Every picture is new to Lowell. We hope you be at the Owl today or tomorrow.

THE KASINO

Chase dull care away. The Kasino offers you the opportunity. Its other game is sunshine. Every night and on Saturday afternoon Minnie's orchestra plays choice programs, and also provides music for dancing. You won't know what Kasino standard means until you visit Thorndike hill. Get the Kasino habit.

FOR IRISH CAUSE

ty and city of Belfast having at least one nationalist representative. We assert that in aggregate wealth, instead of being the first, Ulster stands second to the province of Leinster, and that in per capita wealth, both Leinster and Munster exceed Ulster, the latter being the third of the four provinces

into which the island is divided. We deny that home rule is a religious question and we proclaim that those who assert otherwise, willfully attempt to deceive. The foremost Catholic in Great Britain is the Duke of Norfolk who is a bitter opponent of home rule, and he, as well as the chief whips of the Tory party on the house of commons, are avowed Catholics, and radical supporters of Carson and his tactics. On the other hand, the whole history of nationalist Ireland is a protest. Robert Emmet, Wolfe Tone, John Mitchell, Thomas Davis, Charles Stewart Parnell, the best loved leaders of the Irish people, were all Protestants and today in the ranks of the Irish parliamentary party are Protestants like Stephen Gwynn, William Abrahams, Captain Donnellan, James Hogg, Swift McNeill, Richard McGee and T. W. Russell, and outside of parliament there are staunch supporters of the Irish cause like Lord Pirbright, head of the Belfast ship yards, and others of the great merchants of Belfast.

We assert that "Ulsterism" is simply a form of political agitation like the war cry of the "Bloody Shirt" that years ago inflamed the north against the south in the United States. We declare that it simply covers the attempt of privilege, patronage and power to continue themselves illicitly in the ascendancy against the expressed will of the parliament of Great Britain and the overwhelming majority of Ireland.

Mr. Redmond declares that this Orange movement of organized force "has been financed by all the wealthy and aristocratic enemies of popular liberties." The arming of the Orangemen of Ulster is an audacious attempt to overthrow the government. To render this iniquitous and unlawful conspiracy abortive, Mr. Redmond appeals to all Americans who love liberty to aid him and the Irish parliamentary party in organizing and arming the Irish National volunteers. His appeal, directed to the president of the United Irish League in America, is clear, emphatic and urgent. Money is urgently needed. The necessities are great and immediate. The United Irish League of America for fifteen years has aided the people of Ireland. Mr. Redmond and the Irish parliamentary party with the funds needed to carry on their successful propaganda of independence. There have been times when this splendid work was violently opposed by misguided men and the support has never been as adequate as it should have been, but all thinking and self-respecting men of the Irish race must now recognize the absolute wisdom of the policy of supporting the Irish parliamentary party and the leadership of the great Redmond.

This cautious, careful and conservative chief, speaking for the whole of a united nationalist Ireland, asks us in the United States again to help. The Irish national volunteers, as of right should be, are absolutely under his control and direction. His hands must be upheld. All the money needed must be forthcoming. We appeal to all our branches, organizations and affiliated societies to forward subscriptions at once to our national treasurer, Thomas B. Fitzpatrick, 104 Kingston street, Boston, Mass., and in all cities, towns and villages throughout the union where no branch exists, we urge transmission of funds to him or to the Irish World, 27 Barclay street, New York City, or where it may be preferred for any cause, to send money directly to John E. Redmond, house of commons, London, England. If transmitted through either The Irish World or Mr. Redmond, we ask subscribers to notify Mr. Fitzpatrick of the fact, so that an accounting may be kept and due acknowledgment had. We especially recommend the forwarding of money. It can be used for the purpose intended more expeditiously, more economically, and with greater certainty of immediate results under Mr. Redmond's direction and there will be no misreading of the people either in America or Ireland by specious appeals to their unconquerable patriotism. Whatever money may be forwarded to the national treasurer, Mr. Fitzpatrick, will be at once transmitted to Mr. Redmond without deduction, for there are no salaries of officials of any kind in the United Irish League of America, and the only reason for its existence is to act as an auxiliary to the people of Ireland, as the authorized instrument through which financial aid may be given.

the poor fellow he was in an institution for the blind.

A Few College Boys

Under the above headline, the Sun of quarter of a century ago had the following:

"The secretary's report No. 11 of the Harvard class of '85 contains the following accounts of Lowell members of the class: Cyrus Wendell Irish is teaching the scientific course at the Lowell high school. Julian Lincoln Whitehouse is in the employ of the Lowell city government and also a Lowell teacher in the evening school. Hugh Henry Bregan was the first man to be awarded the new John Tyndal fellowship established in 1885. As holder of this he went to Germany in 1889 and has since pursued his studies in physics at Berlin. Previous to his departure for Berlin this student entered the Royal college of Science at Dublin. The second year he studied in Leipzig and the third in Paris. Last September the fellowship which was three years' ceased, and since then Mr. Bregan has pursued a course of physics at the Royal College of Science at Dublin. This year he will complete a four years' post-graduate course in physics and mathematics.

Upon receiving his LL. D. from Germany, Professor Bregan returned to this country and was offered a professorship at Harvard. He declined the offer for the easier life of a private tutor and establishing himself in Cambridge his services were in great demand both by professors and students. In later years he returned to Lowell, desiring to take life easy and simply contribute articles to the scientific magazines. But upon the occasion of a visit to Washington he became deeply interested in the work of the United States patent office and decided that he would like the work. In order to get acquainted with Washington and federal procedure he first passed the federal examination for a lucrative appointment in the naval observatory where he became noted for his perfection in mathematics. But the patent office had a greater attraction for him and passing that difficult examination at the top of the list he received an important appointment, and is there at the present time. Equally well known in Lowell was Prof. Bregan's brother, the late Peter Bregan who passed away in this city a few years ago. Peter for many years was head ticket-taker for the Buffalo Bill Wild West Show and was a close personal friend of Buffalo Bill. How "Pete" came to get the position with the "Wild West Show" is quite interesting. When but a boy "Pete" shook the dust of Lowell from his heels and departed for the wild and woolly west to engage in the strenuous and romantic life of a cowboy. "Pete" went into the far west and struck a job on a ranch and became a full fledged cowboy. He remained in the west for a number of years, writing back to Lowell only semi-regularly. Finally having accumulated a substantial "bundle" and tiring of the life of the ranch he decided to return to Lowell. Upon arriving here he found that his brother Hugh had gone to Germany to continue his studies. After remaining a short time in Lowell he packed up and departed for Germany to see Hugh. Encountering him in Leipzig "Pete" proceeded to enjoy the ease and comfort of the Germans, eventually becoming proficient in the German language. After remaining in Germany with Hugh for some time he decided to return to the states by way of England and Ireland. Upon his arrival in London he found the papers and the bill-boards filled with the announcements that Buffalo Bill and his Wild West Show had just arrived in London for their first European tour. "Pete" beat it for the show grounds to see who Bill had with him for cowboys and broncho-busters and upon arriving there found among the crowd a number of his old time pals of the plains. He was received like a long-lost brother and was allowed to give up his idea of returning to the states and become one of the cowboy actors. Thus he started in riding bucking bronchos and lassoing redskins and continued to do so while the show was in England. When the show prepared to depart for Germany it was discovered that there was no one among the ticket force who could talk the language of the Brits and when "Pete" informed the management that he was right there with the "Cherries" he was given a position as a ticket taker and before the show came back to this country he had advanced to the position of head ticketman which he held until his illness several years afterward forced him to retire.

Catholic Students' Picnic

Says The Sun of a quarter of a century ago:

"Under the direction of Brother Angelus, the students of the Catholic colleges and the graduates of St. Patrick's school held a picnic at Methuen Thursday. Two well filled barges started from the school building in Suffolk street at 9 o'clock, and after a two hours' ride were landed on the grounds of 'Uncle Dick' Welch in Methuen. The boys took possession of the place and made the hills resound with college songs. All kinds of sports were instituted and the active feet of the merry-makers were kept busy chasing the ball and running all sorts of races. After the one dinner prepared by Mr. Welch, the ball game was the most important event of the day. Edward P. Donohoe captained the students and Frank J. Sullivan, the school graduates. The school graduates won by a score of 21 to 16. Other sports were then taken up. James B. O'Connor and James D. Coughlin, being the judges. In the three running jumps, J. F. Courtney was first and Ed. Donohoe second. John Corcoran and William Sheehan won first prize in the three-legged race with Michael Corcoran and Richard J. McCluskey, second. Dennis Morris won the running jump and Ed. Donohoe, the standing jump. Richard McCluskey won the 100 yards dash. Among the guests were the Naverian Brothers, of St. Peter's; Rev. Fr. Foley, Rev. Fr. Shaw, of St. Patrick's; Rev. John Gilday, of St. Michael's; Rev. Fr. Chester, S. J. and Rev. Fr. Dufour, S. J., of Holy Cross college, Worcester."

THIS IS THE BIGGEST GUN IN THE WORLD; IT WILL HELP PROTECT THE PANAMA CANAL

The WORLD'S LARGEST CANNON—

WASHINGTON, July 17.—When its breech-loading device has been perfected at Watervliet arsenal the great 16-inch gun, the biggest piece of ordnance in the world, which has just been shipped from Sandy Hook proving grounds, will be practically ready for service on the Panama canal fortifications. The carriage for this gun is now under construction in the Watertown (Mass.) arsenal. The gun probably will be taken back to Sandy Hook for tests after being mounted and will not be shipped to Panama before next spring. Some idea may be had

of the tremendous power of this gun, destined to protect the Pacific entrance to the Panama canal, from the fact that it is 50 feet long, weighs 132 tons and fires a projectile about six feet long. The projectile itself weighs a ton and is discharged by 600 pounds of powder. It requires eight men to carry the powder charge. This gun has a maximum range of from 22 to 23 miles. It has sufficient power, theoretically to pierce two feet of the best armor at the muzzle. At 11 miles the gun is calculated to pierce a 12-inch armor plate or any side armor afloat.

When a shell leaves the gun it is revolving around its axis at about 4000 revolutions per minute and develops a pressure of 35,000 pounds to the square inch. The pressure to the rear on the gun and forward on the projectile amounts to 7,600,000 pounds. The projectile's velocity of 2250 feet per second gives a muzzle energy of somewhat more than $4,000 foot tons. Army ordnance officials believe this gun will be a tremendous instrument of peace when it is finally in position on the Panama canal.

tives here, she preferred to live alone, her one hobby being to make this solitary room as cosy and attractive as possible, the room which has represented home to her for over 45 years. Her employers had approached her with the remark that she was too old a woman to be working, offering her her leisure with full pay. This suggestion, however, was quickly turned down by the alert little woman. "This is my home and my life," she declared. "I couldn't be comfortable sitting around or doing housework, and as long as I feel as well and strong as I do now, I'm going to work in the mills."

As soon as the extent of her illness was learned last week, Mrs. Truesdale was taken to the home of her granddaughter, Mrs. Estella Duncklee, at 1003 Hayward street, where, through her inability to stand nourishment, her life is slowly ebbing away. Continuous calls from her employers and her mill friends with inquiries as to her condition serve as proof of her great popularity among the mill workers.

Mrs. Truesdale has outlived several overseers, Henry Powell, Frank Toll and John Frost numbering among the men under whom she worked and whom she has seen pass beyond. A native of Canada, Mrs. Truesdale comes of an English stock. Her name was Annis Clark. After spending her girlhood at her parents' home, she is next known to have been conducting a hoop-skirt and corset store in Lowell and Lawrence, Mass. Her brother-in-law, Jesse Toothacher, conducted a hoop-skirt factory in New York city in the early 60's. Later Mrs. Truesdale went to New York, where she ran an establishment in which she now strange and quaint hoop-skirts were fitted and reconstructed to accord with the forms of the belles of the wartime.

Over 50 years ago she came to Manchester and took employment in the Manchester mills as a weaver at which work she has been faithfully ever since until about three years ago when she went into the waste room. Remarkably alert and quick-moving, she presented a picture of health and almost youth which could not be duplicated by many women 20 or 40 years her junior. Her complexion was shell pink and white and there was scarcely a wrinkle on her face. Her eyesight was perfect and glasses were an unknown part of her work and pleasure. She was a small woman, weighing about 150 and her foot called for a three and one-half shoe. Five generations of her family are gathered at the home on Harvard street where she is lying. Her daughter-in-law, Mrs. Abbie Truesdale, the widow of Henry Truesdale, her granddaughter, Mrs. Estella Duncklee, her great-granddaughter, Mrs. Jennie Bonner at 1003 Hayward street, and her great-great-grandson, Kenneth Bonner, Mrs. Elizabeth Wiley, aged 50, of Somerville, Mass., is also at the Duncklee home. Mrs. Wiley is a sister of Mrs. Truesdale and is herself a remarkably bright, alert, interesting woman.

NEARING CENTURY MARK

MANCHESTER, N. H., July 17.—A record which probably cannot be duplicated in New England, if anywhere, has been established by a modern, alert little woman of 91 years, Mrs. Annis Truesdale, who had worked for over half a century in Manchester and Amesbury mills. The record is that little fun with my young companions in the rooms when this had to come on me." During all her long connection with the Manchester mills, most of the time as a weaver, Mrs. Truesdale never lost any time, was always among the first corners at work, and was one of the leading spirits in fun making and jollification among her fellow workers. Lived Long in One Room A peculiar fancy of hers led her to make her home in one room in one of the corporation boarding-houses, with Mrs. Hannah Lynch at 78 Bedford street. Although often asked to make her home with her young rela-

INDICT MRS. CARMAN FOR MANSLAUGHTER

1. MRS. CARMAN, 2. DR. CARMAN, 3. ELWOOD T. BARDES, 4. MADELINE BAILEY, 5. HAZEL COMBS, 6. CELIA COLEMAN, 7. W.D. BAILEY.

FREEMONT, N. Y., July 17.—Florence Carman was indicted for manslaughter in the first degree by the Nassau county grand jury, sitting in Mineola. The jury reached a decision after two hours' deliberation. The original plan was to present the indictment yesterday afternoon, but after a telephone communication with Supreme Court Justice Van Sicken at Jamaica it was decided that he could not reach Mineola to receive the jury's findings yesterday, so the formal indictment will not be made until this afternoon. Mrs. Carman will be arraigned immediately afterward and will plead not guilty. Her trial will be fixed for the September sitting of the supreme court at Mineola. Her counsel will straightway ask for her liberty under bail, and unless present indications miscarry the request will be granted and bail will be fixed at something not exceeding $15,000.

STRONGER INDICTMENT LATER

MINEOLA, N. Y., July 17.—Notwithstanding that manslaughter in the first degree was said to have been agreed on by the Nassau county grand jury which investigated the case of Mrs. Florence Carman, in full charged with having shot Mrs. Louise Bailey, it was reported today that the prosecuting authorities hoped that a stronger superseding indictment might be returned later on the basis of new evidence. This evidence, it was said, was discovered yesterday about the time the manslaughter charge was decided upon.

The present indictment, according to arrangement, was to be handed up in the supreme court this afternoon.

ECZEMA BLOTCHES ITCHED SEVERELY

On Face. So Bad at Night Could Hardly Sleep. Used Cuticura Soap and Ointment. In Two Weeks Trouble Gone.

88 Gooding St., Pawtucket, R. I.—"My face broke out in eczema blotches which itched severely. They were deep red and scratching it at night. It seemed as if I would scratch my face to pieces and they itched so at night I could hardly sleep. I tried different creams and ointments but instead of getting better it seemed worse. After a month I used Cuticura Soap and Ointment. The itching was so much relieved that I kept on and after two weeks the trouble was gone." (Signed) Miss Ellen S. Whitaker, Jan. 31, 1914.

Villa might take to the new turn in the situation partially were discounted by his statement that there was no need for apprehension regarding his stay in the north. He said he expected to move his troops from Chihuahua state toward Mexico City within the next few days.

From his headquarters in Monterrey, Carranza announced his plan of conducting negotiations for establishment of the constitutional government in Mexico without further sacrifice of life. He declared, however, that unconditional surrender would be the only basis upon which the parleys would result successfully.

Huerta Accused of Treason

Details of the much discussed plan of Guadalupe, the constitutionalist platform, were made public here today. The plan was drawn up in Coahuila state, March 26, 1913, by Carranza and the group that opposed Huerta's accession to power. It recites the illegality of the Huerta regime, accuses the former provisional president of treason and repudiates all of the acts of his administration and of states that adhered to him, concluding:

"In order to organize the army entrusted with the accomplishment of our purpose we hereby appoint as first chief of the army which shall be named 'Constitutionalist,' Mr. Venustiano Carranza, governor of the state of Coahuila."

"When the constitutional army occupies Mexico City Mr. Carranza, or whoever may succeed him in the command of the army, will be appointed an interim head of the executive power."

"The ad interim president of the republic shall call a general election as soon as peace is established, delivering the power to the man who shall be elected."

ATTORNEY GENERAL OF MEXICO RESIGNS

MEXICO CITY, July 17.—Ricardo Gomez Robelo, attorney general of the republic, has resigned. General Hernandez, governor of Puebla, and father in law of Victor Huerta, son of the ex-president, has also resigned. The state legislature appointed Francisco Canseco to succeed him.

The gambling houses in the capital were closed last night by order of President Carranza. It was announced that no more gambling would be allowed by the authorities.

Foreign property and shipping are reported to be in danger and Rear Admiral Howard, commanding the Pacific fleet, has dispatched the cruiser Chattanooga to aid the cruiser Cleveland in protecting foreign interests.

The federal evacuation of Guaymas is complete. The last of the original long hemmed in by the constitutional forces of General Obregon, embarked southward tonight with their horses and accoutrements in six steamers and four towing schooners. A provisional government has been established and order prevails throughout the city.

NO MORE BLOODSHED

MONTERREY, Mexico, July 17.—Fighting by constitutionalists is over in Mexico. If plans announced here yesterday by Venustiano Carranza go into effect.

General Carranza declared his main object now would be to conduct negotiations for the constitutionalists to enter Mexico City and establish their government without further bloodshed or danger to property.

UNITED STATES ARMY SOON TO MAKE REPORT

In Connection With Development of the Merrimack River—Congressman Rogers Gets Information From the Engineer in Charge of Work—Bill to Build Bridge Over Merrimack River at Lawrence

The proposition to develop the Merrimack river from Lowell to the sea is fast reaching a very important point and according to communications received by Congressman John Jacob Rogers, the United States army will probably make its recommendations within six or eight weeks.

Mr. Rogers made recent inquiry of engineers as to the present status of the survey of the Merrimack river, and he is in receipt of a letter from Gen. Dan C. Kingman, chief of engineers of the United States army. Gen. Kingman referred Congressman Rogers' inquiry to Col. Craigbill, the district engineer officer at Boston in charge of the work, and Col. Craigbill replied as follows:

"The field work remaining to be done is about one week's time of sounding party; completion of gauge readings, which will be about July 25; completion of borings, which will be about Aug. 15; completion of computations, map work, and report on the survey, which will take until about Aug. 31."

Merrimack River Bridge

The proposition to build a bridge across the Merrimack river at Lawrence is receiving the attention of the house of representatives and Congressman Rogers is very much interested in a bill introduced this week by Congressman Phelan. The bill became necessary in view of the interstate character of the Merrimack river. Mr. Rogers is cooperating with Mr. Phelan in every way to secure prompt action on this bill so that there will be no unnecessary delay in securing its passage. In a communication to The Sun, relative to the bill, Mr. Rogers says:

"We hope to have it brought up in the house next Monday, which, being unanimous consent day, gives an opportunity for the passage of much unopposed legislation. I may add that the committee on interstate and foreign commerce has only this morning favorably reported the bill."

City Solicitor Daniel J. Murphy of Lawrence and Mr. E. H. Davis, consulting engineer for the central bridge commission of Lawrence, were in Washington Tuesday in the endeavor to expedite the legal procedure, and I had a conference with them arranged by Congressman Phelan, whose guests they were. Col. Jadwin, who is engineer in charge of bridges across navigable rivers, as well as Congressman Phelan and the Lawrence representatives, are fully impressed with the importance of having a draw placed in the bridge, so that future navigation may not be interfered with. The pending bill is designed fully to safeguard the interests of the commonwealth in this regard. I have also brought to the attention of Congressmen Reed and Stevens, the two representatives of the state of New Hampshire, the importance to their state of having the bridge properly equipped with a draw."

Copy of Bridge Bill

The following is a copy of the bill introduced by Mr. Phelan asking consent of congress for the city of Lawrence, county of Essex, state of Massachusetts, to construct a bridge across the Merrimack river:

Be it enacted by the senate and house of representatives of the United States of America in congress assembled, That the consent of congress is hereby granted for the city of Lawrence, county of Essex, state of Massachusetts, to construct a bridge across the Merrimack river, in accordance with the provisions of the act entitled "An act to regulate the construction of bridges over navigable waters," approved March 23, 1906.

Sec. 2. That the right to alter, amend or repeal this act is hereby expressly reserved.

rence, county of Essex, state of Massachusetts, and its successors and assigns, to construct, maintain and operate a bridge and approaches thereto across the Merrimack river, at a point suitable to the interests of navigation, at or near the foot of Amesbury street.

HON. JOHN JACOB ROGERS

in the city of Lawrence, in the county of Essex, in the state of Massachusetts, in accordance with the provisions of the act entitled "An act to regulate the construction of bridges over navigable waters," approved March 23, 1906.

OLDEST MILL WORKER

MANCHESTER, N. H., July 17.—Mrs. Annis Truesdale, the oldest mill operative in the country, died yesterday morning, following a stroke of paralysis, at the home of her granddaughter, Mrs. Estelle Duncklee, 1001 Hayward street. Mrs. Truesdale, although 91 years old, was at her work in the Manchester mill till July 8, when she was stricken. It was the first cessation from work that she had in a continuous service of more than half a century.

She was a weaver, and enjoyed her work, often saying that she was happier at her employment than she could possibly be in any other way. For a great many years she made her home in a corporation boarding house, with Mrs. Hannah Lynch at 73 Bedford street, and a single room was her abode for 45 years.

During her long identification with the mills Mrs. Truesdale outlived several overseers. She served under Henry Powell, Frank Towle and John F. Frost, all of whom are dead. She was of English ancestry, but was born in Canada. Her maiden name was Annis Clark. When a girl she left her home in Canada and was employed as a clerk in a store in Lowell, Mass., afterward working in a hoop skirt factory in New York city.

Nearly 60 years ago she came to Manchester and engaged in work in the mills of this city. She was remarkably well preserved, was quick and alert in her movements, her mind was ever vigorous and she possessed a pink and white complexion and a face in which there was not a semblance of a wrinkle.

She was a small woman, weighing less than 130 pounds. She leaves a sister, Mrs. Elizabeth Willey, aged 59, of Somerville, Mass., and several more distant relatives.

this forenoon but his case was continued for one week.

It is said that Courchesne, who is but 16 years of age, was employed at the furniture store in the complaint afternoons during the past winter. Mr. Desmarais alleges that he had took sums of money at different times which totaled about $300. During the present summer Courchesne has been traveling through Canada and was apprehended soon after his arrival home. It is understood that he denies having had anything to do with the theft.

Michael Coggin and Charles Brisson, two other juveniles, were sentenced to the Lyman school and the Industrial school at Sherburne, respectively.

Joseph Suprenant was called on continuance for assault and battery upon one Napoleon Charest and after hearing the testimony of one more witness, the defendant was discharged as Judge Enright did not believe there was an assault committed.

Jerry Was in Bad

Jeremiah Connors, the man who denied that he had ever been arrested in Lowell before when brought into court yesterday, was called again today and was identified by a jail officer as the person who spent one month at Sheriff Eschelt's mansion last winter, and he also answered the description of the Jerry Connors who has appeared in the local court three times. A sentence to the state farm was imposed.

Assaulted Daughter-in-Law

Melvin Nault pleaded not guilty to assault and battery upon her daughter-in-law, Mrs. Mary Louise Nault. The complainant stated that she went to the home of her mother-in-law on Campus street and after a short argument was assaulted and ejected from the premises. The witness stated that she had a baby in her arms and both were injured during the affair. Mrs. Melvin Nault, the defendant, stated that she ordered her daughter-in-law to leave the house as a result of certain gossip which, it is alleged, the complainant was responsible for. Defendant was found guilty and ordered to pay a fine of $5. Gardner W. Pearson for the complainant and Albert O. Hamel for the defendant.

Boat Case Continued

To the Common Jail

Hattie Josselyn, a neat appearing young woman, pleaded guilty to being a low, wanton and lascivious person in speech and behavior. Supt. Welch told the court that he had investigated the conditions surrounding the case and found that the defendant had recently served a sentence at Sherborn. He suggested a two months' sentence.

LOWELL TAKES A COUPLE

Local Team Outclassed Lynn in Both Contests—The First Game Went Ten Innings

The Lynn club did not look at all natural yesterday for Patsy Flaherty's well known figure could be nowhere seen among the group of ball players that disembarked at Spaulding park for the double-header. Patsy's resignation Tuesday night was the biggest shakeup that the New England league has experienced this season.

Lynn's ex-manager was one of the most popular figures along the circuit and knew the game thoroughly. He was a gentleman on and off the field although Flaherty was always at loggerheads with the Lowell fans when the Shoemakers struck town. The bleachers will certainly miss their arguments with the former manager.

In his place as manager of the Lynn club was Ralph W. Reeve, a lawyer in the Town of Shoes and a former Dartmouth college ball tosser. In commenting upon the change in managers, the Lynn Telegram of Wednesday has the following to say:

"The King is dead! Long live the King!" Pat Flaherty yesterday voluntarily walked the gangplank of the Ocean Park baseball park, and Irish Reave, a prominent lawyer, graduate of Dartmouth and a former member of the Lynn association and manager of the Richmond club in the Virginia State league, was elected skipper to guide the craft over turbulent seas of local baseball thought.

"I will make no drastic changes until I know what is really doing. I haven't decided about playing. I do not anticipate any trouble with either the players or directors. I am to take full charge for this is the only condition under which I would ever consent to assume the management," said Reeve calmly to the Telegram.

Last night Patrick J. Flaherty came back to Lynn from the office of President Lannin of the Boston Red Sox, where he concluded the deal for "Seantio" George Wilson. Wilson is expected to reach Lynn and settle terms with President Fraser. The directors left this matter entirely with Mr. Fraser.

While seated in the Seymour hotel last night the telephone kept up an almost incessant jangle until midnight with messages for Flaherty. Night Clerk Harry Thornell, who is becoming a popular figure, was footed. These phone calls were of a sympathetic nature from fans who believe that Patrick was driven out by the directors, and they attested to the popularity of the resigned Ocean Park leader.

Flaherty had this to say: "I am going to hang around here for a few days and go fishing. You can tell the public for me that the directors are a bunch of good fellows. Pres. Fraser is one of the best in the world to work for. I wish him luck and also Ralph Reeve, whom I have always heard is a prince."

Around the city are two factions sprung up. One side favors the directors and the other Flaherty, as would be expected. Ralph Reeve, a fine specimen of American gentleness, who has made his way through college without aid except by his own good set of brains, honesty and ability to grasp Dame Fortune by the hand when this generally disguised stranger knocks, must stand between two warring factions in Greater Lynn fandom for his task is mighty as those who have handled a ball club fully realize.

But Reeve is a hustler and he has a happy disposition that wins friends. The directors probably could never have made a happier selection under the existing conditions.

As a rule, the worst move that can be made by a baseball club owner is to change managers during the season. The players are bound to take sides, no matter how smoothly the situation appears to have been guided over. Flaherty undoubtedly had fast friends among the players on the Lynn club who were very sorry to see him go. In spite of the statement made by the former manager to the effect that he was treated "white" by President Fraser and the other directors, these player friends of Flaherty are likely to harbor a feeling that Patsy did not receive a fair show with the club and this feeling may effect their playing.

The day was very sultry and the players on both clubs were affected by the humidity to a great extent.

took three vicious swings at the ball but failed to connect. O'Brien singled to right and Lohman by fast springing made third on Cunningham's attempt to get O'Brien. Stimpson came through with a much needed hit, scoring Lohman and O'Brien. The latter slid completely over the plate and wasn't touched by yet. Catcher Murphy's back was toward the player and he did not notice the fact. Stimpson went to second on the throw to the plate. Burke closed the inning with a strike-out. Two runs, two hits, no errors.

SECOND GAME
In spite of Greenhalge's wild heave into left field which gave Lynn a brace of cheap runs in the third after Orcutt had scored an earned run after making his double in the first inning, Lowell came from behind and annihilated Harrington for a 12-3 victory.

Tenth Inning
Greenhalge went in to catch in place of Wacoob. Stimpson made a nice catch of Moulton's fly near the foul line. Murphy went out, Dee to Kelly, on his grounder. Stimpson also took Courtney's fly. No runs, no hits, no errors.

Dee sent a line drive into Fahey's hands. DeGroot singled into center and then stole second. Dedrick walked O'Brien. Stimpson was safe when he lory in the second game. Cook worked on the mound for the local club and the visitors deserved but a single tally.

The second game was shortened to seven innings by mutual consent on account of the first fracas going into an extra session. Lowell did not score until the fifth inning but that one inning was enough to win most any ball game. Seven runs crossed the plate in this inning. Five singles, a double, a pass and two outfield errors contributed the damage. Eleven batters faced the Lynn pitchers in this session.

Not content with putting the game on ice Lowell went in to bat in the sixth and turned the contest into a slaughter. Five more runs resulted from four singles, a double and an infield error. Weaver went in to bat for Cook in the fifth and pitched the remainder of the game.

CARPENTIER WINS ON FOUL ALBANY LIKES BROOKS

Frenchman Declared the Winner When Smith Was Disqualified in Sixth Round

Lowell Boy Made Many Friends in His Bout With Jabez White—Is Haired as a Coming Champ

LONDON, July 17.—Georges Carpentier, the young French champion and the only pugilist of premier rank France has ever contributed to the game, was awarded the decision last night over Gunboat Smith, the American fighter, on a foul in the sixth round of the fastest heavyweight fight Londoners have seen in many years.

The match between the heavyweights was fought at the Olympia and was scheduled to go 20 rounds. To Smith and his supporters the fight was a tragedy, because the blow for which the American was disqualified was not intentional. It was launched in the heat of the whirlwind fighting, when the Frenchman had slipped to his knees and the spectators saw the gladiator attempt to draw back almost as his arm flew out.

When the French contingent carried Carpentier to his corner in the sixth round the utmost confusion reigned. The ring was crowded with excited officials and seconds and thousands of spectators were on their feet shouting and cheering. In this round Carpentier, after playing for an opening while keenly watching the American's right, had returned cleverly with his left and then brought a powerful right across Smith's jaw.

The punch did not land squarely but glanced off, and carried by the force of his blow, Carpentier swung round and slipped to his knees. Quickly Smith's right shot forth. He drew back and plainly would have withheld the blow on second thought. Then he stepped back and waited for the Frenchman to rise.

The Frenchman's manager, Deschamps, climbed through the ropes with seconds following, and picked up the fighter, who was holding his head in a dramatic manner with both hands. Deschamps carried Carpentier to the corner, where he made a great business of rubbing and restoring him, and then, turning to the American fighter, poured forth a stream of excited French invective.

French and American camp followers poured into the ring and surrounded the referee, Eugene Corri. Shouts of "Foul, foul!" were raised. Everybody talked to the referee at once, and the referee pointed to Carpentier, indicating that the Frenchman was the winner.

SMITH SEEKS ANOTHER MATCH WITH CARPENTIER—AMERICAN HAS ALIBI

LONDON, July 17.—"Gunboat" Smith and his manager, "Slim" Buckley, said today that they intended to make a further effort to arrange a return fight with Georges Carpentier, the French heavyweight, who yesterday was awarded the decision at Olympia when

Smith was disqualified in the sixth round for hitting the Frenchman while he was on the ground.

The American boxer declared he was willing to meet the Frenchman anywhere and at any time and would prefer that the winner should take entire purse or gate money.

Carpentier would make no reply to Smith's offer to fight again, saying the matter was one for the consideration of his manager, who had not had time yet to take the matter up.

Smith today asserted that he never would fight again before a cinematograph. He said his eyes were weak and he had to wear glasses in the sunlight. Last night the glare of the lights puzzled him and he thought this possibly had something to do with his striking Carpentier while the Frenchman was down.

Smith insists that even if his glove touched Carpentier it was unintentional and the blow did not hurt his opponent. Any other boxer, he said, would have continued the fight.

As to the blow which knocked him down in the fourth round, Smith said that while it was a hard one it did not put him out and he had simply remained down to gain the benefit of the rest.

While realizing that it is hopeless, Buckley is making a formal protest against the referee's decision on the ground that it had been arranged for the seconds to remain out of the ring until after the referee had given his decision. Deschamps, the Frenchman's manager, Buckley points out, disregarded this arrangement and jumped into the ring immediately he saw there was a chance of winning the bout on a technicality.

The boxing experts of the evening newspapers today are as divided in opinion in respect to the force of the foul blow given by Smith as were those of the morning newspapers. Men with actual ring experience, such as Fred Welsh, the lightweight champion, however, say that Carpentier was not hurt and that the scene which followed the foul blow was the result of quick simultaneous working of the brains of Carpentier and his seconds.

Eugene Corri, the referee, it is admitted by all, did the only thing possible after Deschamps had claimed a foul.

Carpentier Willing to Fight
"If 'Gunboat' Smith wants a return match right away he isn't going to encounter the slightest difficulty," said Carpentier's manager, later in the day. "It is Carpentier's wish, as it is mine, that the white champion of the world should retain the championship not by a mere fluke or disqualification, but by right of superiority in boxing," he continued.

Both sides thus have put themselves on record as desiring an early return match and the only bar to such a meeting appears to be an arrangement of a suitable purse.

at the police station gave her name as Anne Hunt. The attendants of the gallery, who since the occurrence of the recent militant suffragette outrages in national institutions have been keeping close guard on the treasures under their care, noticed a young woman walking from picture to picture, apparently admiring the work of various artists. Coming to the portrait of Carlyle she took a butcher's cleaver from the folds of her dress and viciously attacked the painting.

The woman had succeeded in striking the picture several blows before the nearest attendant could reach her. The glass covering the painting was smashed and a slit was made in the picture from the top of Carlyle's head right through the face to the chin.

She was bleeding profusely from cuts on her hands, caused by the breaking of glass.

AMATEUR BASEBALL
The South Ends and the Bleachery A. A. will hold forth at tomorrow afternoon for a purse of $50. The game will be called at 3 o'clock by Umpire Nixey Coughlin. It will be one of the best amateur games that has been seen in this city this season.

The following extract from the Albany Evening Journal tells the tale of the Gardner Brooks-Jabez White bout in that city last Monday night. In fact the Albany writer is of the opinion that the Lowell boy is the coming bantam weight champion of the world. This is what he has to say:

The Delphin A. C. at its second show at Chadwick park last night introduced to the fight fans of this vicinity for the first time a boxer by the name of Gardner Brooks. He came here with the reputation of winning all of his 32 fights, 28 of them being ended by a knockout. That was the only recommendation the fans had to go by, but that was enough, as about 2000 fight enthusiasts saw this Brooks give Jabez White the finest and the most artistic trimming ever handed a fighter in an Albany ring. From the time the fight started the bout, when Brooks started going by putting over a left jab that brought the end of the bout on the receiving end of mugs, uppercuts and swings than to ever was before.

Never since the night in the Gaiety theatre, when Young Ahearn made his Albany debut, has there been such a clever man perform in this city. He keeps at it all the time, picking and jabbing wherever he sees an opening. Being a nephew of Jimmy Gardner, he adopts the same style as that famous little warrior did in his palmy days. When Brooks entered the ring, followed by his manager, Hector McManis, the fans saw a mere slip of a boy, 17 years old he has not yet attained his development. Small in arm and shoulders he did not look like a boy who could punch, but his jab must have had a sting in it, as he had White backing away or covering up almost every moment.

White was baffled from the first and adopted every tactic known to the ring, some of the stuff he put over being of a very shady character, and of such that he had to be warned on a couple of occasions. Brooks outclassed Jabez in everything he tried, with the exception of the tough stuff, the Albany lad having that department to himself. At one time when Brooks had slipped on the wet floor, White made a swing at him as he was going down. This brought hisses from the fans. A moment later Jabez slipped but Brooks backed away to give him time to recover himself. This little act of courtesy brought a round of applause.

It is doubtful whether Jabez landed one clean blow on his shifty opponent. After being on the receiving end of several jabs White would take a dying man's chance and try to put over a sleep producer. By the time the blow reached the spot where Brooks was when it started, the boy from Lowell would be in another part of the ring smiling.

Brooks was by far the cleverest man White ever fought, and he had no business in the ring with such a boy. Some times a trimming is the best thing in the world for a boy of Jabez's temperament and perhaps he will profit by the boxing lesson he received last night.

It is a pleasure to see the wonderful little machine from Lowell work, and it is hoped Matchmaker O'Connell will give the fans another chance in the near future to see Brooks in action again, but against a boy who could put up a better fight against him than White. Hector McManis is to be congratulated, as he sure has the coming bantam champion.

healed thumb. With Tyrus back in the game the Tigers will be the most aggressive looking aggregation in the American league.

Bob Kelly got hold of the ball in good shape yesterday and laid his timber against two in each game which bounded off for safeties. His last out to left went for two sacks.

Umpire Black was very bad on several of his decisions. In the second inning of the second game Stimpson and Burke had started on their way for a double steal when the ball went by liberally. Stimpson should have been allowed to score and Burke to take third for they were entitled to a stolen base and the passed ball would have given them two bases.

Portland plays a double header here tomorrow and also takes part in a double bill here Monday. Saturday's game of games is scheduled but the two on Monday makes up for a rainy day back in the early part of the season.

Jack Matthews has been signed up by Jesse Burkett and played against Lewiston yesterday. Matty drew a pass, slammed out a two bagger and pulled down two live drives. Not so bad for one day's work.

It never does a sporting writer or his paper any particular good to provide alibis for the directors of any branch of athletics. but his jab must have had a sting in it, as he had White backing away or covering up almost every moment.

White was baffled from the first and adopted every tactic known to the ring, some of the stuff he put over being of a very shady character, and of such that he had to be warned on a couple of occasions. Brooks outclassed Jabez in everything he tried, with the exception of the tough stuff, the Albany lad having that department to himself. At one time when Brooks had slipped on the wet floor, White made a swing at him as he was going down. This brought hisses from the fans. A moment later Jabez slipped but Brooks backed away to give him time to recover himself. This little act of courtesy brought a round of applause.

It is doubtful whether Jabez landed one clean blow on his shifty opponent. After being on the receiving end of several jabs White would take a dying man's chance and try to put over a sleep producer. By the time the blow reached the spot where Brooks was when it started, the boy from Lowell would be in another part of the ring smiling.

Brooks was by far the cleverest man White ever fought, and he had no business in the ring with such a boy. Some times a trimming is the best thing in the world for a boy of Jabez's temperament and perhaps he will profit by the boxing lesson he received last night.

It is a pleasure to see the wonderful little machine from Lowell work, and it is hoped Matchmaker O'Connell will give the fans another chance in the near future to see Brooks in action again, but against a boy who could put up a better fight against him than White. Hector McManis is to be congratulated, as he sure has the coming bantam champion.

healed thumb. With Tyrus back in the game the Tigers will be the most aggressive looking aggregation in the American league.

Bob Kelly got hold of the ball in good shape yesterday and laid his timber against two in each game which bounded off for safeties. His last out to left went for two sacks.

Umpire Black was very bad on several of his decisions. In the second inning of the second game Stimpson and Burke had started on their way for a double steal when the ball went by liberally. Stimpson should have been allowed to score and Burke to take third for they were entitled to a stolen base and the passed ball would have given them two bases.

Portland plays a double header here tomorrow and also takes part in a double bill here Monday. Saturday's game of games is scheduled but the two on Monday makes up for a rainy day back in the early part of the season.

GASH IN HEAD

Electrician Was Injured While Repairing Motor in Page's Restaurant

Henry Hall, an electrician, received a bad gash in his forehead this morning shortly before 11 o'clock while at work in Page's restaurant.

He was examining the motor and had just turned on the current to start it when the pulley supporting the belt- ing gave way, a piece of it striking him in the head. A cut of five inches in length was inflicted. He was taken to the Lowell General hospital.

FOOT CRUSHED

Machinist at B. & M. Shops in Billerica—Fell From Engine

William Crossland of this city, a young man employed as a machinist at the Boston & Maine repair shops in Billerica, had a narrow escape from instant death this forenoon when he slipped from an engine upon which he was working and fell to the tracks in front of the wheels. The heavy engine passed over one foot, badly crushing it, and the other just escaped being caught under the wheel. He was brought to this city on a train and met at the railroad station by the city ambulance which conveyed him to St. John's hospital.

According to witnesses of the accident Crossland was standing between the locomotive and the tender and when he attempted to step to the ground slipped and fell under the wheels. His cries attracted the attention of the engineer but it was too late to stop the engine. Dr. Neil K. Forhan of Billerica was summoned and he ordered the injured man removed to the hospital where he was worked over for nearly two hours in an attempt to save the injured limb. Mr. Crossland came to this city shortly after the opening of the repair shops in Billerica and has lived here since.

The members of the Pawtucketville Social club held a meeting last night in their quarters in Moody street. In the absence of the president and vice president Frederick Descheneaux occupied the chair. A few applications for membership were received and the club voted a certain sum of money for repairs to the roof of the club building and also for the installation of a hot air furnace in the basement. At the close of the meeting cards and pool were enjoyed.

DECLARES HE WANTED NO POLITICAL RIGHT THAT HE WAS NOT WILLING TO GRANT HIS WIFE
WASHINGTON, July 17.—Secretary Bryan in a formal statement issued last night came out for woman suffrage. He declared that he would ask no political right for himself that he was not willing to grant his wife, and announced his intention of supporting the proposed state constitutional amendment extending the franchise to women to be voted upon in Nebraska next November.

Woman, Mr. Bryan said, has proved herself equal to every responsibility imposed upon her, and would not fail society in this emergency. Above all other arguments in favor of giving her the ballot he placed the right of the mother to a voice in the molding of the environment of her children.

SLASHED WITH CLEAVER

LONDON, July 17.—A militant suffragette today slashed with a butcher's cleaver the portrait of Thomas Carlyle, painted by Sir John Millais and hanging in the national portrait gallery. The woman was arrested after a severe struggle with the attendants and at the police station gave her name as Anne Hunt. The attendants of the gallery, who since the occurrence of the recent militant suffragette outrages in national institutions have been keeping close guard on the treasures under their care, noticed a young woman walking from picture to picture, apparently admiring the work of various artists. Coming to the portrait of Carlyle she took a butcher's cleaver from the folds of her dress and viciously attacked the painting.

The woman had succeeded in striking the picture several blows before the nearest attendant could reach her. The glass covering the painting was smashed and a slit was made in the picture from the top of Carlyle's head right through the face to the chin.

She was bleeding profusely from cuts on her hands, caused by the breaking of glass.

LONG FORGOTTEN RACE

Old in Yucatan

WASHINGTON, D. C., July 17.—(By Associated Press.)—Edward H. Thompson, former United States consul at Merida, Yucatan, in a communication to the National Geographic Society, at Washington, D. C., describes the ruins of the home of a forgotten race, on the Peninsula of Yucatan, and states that the American people should be awakened to the fact that they have a right to home architecture, and that the American people should be awakened to the fact that they have a right to home architecture, and that the American people should be awakened to the fact that they have a right to home architecture.

MAJ. GEN. LEONARD WOOD

FORMER CHIEF OF STAFF OF THE
U. S. ARMY NOW HEADS EASTERN

NEW YORK, July 17.—Major-General Leonard Wood, former chief of staff of the United States army, is now in charge of the eastern department, with headquarters located at Governors Island, New York. Gen. Wood went through the Mexican crisis as head of the army officers and was praised generally for his judgment in military affairs. He was retired from chief of staff after the regulation service in that post.

Mr. Thompson declares estimates as to the age of the city vary from less than 2000 years to more than 11,500 years. An idea of the intricacies of the language of the people of the city is given by the following quotation from a document found there: "Taj u tuchan kitan lunkel ti cab ti yotzon Nonouat" which is translated to mean, "This is a series of epochs that elapsed from the time of their departure from the house of Nonouat in the land of Tulapan."

Mr. Thompson describes what was probably the first temple or basketball court on the hemisphere and possibly in the world. "The circular group of Chichen Itza covers a space of fully three square miles," he says. "Over all this wide territory are scattered carved and painted stones, in countless thousands, fallen by the hundreds while the females remain and outlined walls of huge structures fallen into ruin are seen on every side. Seven massive structures of carved stone and adamantine mortar still tower erect, and almost inhabitable. Their facades sustain the claim that Chichen Itza is one of the world's greatest monuments of antiquity.

"Several hundred feet to the west of the Castle Temple rest two great parallel moles of solid masonry, each 275 feet long, 51 feet wide and 25 feet high. Between these moles is the ceremonial court. This level cemented space was probably the theatre for the performance of certain rites and games of a ceremonial character. This belief is borne out by the fact that at a distance of six feet from the level upper surface of the mole two great things were fixed into the perpendicular wall surface, directly opposite each other."

the disposition of the defendants' stock should not be issued.

List of the Defendants

The defendants, who include various New Haven directors since 1903 and estates of deceased directors, are William Rockefeller, Charles M. Pratt, James C. Ledyard, H. McK. Twombly, George Miller, George J. Brush, James S. Huntington, A. H. Robertson, Frederick F. Brewster, Charles F. Crocker, D. Newton Barney, James S. Elliot, Henry K. McIlwain, Robert W. Taft, William Skinner, Charles E. Mellon, Alexander Cochran, J. P. Morgan, Edwin Miller, estate, J. D. Warner, estate, Amory W. Lawrence, estate.

The plaintiffs also name John L. B. Baker, George F. Baker, D. DeWitt Cuyler, Edward Milligan, F. T. Maxwell, Theodore N. Hall, S. W. Winslow, Laurence M. Alden, Samuel Rea, Morton F. Plant, DeVer Warner, John T. Pratt, Howard Elliott, James Richards, W. M. Crane, A. T. Hadley and J. H. Huston as having been directors since 1903 but, as to whether their failure to cause the stock to be sold for the purpose of the suit, the plaintiffs state that they are not advised and make no specific averment.

The litigation is in the form of an equity action entered by the attorneys of the plaintiffs under the will of Olga Hall Vaughan. They own 50 shares of New Haven stock and bring the action "in behalf of themselves and all other stockholders of said corporation who may become parties."

The bill of complaint declares that the defendants on account of breach of their duty chiefly through causing the New Haven to acquire illegally its Boston & Maine, trolley and steamship properties are bound to pay to the New Haven $122,000,000 withdrawn therefrom wrongfully and for ultra vires and illegal purposes. It is alleged that the losses resulting from these acquisitions approximate $102,000,000 and that under the federal anti-trust act the New Haven is entitled to recover from the defendants threefold that sum, or $306,000,000.

Two things might prevent such a suit, President Wilson would not be sued by the attorney general before the suit is filed and if the president finds any way in which negotiations may be resumed and the Boston and Maine matter disposed of to the satisfaction of the department, it may prevent suit. The only other avenue for a settlement, it was pointed out today, lies with the New Haven directors. The department has not shut the door to further negotiations, but it can be said with authority that it does not plan to make any move toward a resumption of them. Mr. McReynolds is said to feel that the New Haven must make the next move.

Randolph Coolidge, president of the Boston chamber of commerce, talked over the situation in New England today and the effect a New Haven suit might have there, with Mr. McReynolds. Mr. Coolidge did not come as a pleader for the New Haven, but merely to point out how action might affect that section.

Aside from the official notice of its unwillingness to dispose of the Boston & Maine stock under the Massachusetts plan, Mr. McReynolds has received no communication from the New Haven or its officials.

PARIS, July 17.—Leaving here for Russia, President Raymond Poincare started on one of the most extended tours ever undertaken by a French president. The president and his suite will first visit the czar of Russia, with which country France is allied. On leaving Russia President Poincare will return the recent visit of the king and queen of Denmark. From Copenhagen he will go to Stockholm, where he will meet the king of Sweden. He will then touch the coast of Norway, where he will be met by the Norwegian monarch.

MRS. CARMAN ARRAIGNED

IN SUPREME COURT ON INDICTMENT CHARGING HER WITH MANSLAUGHTER

MINNEOLA, N. Y., July 17.—Mrs. Florence Carman was arraigned in the supreme court here today before Justice Van Sickle on an indictment returned yesterday charging her with manslaughter in the first degree for having caused the death of Mrs. Louise Bailey, a patient of the defendant's husband.

She pleaded not guilty and was given two weeks in which to change her plea or demur to the indictment.

Counsel for Mrs. Carman suggested that she be liberated under $20,000 bail and to this District Attorney Smith agreed.

The prisoner was wan and pale when brought from the jail to the courtroom. Her husband, Dr. Edwin Carman, stood beside her. When the preliminaries of giving bail were adjusted, he said, he would take her out of the village at once.

It had been rumored during the forenoon that a superceding indictment, stronger than the one embracing the manslaughter charge might yet be handed up by the grand jury on the strength of additional evidence furnished by Celia Coleman, the negro maid in the Carman home. This had been no developments along this line this afternoon.

JOHNSON AND THE FEDS

CINCINNATI, July 17.—The presence of the ten days' clause in Pitcher Johnson's contract with the Cincinnati Nationals was held a fatal objection to the enforcement of the negative covenant by which the player agreed not to play for another team in the opinion of the appellate court handed down today. The opinion as announced yesterday, reversed the ruling under which Judge Ford in the superior court enjoined Johnson from playing with the Kansas City Reds.

summer at their camp at Hampton beach.

Mr. Frank Donohue and Mr. William Crotty of Jersey City, N. J., are visiting at the home of the former's parents, Mr. and Mrs. John T. Donohue, 591 Bridge street.

James Burke of Amesbury has been the guest of his cousin, Mrs. James S. Senior of 214 Lakeview avenue, whom he had not seen for the past 25 years. He was accompanied on his trip to Lowell by John Conroy.

The members of the Westminster Presbyterian church of Tyler street held their annual outing at Willow Dale yesterday. The attendance was quite large and a pleasant day was spent. The trip to the resort was made by special electric cars and a variety of sports was carried out on the grounds. A basket dinner was enjoyed and leaving was the feature of the afternoon.
